AGED MAN DIES IN CRASH, 8 PERSONS ARE IN HOSPITAL

Freeman Photos

Where Death Rode Rampant Saturday

Saturday afternoon, Albany avenue extension just outside of the city limits, was the scene of one of the most tragic automobile accidents this locality ever has experienced. One Greene county man was killed and eight others were taken to the Kingston Hospital. The above picture shows the Model T, in which Thomas H. Sherman of South Cairo, aged Greene county farmer, was fatally injured in the crash. The car completely demolished is shown resting on its side on the right hand side of the road where it came to rest.

The bottom picture gives an idea of the force of the impact. The Chrysler sedan driven by Joseph Pesce of Malden, was removed from the road immediately after the passengers were taken from the car to allow traffic to proceed.

T. H. Sherman, 74, Is 18th Victim of Year in Ulster

Accident Occurs About 3 P. M. on Saturday on Albany Avenue Extension; Officials Investigate, Say Car Driven by Joseph Pesce of Malden Attempts to Pass Other Cars

Sherman Is Wedged in Seat

Impact of Big Car Demolishes Sherman Auto; Two of Injured Riding With Victim—All Reported in Fair Condition

Thomas H. Sherman, 74 years old, of South Cairo, Greene county, became the 18th victim of motor-car accidents in Ulster county this year when he died Saturday afternoon at Kingston Hospital about two hours after a two-car crash on Albany avenue extension which sent eight other persons to the hospital.

Mr. Sherman suffered a compound fracture of the skull, a compound fracture of the left leg, eight broken ribs, a broken arm and other injuries when the 1934 Chrysler car operated by Joseph Pesce, 22, of Malden, turned over on the little 1927 model T Ford coupe as it proceeded northerly along the highway just beyond the city limits.

Carmella Pesce, 19, of Malden suffered a broken back and a fractured left shoulder. Her condition was today reported fair. Her sister, Philomena Pesce, 23, Malden, suffering from a fractured pelvis and multiple lacerations and bruises of the head and face was also reported in fair condition today.

Others In Hospital

Others in the Pesce car who were taken to the hospital immediately after the accident were:

Joseph Pesce, 22 Malden, the driver who suffered a concussion of the brain, fractured left shoulder and bruises. His condition was also reported fair.

Rose Scarcelli, 24, Glasco, concussion of the brain and lacerations of the face. Her condition was reported as fair this morning.

Mary Clarlante, 22 Glasco, lacerations of the face and contusion of chest. Condition fair.

Antoinette Clarlante, 25, Glasco, laceration of face and fractured thumb. Condition fair.

Maria Scarcelli, 2 years old, also a passenger in the Pesce car, was uninjured in the accident but was taken to the hospital with the rest and treated for an injury to her tongue which she apparently had bitten. She was not admitted to the hospital.

In Sherman Car

In the Sherman car were the driver and two young women, Helen Rouse, 24, of 78 Broad street, Catskill, who suffered lacerations of the forehead and contusion of the knee. Her condition was reported fair today. Irene Rouse, 17, her sister, suffered deep lacerations of the face and lacerations and contusions of the legs. She too was reported fair today.

The accident happened about 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon as Mr. Sherman drove northerly on Albany avenue extension toward Catskill after a shopping trip to Kingston. With him in the coupe were the two young women.

A short distance north of where Trooper Reilly resides and on a very slight curve in the three-strip concrete pavement the Pesce car came south. An investigation by Sheriff Molyneaux and his deputies, aided by Trooper Reilly, indicated that the Pesce machine came south at a rate which the driver placed at 45 miles an hour.

He attempted to pass the other cars coming south, the police say, and as he turned out to his left to the middle strip apparently he observed the Ford car coming north. The Chrysler was turned back toward the right of the road to get back in line but just as it reached the Ford car, which was on its right strip according to the investigating officers, it tipped over striking the Ford car.

Ford Car Crushed

The Ford car was crushed by the heavier car and then turned over on its side pinning the driver in the seat. Practically every glass in the machines was broken and the occupants were horribly cut. The top of the Chrysler was torn open and it is believed the passengers were thrown through the top of the car. The Ford radiator was crushed backward to the cowl as the two machines came together.

Word of the accident was sent to the sheriff's office and Deputy Sheriff Ray Winne was first to arrive on the scene followed by Deputies Brown and Vredenburg and Trooper Reilly.

Sheriff Abram Molyneaux who was in Accord on another matter of business also was notified and arrived at the scene of the crash and took charge of the investigation and aided in getting the injured to the hospital.

Securities Group Reports 14-Point Reform Schedule

Program Is Designed, Says Chairman Douglas, to Avoid Repetition of Whitney Failure, Aid Public

Broker Limits

Brokers Would Not Be Able to Hypothecate Fully Paid Up Securities

Washington, Oct. 31 (AP)—The securities commission announced today a "14-point reform program" designed to protect the public in its dealings with securities firms and to prevent a repetition of the Richard Whitney failure.

Chairman William O. Douglas disclosed the commission's program and announced simultaneously the New York Stock Exchange had voluntarily adopted it in compliance with the commission aims.

Douglas said the commission program would prohibit brokers from hypothecating fully paid up securities of customers and would closely limit the re-pledging by brokers of securities upon which they had loaned money to customers. These rules, he said, would be drafted formally very soon and would apply to all securities exchanges throughout the country.

President Roosevelt commented last Friday on an SEC report dealing with the Richard Whitney case. He said it was a horrifying document, disclosing as it did practices which ought to be prevented. Whitney, former president of the stock exchange, now is serving a term in Sing Sing prison for misappropriating customers' securities.

Provisions of Program

The new stock exchange program, adopted October 26, but kept secret until today, provides:

Effective January 1, no member firm will be permitted to owe more than 15 times its net capital, excluding underwriting capital. The present limit, although figured on a different basis, amounts to 20 times.

No official of the exchange shall make or receive a loan from any member or member firm without permission of the exchange's committee on member firms, unless the loan is fully secured or is made by or to the exchange official by a firm of which he is also a member.

No exchange official shall participate in any investigation in which he is financially interested.

More extensive financial statements will be required of members.

Firms doing business with the public must have their books audited at least once a year by independent public accountants.

The exchange will make more frequent and intensive checkups on the books of members.

Must Report to Exchange

Members must report to the exchange any loan in excess of $2,500 unless it is fully secured, or in certain other circumstances.

Affective April 1, 1939. No member firm, or its general partners (does not apply to special partners or employes), which carries margin accounts for the public may buy or sell securities on margin for their own accounts.

No member firm may carry an account for a general partner of another firm unless a second general partner of the other firm gives written consent.

No member doing business as an individual (as distinguished from a partnership) may carry securities accounts for customers.

More intensive control will be imposed on customers' men and other employes of members.

The exchange will supervise business practices of members more closely and impose heavier penalties for violations.

Each member firm must report to the exchange weekly its obligations in underwriting transactions.

The exchange will set up a central securities depository in which all securities belonging to the public but left in the hands of exchange members may be segregated and protected.

Permissive at First

The securities depository plan, Douglas said, will be permissive at first but the New York Stock Exchange will urge its members to utilize it.

Douglas made it plain, however, that unless securities brokers voluntarily cooperated in efforts to provide safe-keeping for customers' securities, the commission would ask Congress for authority to make such action mandatory.

The commission said in a statement that the new management of the Stock Exchange "has been working cooperatively with this commission in an endeavor to raise the standards of practices of the exchange members and to improve the system which permitted Richard Whitney to operate to the detriment of the financial community for almost 12 years without let or hindrance."

The new regulations announced today were the direct result of the investigations of the Whitney failure.

Koch's Radio Script Causes Near Panic Throughout Nation

Dramatization of H. G. Wells' Novel Causes Hysteria From New York Studio to Pacific Northwest and as Result Bill Is Forecast for Presentation to Congress

A horrible fantasy of war waged on the United States by fearsome, space-conquering men from Mars brought near panic in that part of the radio's audience which was not tuned in last night on rival radio programs, according to The Associated Press.

Script of the program which was presented by the Mercury Theatre over the CBS network was written by Howard E. Koch, of this city, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Koch, of Schryver Court.

The too-vivid drama was the dramatization of an H. G. Wells novel. In the double-quick tempo of the news broadcasters, the fiction became so realistic that hysteria prevailed among listeners throughout the United States and Canada.

Demands for investigation and correction came apace today with the belated reports of almost fantastic panic.

Federal Group Begins 'Men From Mars' Probe

SEE 'FOREIGN INVASION' ON PAGE 11.

Washington, Oct. 31 (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission began an investigation today of a dramatic radio broadcast which led some people to believe last night that men from Mars had attacked the United States.

Chairman Frank P. McNinch asked the Columbia Broadcasting System to furnish the commission with an electrical transcription of the broadcast, a dramatized version of H. G. Wells' story, "War of the Worlds." McNinch said:

"Any broadcast that creates such general panic and fear as this one is reported to have done is, to say the least, regrettable."

"The widespread public reaction to this broadcast, as indicated by the press, is another demonstration of the power and force of radio and points out again the serious public responsibility of those who are licensed to operate stations," McNinch said.

Senator Clyde L. Herring (D.-Ia.) said he planned to introduce in Congress a bill "controlling just such abuses as was heard over the radio last night. . . . Radio has no more right to present programs like that than someone has in knocking on your door and screaming," he added.

Would Demand Investigation

City Manager Paul Morton of Trenton, N. J., near the locale of the fictional invasion, said he would demand an investigation by the federal communications commission "with the view of preventing recurrence of what happened."

Some apartment houses in New York were emptied hurriedly by frantic listeners to the program—and by second and third hand accounts that multiplied the impending peril.

A woman in Pittsburgh tried suicide, saying "I'd rather die this way than like that."

At a high point in the program the electric power failed at Concrete, Wash., a town of 1,000, and the lights went out in most of the homes. Many thought the invasion had reached the west coast. Women fainted and men prepared to take their families to the mountains.

Switchboards Swamped

Switchboards in newspaper offices and police stations everywhere were swamped with calls from terrified people, many of them weeping.

Some reported they could smell the gas and see the flames started by the attackers.

People gathered in groups to pray for salvation.

All over the metropolitan area, panicky persons jumped into their automobiles and headed for the open spaces to escape the hypothetical bombing of New York.

Church services here and elsewhere were broken up by intruders who screamed the world was coming to an end. . . .

"It is true? Were 40 killed in New Jersey? Or 7,000 in New York? Are men from Mars attacking New York with deadly other-worldly weapons and gas? Was the world coming to an end?"

There wasn't a Martian in sight and the hysteria subsided almost as quickly as it started. But listeners viewed the broadcast with mixed feelings, principally that they had been untowardly frightened and duped.

Americanizes Locale

The broadcast was an adaptation of H. G. Wells' imaginative "War of the Worlds," further dramatized and enacted by Orson Welles, the 23-year-old Broadway prodigy. Welles Americanized the locale and situations.

Four times during the program, CBS pointed out, the announcer stressed that the story was nothing but fiction.

This comforting reiteration either escaped many of those who tuned in for the full program or was lost entirely to part-time listeners or late tuners-in.

Many of those who were blissfully listening to Charlie McCarthy's foolishness on the NBC network doubtless were caught up in the furor of neighbors dashing out of their homes, some with personal belongings, and

Halloween Parade And Party Tonight

Two Drum Corps Will Lead Big Throng of Youths to 'Witchery' at Auditorium

Children of the city through cooperation of the local post, American Legion, will have an opportunity this evening to stage a gigantic Halloween parade and festival.

Led by the American Legion Drum Corps and the Port Ewen Drum Corps, the parade will form at 7:15 o'clock at two points. The uptown group will assemble at School No. 7 and the downtown group at St. Mary's School. The two units will start marching at 7:30.

Other groups at the various schools along the line of march will join the parade as the two groups proceed from uptown and downtown toward the municipal auditorium. The children proceeding from the various schools will join the line of march at intersections along Broadway and other points along the line.

Commander Joseph E. Sills and Captain Eugene B. Carey will head the Legion Drum Corps which will assemble on the Green street side of School No. 7. Past Commander Roy E. Jacobs, under whose guidance the event will be staged, announced that a motorcycle police escort will accompany each unit and that Police Chief J. Allan Wood has made special arrangements for supervision of traffic.

The following Legionnaires will be in charge of the various units: P. S. 1, E. Zoller; P. S. 2, S. Reyer, T. Long; P. S. 3, F. B. Ratcliffe, E. Tremper; P. S. 4, H. Conklin; P. S. 5, E. Whitney, F. Schwenk; P. S. 6, L. C. Elmendorf, A. Singer, N. Snyder; P. S. 7, Edward Luedtke, William McClements, Jack Rabin; P. S. 8, W. Duffy, W. DuBoise, R. Wirth; St. Joseph's Church, T. Murray, M. Spina; St. Peter's Church, L. Vogel; St. Mary's Church, Lester Barth.

Parents are invited to join the Halloween parade and remain with the children at the municipal auditorium during the entertainment.

Miss Farrell Ends Service at Hudson

Former Superintendent of Nurses at Benedictine Hospital Plans to Retire

A career of 17 years of service to girls from the childrens' courts of New York ends tomorrow when Jeannette Farrell retires from the New York Training School for Girls at Hudson. Miss Farrell had been a superintendent of nurses at the Benedictine Hospital in this city before going to Hudson.

Miss Farrell joined the staff at Hudson as an assistant superintendent on August 10, 1921. She has worked under four superintendents, and herself twice headed the institution as acting superintendent, once from March 21, 1923 until Mrs. Fannie French Morse took charge on June 15 of that year and again from November 1, 1937, after Mrs. Morse's retirement until March 1, 1938, when Mary Dewees was appointed.

Miss Farrell has counselled 3,506 girls during her service. Before going to Hudson, she was superintendent of nurses at St. Mary's Hospital, Passaic, N. J., where she graduated the first class of nurses. She had also been active in public health work with school children of New York. She graduated in 1897 from the first class of the School of Nursing at St. Joseph's Hospital, Paterson, N. J. She will make her home at her family residence at Elka Park.

Roosevelt Has Charge Of Railroad Dispute

Washington, Oct. 31 (AP)—President Roosevelt took personal charge today of efforts to effect a peaceful settlement of the critical railroad wage dispute.

The Chief Executive called representatives of rail management and labor to the White House to consider some long-range program to aid the carriers.

Of immediate importance, however, was the 16 per cent wage reduction ordered by the roads for December 1 and the threat of almost 1,000,000 rail workers to strike if the cut is carried out.

The President's emergency railroad investigating board recommended Saturday that the railroads withdraw their notices of the reduction, which would clip $250,000,000 annually from their payrolls.

Before the White House conference there was no indication whether the roads would accept the recommendation. A committee of the carriers' executives was asked to meet during the day. Its chairman, H. A. Enochs, said the wage question probably would be turned back to the individual roads.

The report to the President said the board had exerted every effort to bring about a settlement, without success. It held that no wage reduction was justified because railroad salaries were not higher than those in other industries and because the financial distress of the carriers thus far was a "short-term" problem.

The board suggested that representatives of the government, the carriers and the public sit down together to work out "an adequate, national transportation policy."

In New York, some executives said the administration might grant the carriers $1,000,000,000 of rehabilitation loans, which could be repaid on easy terms. Authorities here said, however, the railroads most in need of such loans might have difficulty obtaining Interstate Commerce Commission approval.

State's Campaign Shapes Up as Test Of New Deal Rule

National Aspect Overshadows Conflicting Local Issues as Campaigners Swing Into Final Week

New York, Oct. 31 (AP)—New York's political campaign appeared today to be shaping up as a test of the New Deal despite conflicting local issues that may decide how the voters mark their ballots one week from tomorrow.

There is no difference of opinion between Democrats and Republicans on the importance of carrying President Roosevelt's home state, although Gov. Lehman and District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey his Republican opponent, have avoided stressing national issues in their campaign speeches.

Both sides know that a Democratic defeat would be interpreted as blow to the President, and that a Republican victory, in addition to raising a possible presidential candidate, would strengthen Republican prestige throughout the country.

President Roosevelt has taken cognizance of the campaign through conferences with Lehman and other candidates and he plans to make a radio address next Friday for the Democratic ticket.

Lehman, governor for six years, is seeking a fourth term. He has kept his eye on local issues, but he has called for the election of Democratic senators and representatives "to strengthen the hands of our great President in his humane legislation."

Dewey has campaigned for the most part on state issues, basing part of his attack on the state administration on charges of corruption in the Democratic party. He has called Lehman's budget-balancing a "book-keeping trick."

Dewey has criticized the Roos-

Humiston Has Record Warranting His Election

This fall, because of the death of Coroner Leston D. DuBois of New Paltz, two coroners will be elected in Ulster county. In Southern Ulster Jesse McHugh of Wallkill is the Republican candidate, a man of considerable experience in his profession. Coroner Norvin R. Lasher is serving as a coroner in the northerly section of the county and at Kerhonkson serving the Rondout Valley and the Catskill mountain areas is Howard B. Humiston, who has given to the people of Ulster county one of the finest administrations in office and who now seeks re-election to the office.

Howard B. Humiston

Qualifications that fit him peculiarly well for the post back the candidacy of Howard B. Humiston. When the Republican party nominated Howard B. Humiston for coroner to succeed himself, the party knew that in Mr. Humiston they had a man who was exceptionally well qualified for the job, a man who had displayed in the past that a public trust given him was a trust to be carried out with the greatest of care and skill. No resident of the county can deny that Mr. Humiston has given to the county one of the best administrations possible. Efficient, always on the job and ready to serve the public with the utmost of courtesy. Mr. Humiston has demonstrated in the past that he is without doubt the man for this important job.

John Miller of Capstone Farm, Kingston, chairman of the State Farm Bureau poultry committee, presided at the poultry section of the meeting. C. L. Allen, of Kingston, R. D. 3, regional representative on the State Farm Bureau dairy committee took an active part in the sessions of this group.

Dayton Court Showdown

Dayton, O., Oct. 31 (AP)—The controversy over closing Dayton's city schools headed for a court showdown today as 34,000 pupils started the first day of an indefinite holiday which may end tomorrow or January 1. The president of the board of education joined his dissenting vice president, Richard L. Withrow, in a view that the board's order dismissing the pupils and 1,300 teachers and other employes Friday because of lack of operating funds and a $61,000 deficit, was insupportable.

To Hold Meeting

The next regular meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. Church will be held on Wednesday, November 2, at the home of Mrs. Balfe at 8 p. m., and as returns for all supper tickets should be made at this meeting, all members are urged to be present.

Financial and Commercial

The Stock Market Followed Confused Course Last Week

The stock market followed a rather confused course the past week and wound up Saturday with industrials showing a loss for the week of over $3 a share in the Dow-Jones averages. Rails and utilities, for the week, were slightly on the up side. Neither this, nor some unfavorable news aspects, however, seem to have changed the conviction that the trend of business definitely is upward. Steel production the past week arose to nearly 54 per cent of capacity and motor output continued to gain, reaching 80 per cent of the output for the same week last year.

For the first time in over three months heavy construction contracts were below those of the same period last year, although the total for 1938 is still ahead of 1937. Fall retail business made a poor showing, due largely to unseasonable weather, it is stated. Carloadings also made a more than seasonal drop.

Prices for the major farm products are apparently stable on their present reduced level and it appears that a considerable portion of this year's large grain crop is still in the hands of the producers, but on the whole there is no satisfactory evidence that the numerous alphanetical schemes and the huge sums of money spent in governmental attempts to usher in an agricultural millenium have met with overwhelming success. Market experts of the AAA assert that export prospects for cotton and grain are less favorable now than they were a year ago, and the latest proposition, to "subsidize" domestic consumption is seen as evidence that Washington is realizing the depressing effect on world prices of official attempts to force disposal of surpluses abroad.

There was particular interest in the announcement that the government would cooperate with the utilities in a billion dollar expansion program for steam generating plants, the national defense being given as the reason for fostering what will amount to perhaps a three per cent increase in the country's generating capacity. Saying that the move has all the appearances of a new departure in the government's attitude toward the utilities, one commentator says:

"To put it bluntly, the administration wants to get its long-standing quarrel with the utilities out of the way of business recovery and re-employment; on their side, the utility people are quite anxious for a real peace and know they are in no position to be too stiff about its terms* * * Possibly it will prove to have been the Gettysburg of the 'war' on the electric power industry."

Then, to an extent revolutionary, minimum-wage-maximum-hour law went into effect the past week, with less fuss than had been anticipated. It is seen as possibly having more far-reaching effects than simply the matter of adding a few cents to the pay of those in the lower pay brackets. Observers are wondering just how far the principle involved in the law may affect other things than minimum wages and what, if any, will be its influence on the labor situation.

Some further income reports for the period ending September 30 include: Niagara Hudson Power $1,446,912, or nine cents a common share, vs. $1,504,751, or ten cents a share in the same quarter last year. Anaconda Wire and Copper $97,057, vs. $609,687, or $1.44 a share last year. General Refractories deficit of $35,223, vs. net of $449,208 or 96 cents a share in 1937. Hazel-Atlas Glass $720,696 (quarter ended October 1), or $1.66 a share, vs. $672,885 or $1.55 a share. Reynolds Metals $225,915 or 15 cents a share (in October 1 quarter), vs. $581,173, or 50 cents a share.

As a result of the finding of the President's fact-finding board, in the railway wage rate reduction case, the recommendation being against any wage cut, it is believed that the railroads will abandon completely their wage reduction efforts and will seek the cooperation of the administration and labor in a comprehensive rehabilitation program.

Class 1 railroads of the country had net operating income in September of $50,361,823, which compares with $59,621,184 in the like 1937 month.

Annual Turkey Supper

Thursday night the annual turkey supper will be held for St. John's Church, Stony Hollow, at Kelley's Inn on the Plank Road, from 5:30 to 8:30 p. m. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to patronize the supper.

New York, Oct. 31 (AP)—Quiet buying of industrial stocks offset selling of rails in today's market.

Railway issues, down as much as 2 points at the start, soon steadied and, near the final hour, most had reduced losses to inconsequential amounts. Dealings were comparatively slow, transfers being at the rate of approximately 1,200,00 0shares.

Selected steels, aircrafts, rubbers, coppers and specialties held gains running to a point or so.

Offerings in the carriers followed Saturday's decision of the President's fact-finding committee against the railroads' demands for a 15 per cent wage cut.

Wall Street was not too downhearted, however. As general business news continued cheerful and hopes were still high that the government would find other means of aiding the more distressed transportation systems.

Railway bonds, soft at the start, did better eventually. Commodities were a shade uneven. Foreign securities markets were irregular, with American stocks in supply

Southern Railway shares managed to come back for a small gain. Minor declines were shown for Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Southern Pacific, Great Northern, Baltimore & Ohio and Pennsylvania.

Resistant were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, Anaconda, Kennecott, Consolidated Edison, American Water Works and Foster Wheeler.

Governor Orders Minutes Covering Newburgh Report

New York, Oct. 31 (AP).—Gov. Herbert H. Lehman today called for minutes of the federal grand jury which last week reported "reprehensible" conditions in the city of Newburgh, N. Y., and Orange county in connection with the operation of illicit liquor stills.

The governor also ordered reports from officials of the upstate section and said he would "study them carefully before deciding what further action would be taken."

Lehman took a personal hand in the investigation following an hour-long conference at his Park avenue home with Col. Foulke O. Knudson, grand jury foreman; Mervin L. Lane, grand jury secretary; District Attorney Henry Hirschberg and Sheriff William V. Schoonmaker of Orange county; and Mayor James D. Tweed and City Manager Berwick Anderson of Newburgh.

Col. Knudson said he had asked the governor to appoint a special prosecutor to investigate conditions in the upstate community.

The federal grand jury in New York, after indicting 45 persons on charges of conspiracy to evade alcohol taxes last week, informed Governor Lehman that school children in Newburgh knew of the illicit liquor operations but that city officials and police professed ignorance of them.

To Bury Girl at Huling's Alive

Carol Starr, the young lady hypnotized in a downtown merchant's window last week, and who reposed in a casket of ice at Huling's Barn, will be buried alive tonight in the grove outside the night club on Ashokan boulevard, across the Washington avenue viaduct as a feature of the annual Halloween party.

Hanyan, well known hypnotist, made the announcement about the "burial alive" last night, saying that the girl would be hypnotized and interred in the earth for seven days without food or water. An arrangement will be attached to the casket whereby spectators can see the girl as she lays asleep.

It is the boast of Hanyan that he keeps subjects buried longer than any other hypnotist, and that he holds the record of 26 days established at DuBois, Pa., in August, 1937. "This burial alive is something entirely new in Kingston," he said, "and I expect to draw large crowds to see Miss Starr."

Hanyan and his two subjects, Miss Starr and Miss St. Jean, have been featured in Ripley's "Believe It Or Not" for their hypnotic feats. Prior to taking up this line of work, Hanyan was a prize fight manager, formerly connected with the Jack Britton stable. His right name is Bill Washburn, and he has relatives residing in Kingstoon and vicinity.

Local Death Record

James Costello, husband of the late Mary Wynn Costello, died at his home in Bayonne, N. J., Sunday. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. William O'Neil, two sons, John and James, of Bayonne, N. J., two sisters, Mrs. Mary Rush and Miss Julia Costello, of Kingston, and one brother, Daniel, of Yonkers. Burial will be in St. Peter's Cemetery, Rosendale, Wednesday at 1 o'clock.

Mrs. Carrie A. Markle died last evening at her home in High Falls after a long illness. She had been a resident of the village for over 20 years. Surviving is her husband, Rufus Markle; one daughter, Mrs. George Brink of Saugerties; one granddaughter, Ethel Wheeler of High Falls; two sisters, Mrs. Ida Armstrong and Mrs. Belle Bronell; also several nieces and nephews. Funeral services will be held from the late home at High Falls Wednesday at 2 p. m. Relatives and friends invited. Burial in High Falls cemetery.

Elmer E. Pelham, who is widely known in this city, died early Sunday morning in New York. Mr. Pelham was the proprietor of "Kenwood Inn," a summer boarding house at Haines Falls. Mr. Pelham for many years spent the fall and winter months either in Kingston or New York. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Tillie Stephansen Pelham; one son, Fred Pelham, of New Paltz; three grandchildren and one great grandson. Funeral services will be held at 1958 Anthony avenue, New York, this evening at 8 o'clock. Burial will be in the Jefferson Rural Cemetery, Catskill, tomorrow upon arrival from New York.

Francis W. Freer, a well known young man of the Town of Esopus, died at the City of Kingston Hospital early Sunday morning after a brief illness. He was born in Esopus and was the son of Reed and Jennie Bowler Freer and had lived at the family home all of his life. He was a young man of much promise and his early passing is a distinct shock to his family and many friends. He was a member of the Church of the Sacred Heart of Esopus and his pastor, the Rev. George Bienlein, will attend at the home Tuesday evening to recite the Rosary. Francis is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Reed Freer, four brothers and two sisters, John R., Harry J., James T. and George H., at home, Marie R., at home, and Mrs. Gerard Kelder of Albany. and several private cars were pressed into service and the sheriff's car was also used to convey some of the injured to the hospital. Two of the injured were taken by Delmer Kelly to the hospital.

Mr. Sherman and the other eight were placed under the care of Dr. Douw S. Meyers. Mr. Sherman died at about 5:25 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

An autopsy was ordered performed by District Attorney Cleon B. Murray following the investigation by Coroner Howard B. Humiston of Kerhonkson who withheld his verdict pending further investigation today by the officers.

The Ford was practically demolished by the weight of the heavier cars as it tipped over on the Ford.

Mr. Sherman's body was taken in charge of a Cairo undertaker. One daughter, Mrs. William Kleeman, of South Cairo, survives.

Whether an arrest will be made in the case was not definitely known pending completion of the investigation and even should the authorities decide to lodge charges against the driver of the Chrysler car such action will have to be delayed for the present because of Pesce's condition.

One Closet Only

Washington, Oct. 31 (AP)—President Roosevelt's new cottage at Hyde Park, Mrs. Roosevelt disclosed today, will have but one closet. She told her press conference that Mr. Roosevelt, who designed the house himself, prefers old fashioned wardrobes. As for herself, she said that she, like all women, preferred closets because wardrobes were not tall enough for a one-piece dress.

Anderson Appointed

London, Oct. 31 (AP)—Sir John Anderson, broad-shouldered administrator who crushed terror in Bengal between 1932 and 1937, today was appointed Lord Privy Seal in a cabinet shakeup believed to be preparatory to a widespread organization of the nation for defense.

Cobleskill Thefts

Cobleskill, N. Y., Oct. 31 (AP)—Cracksmen broke into four business houses and obtained $621 from a total of five safes here over the week-end. The robberies occurred while state police patrolled this part of the state after safes were looted in Catskill, Hudson Falls, Saratoga Springs, Eagle Bridge, Johnsonville and Albany suburbs.

Patrolman Dies

New York, Oct. 31 (AP)—Patrolman George W. Perkins, 42, a bullet wound in the abdomen, died today and his death was described at the office of the assistant chief inspector, as "apparently a suicide." Perkins, attached to the Morrisania station, was found shot in his Bronx home.

Emanuel Lutheran Men's Club Oppose Amendments 1 & 8

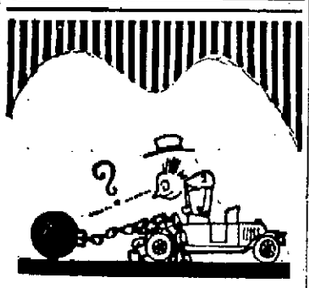

An open forum was conducted by the Men's Club of Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran Church last Friday evening in which the amendments to the State Constitution to be voted upon this year were discussed. It was brought out that Amendment Number One authorizes the state to supply funds for running busses to church schools. The opinion was expressed that while the state undoubtedly benefits by the schools maintained by the churches, and that Christian citizens, or others, supporting such schools carry an extra tax burden, nevertheless the American principle of the separation of Church and State should remain clear and decisive. Parochial or religious schools are private schools, it was said, and should ask nothing of public treasuries, since all religious schools, whether Catholic, Protestant, or Jewish, are definitely inculcating the tenets peculiar to each religious group. The diversion of public funds for any support of such schools, whether for busses, text books, salaries, or maintenance, it was urged, would be tantamount to public support varying religious tenets, and would, in the opinion of the speakers, eventually herald the loss of a vital principle in the American system of government. Hence the group gathered for this forum was urged to vigorously oppose the passage of Amendment Number One.

Regarding Amendment Number Eight, speakers pointed out, that while this amendment is directed toward aid for the physically handicapped, who even now enjoy the whole-hearted sympathy of all citizens who generously have provided numerous agencies for the welfare of the unfortunate, this amendment contains sections the wording of which is rather vague. This passage was under scrutiny: "Subject to the limitation on indebtedness and taxation, nothing in this constitution contained shall prevent the legislature from providing—for health and welfare services for all children, either directly or through subdivisions of the state including school districts." The forum was advised of the statements by legal authorities, that, in their opinion, this section would enable the legislature to provide funds for building and equipping all kinds of private or religious schools, paying salaries, and providing for various services which churches or schools may consider necessary under the guise of "welfare services" enjoyed by other children in the state. Such broad and indefinite provisions should not be incorporated into the fundamental law, it was said; and should the argument one day be advanced that bus transportation is also a matter of health and welfare, no end to the limits of the demands upon the state can be envisaged. A speaker voiced the warning: "Let the churches beware of the danger they invite and deadening formality that comes through state subsidized or regimented religion. If we do not watch the beginnings, we do not know what the end will be; it may lead to blood and tears."

Speakers finally stressed the fact that, although the Lutheran Church, especially the Missouri Synod, of which the local Immanuel church is a member, maintains thousands of parochial schools, and the local congregation itself has fostered its parish school for 68 years, they are willing to pay the price necessary to support their own schools, and they believed that all religious bodies must do the same if they believe that America and its churches are best served by a clean cleavage of Church and State.

Since the amendments in question must be adopted or rejected in their entirety, the group felt that as patriotic Americans they must vote "No" on Constitutional Amendments One and Eight.

Washington's Prayer in Pew in New York Chapel

The prayer of George Washington, which is framed and hangs in his pew in St. Paul's chapel, Broadway and Vesey street, New York, N. Y., is as follows:

"Almighty God, we make our earnest prayer that Thou wilt keep the United States in Thy holy protection; that Thou wilt incline the hearts of the citizens to cultivate a spirit of subordination and obedience to government; to entertain a brotherly affection and love for one another and for their fellow citizens of the United States at large. And finally that Thou wilt most graciously be pleased to dispose us all to do justice, to love mercy, and to demean ourselves with that charity, humility and pacific temper of mind, which were the characteristics of the Divine Author of our blessed religion, and without an humble imitation of Whose example in these things we can never hope to be a happy nation. Grant our supplication, we beseech Thee, through Jesus Christ Our Lord. Amen."

The prayer, it is said, was made by Washington at St. Paul's chapel, following his inauguration in the old Federal building on the north side of Wall street, facing Broad street.

Belgium Says 'No'

Brussels, Oct. 31 (AP)—Belgium answered today with a flat "no" to suggestions that she might contribute in a general redistribution of colonial territory to meet Germany's demands. Albert De Vleeschouwer, minister of colonies, declared "we did not steal" the Belgian Congo and "nobody will steal it from us...the Belgian Congo will remain Belgian."

WEST SHOKAN

West Shokan, Oct. 29—Mrs. Sarah Every of Watson Hollow was taken critically ill at her home Wednesday morning. Dr. Charles Quinn of Phoenicia is attending her.

District Deputy President Mabel Weidner and staff of Olive Rebekah Lodge No. 470, were guests at the installation held at Atharhacton Rebekah Lodge in Kingston Thursday evening. Several other Olive members also attended.

The West Shokan school is planning for a Halloween party to be held after school Monday afternoon, October 31. William Wagner, father of Pupils William, Joseph, Reggy and Anna Wagner, is sponsoring the party.

The West Shokan school has received another interesting letter, also several photographs, from a former pupil, Walter Miller, who is now in Honolulu, Hawaii. He arrived there September 30.

Dr. Stewart Wright of Middletown visited community dairymen on Wednesday, shipping milk to the Kyserike plant. This was his annual fall inspection trip.

Many attended the Ladies' Aid quilting party Wednesday. Those present included: Mrs. Addie Van Demark, president, Mrs. Anna Avery, Mrs. Idella North, Mrs. Alice Bell, Jennie Kerr, Mrs. Addie Breithaupt, Mrs. Fanny Boice, Mrs. Matie Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hyde and son, Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Richter and Mrs. Mary Toman of Shokan.

Raymond Bell, caretaker at the Dolan estate, made a recent trip to Albany.

Mrs. Nettie Jones of West Shokan Heights called on the Davis family Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Conro, employes at Lake Mohonk, are spending a few weeks at the Jordan homestead at Broadhead Heights.

Mrs. Anna Avery and Miss Jennie Kerr were Kingston visitors Tuesday evening.

Two lady evangelists are holding evening services at the West Shokan school house. The meetings which are being well attended began Monday and will continue to Sunday evening.

Harvey Roosa was removed by ambulance to a Kingston sanitarium Monday. His condition is said to be critical.

Department of Water Supply employes are repairing flood damaged culverts along Route 28A in this vicinity.

Mrs. Raymond Miller of Broadhead Heights is caring for her mother, Mrs. Sarah Every.

Donald Bishop is doing electrical work for Raymond Bell of Malby Hollow road.

The Olive Rebekahs are anticipating a large attendance at their masquerade festival which will be held Monday evening at the Olive Bridge I. O. O. F. hall.

Mrs. Henry Luddy of Broadhead is reported improved at the Benedictine Hospital, Kingston.

Miss Catherine Roe made a Friday morning call on her neighbor, Mrs. Daisy Davis.

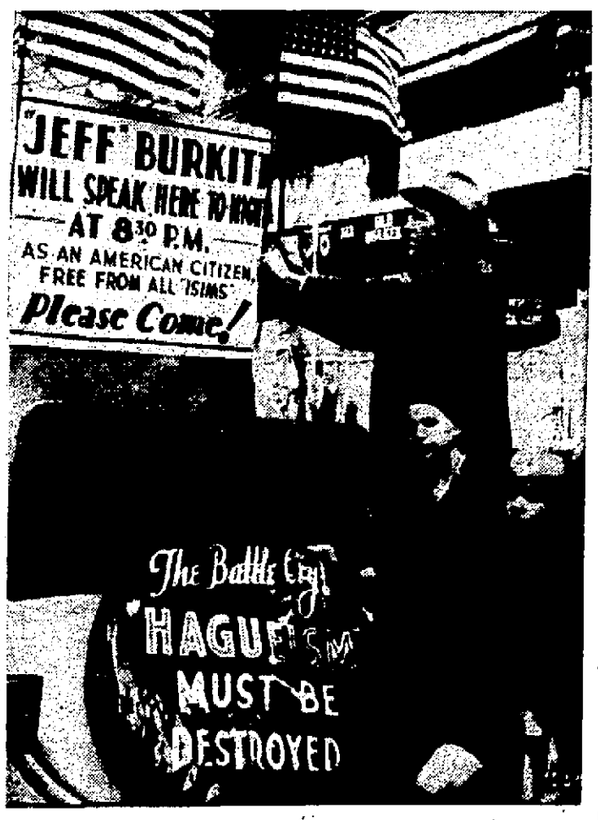

Buoyed Up by Air

When you weigh yourself on a regular platform scales with brass weights on the arm of the scales, both you and the weights are buoyed up by the air; but since the body occupies eight or nine times as much space as do the weights, this lifting effect is correspondingly greater on the body than it is on the weights. Archimedes is said to have jumped out of his bathtub crying "Eureka" when he discovered that a body immersed in a fluid is buoyed up by an amount equal to the weight of the fluid which it displaces. The buoyance effect of a given volume of lighter warm air will be less than that exerted by the same volume of heavier cold air.

Plants Have Nerves

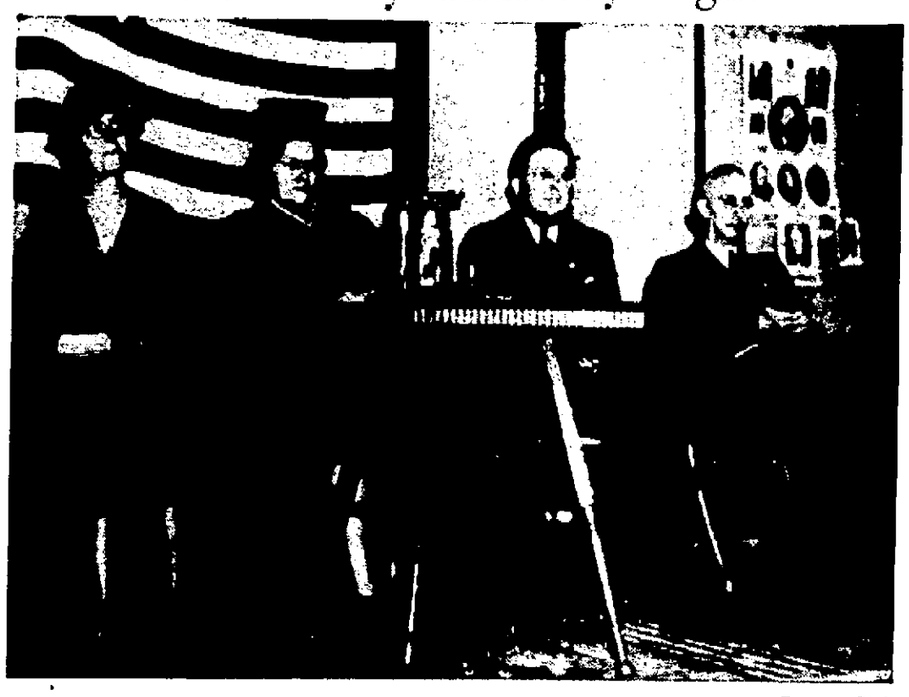

Plants have nerves. One in this class might be called a nervous wreck, judging from its actions when anyone so much as touches one of its leaves. The sensitive plant, or mimosa pudica, will immediately curl up its leaves at the slightest touch. After a leaf has curled up in apparent anguish it remains in a fallen position for about 15 minutes, then gradually uncurls and becomes its normal self again. This plant, originally from Brazil, grows wild in the Gulf states.

JAIL OR NO JAIL—HE SPEAKS

'Sneakin' Around, Courtin' '

Prestonburg, Ky., Oct. 31 (AP)—County Attorney Forrest D. Short said today a guardian would be sought for Rosie Columbus, bride of a week, who records show is 10 years old. "If a guardian can be found to adopt Rosie," Short said, "annulment proceedings will be filed in his name." Rosie was married last Monday to Fleming Tackett, 34-year-old miner. Rosie's mother, Mrs. Grace Columbus, said Rosie and "Flem" had been "sneakin' around and courtin' for a long time."

Funeral Is Delayed

New York, Oct. 31 (AP)—Police held up the funeral of Pat Crowe today after it was discovered the 79-year-old one-time desperado, who died Saturday in Harlem Hospital apparently of heart disease, had a fractured skull. Detectives said that although it was probable the skull fracture had been received long ago an investigation would be made. Crowe, who once boasted he had made $700,000 in crime, died a penniless evangelist.

RECOGNIZING ABILITY

For the past three years Sheriff Abram F. Molyneaux has served the citizens of Ulster county as sheriff. There is no dispute, even from members of the opposing political party, but that as sheriff of Ulster county Mr. Molyneaux has given the taxpayers one of the best administrations possible. Despite the fact that prior to this year a State law prevented a sheriff from succeeding himself, there is being raised the cry now that there was an "understanding" that no sheriff could succeed to office. There was no such understanding, there was no need for one. The law prohibited such action until last year when the law was changed and now for the first time a sheriff may succeed himself to office.

Ulster county has in the past elected the same man to the office of sheriff after a lapse of years as required by law. Ulster county is not peculiar in desiring to see a good man re-elected to the office. In Sullivan county, Harry Borden of Monticello, a man of recognized ability, is the Democratic candidate for re-election. In Delaware county Alton D. Bartlett of Delhi, also a man of ability, again is the Democratic choice to succeed himself as is Mr. Molyneaux in Ulster county. Other counties as well as Ulster county sometimes seek to recognize ability and good conduct in office.

That some irregularity may have taken place among the attaches of the office of sheriff in Dutchess county should not be construed that there are irregularities in every county. Ulster County people know that Abram F. Molyneaux has conducted the office of sheriff in Ulster county honestly and capably. Because some officials in adjacent counties have allowed "irregularities" to creep into the conduct of their office is no reason for Ulster's voters to turn down a man who has been found to be "tried and true." Because a sheriff holds office a second term is no reason to suspect that he will give other than the same kind of service he gave during his first term. Past experience should make for greater efficiency in the second term. Any "irregularity" which may have taken place in any office of sheriff in New York state in the past must have come during a "first term" since, until now, a sheriff could not succeed to office.

Sheriff Molyneaux has given an honest and business-like administration during his first term and can be relied on to continue that policy. He has been tried and found capable. Adjoining counties feel that men competent to serve one term should be given a second term. Ulster County voters will express the same desire on Election Day by returning Sheriff Molyneaux to office.

BREWING TROUBLE

A curious bit of news comes concerning the Antarctica Brewery at Sao Paulo, Brazil, said to be one of the largest in South America.

The Antarctica used to import its hops from England. Not long ago its ownership changed hands and its board of directors became German. Immediately, and naturally enough, it began to import its hops from Germany. A mystery developed. While the importation of hops more than doubled in a few months, the quantity of beer produced in the same period fell off markedly.

The authorities began to wonder, but before their suspicions had taken definite form a case of hops accidentally fell and broke open, disclosing a machine gun inside instead of the raw material for beer. An investigation followed. More guns were found. Bills of lading and the contents of the hops cases proved to be widely at variance. Brazilian federal troops are now guarding the brewery.

It sounds like one of those stories of mystery, spies and adventure, except that no hero is named and there appears to be no love interest. The incident is as disheartening as it is revealing. It isn't going to be easy to create trade, prosperity, good will and international peace while such things go on. And the Monroe Doctrine seems to assume new importance.

For the people getting their jobs back, we can reverse Shakespeare: "Now is the summer of our discontent turned glorious winter."

The hair-raising fact is that we have an upswing in business and hair at the same time.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

TREATMENT OF SKIN AILMENTS

In the treatment of old wounds and sores where the conditions refuses to improve, physicians sometimes apply a caustic or other irritant. This makes the condition much worse for a time but in an attempt to overcome the effects of this irritant Nature brings more blood to the wound or sore and carries away more wastes so that the wound or sore begins to heal instead of remaining at a standstill.

In the treatment of a number of disorders physicians are now causing the temperature of the body to rise by means of drugs, electricity and other means. When cases of paralysis due to syphilis were found to be cured of their paralysis after an attack of malaria, a number of cases were injected with the malaria organisms and developed malaria. After the malaria was cured by the usual treatment—quinine—it was found that a good percentage were likewise cured of their paralysis.

Research workers, believing that it was the extreme heat or rise in temperature that had caused the cures, stopped using the malaria method of treatment and used other methods to create the intense heat in the body. Their results were just as satisfactory as by causing malaria and there was not the danger from the attack of malaria.

With this same idea that chronic skin ailments—eczema, psoriasis, acne, hives (urticaria) and cases with very dry skin—might be helped by this heat or fever treatment, Drs. A. B. Litterer and K. Phillips, Miami, Florida, tell of their results in 167 cases. With the exception of hives or urticaria the results were very satisfactory, the skin clearing up immediately in half the psoriasis cases, of which two-thirds remained cured after 4 years and in ailments due to gland conditions such as acne, there had been no return after 4 years.

These research physicians investigated 75 other cases for a period of seven years trying to find if some organ or body process was not working properly, and found that in 90 per cent there was liver, gall bladder, stomach, intestine and gland conditions at fault. When these conditions were found and given the special treatment required, together with the heat or fever treatment, there were 85 per cent of cures with only 25 per cent having a return of the skin ailment.

It is thus evident that clearing up other conditions in the body would cure many skin ailments.

Don't Marry the Man

The Characters

Kathleen Gregory goes West to secure a right-of-way from MacDonald, and falls in love with him.

Donald MacDonald hates the Gregorys.

Bridget, Kathleen's companion.

Yesterday: Kit-Smyth holds The Golden Girl with armed men, demands right-of-way before rescue can proceed. Kathleen defies him, and takes charge.

Chapter 28

Fury

KATHLEEN smiled at the miners' wives.

"I promised Balmy I'd be seeing him in a day or two," she told them. "He had me promise that just before he went down. He said he knew he would get through. You know what it means when Balmy says he knows?"

"Aye!" The word was a sibilant whisper which swept out into the night: a whisper of hope.

"You'll have to help me. Our men need food. It's up to us to prepare it for them. I'd like the MacDonald women to stay here while the Gregory women go to Neutrality to buy the food. The hotels will roast the meat and bake the bread. We'll need pots and kettles for coffee and soup. We'll need fires and tables and dishes, and we'll need beds where they can rest between shifts."

"Our children?"

Kathleen thought of Bridget and the big house. "We'll turn the Gregory house into a nursery. Miss Bridget and the school teacher will take charge."

She paused and looked at them again. Something had changed. They no longer stood in a huddled crowd. Coats and shawls which had been pulled over their heads had been dropped to their shoulders. It was as though they had discarded mourning. The eyes were no longer stricken with fear, they were burning with intense fervor, wide with hope and deep with the longing for action.

The hours passed. Kathleen worked tirelessly. Joey-wide-eyes brought a note from Bridget and she left the hum of the commissary to read it. With no seeming volition on her part she went to the mouth of the mine, perched on a pile of timber, waiting to be carried below as soon as the way was clear.

The first crew had come up earlier, appeared at the commissary, faces black with powder, grim with the risk they had taken. The muckers were down now, clearing away the rock that had been blasted, making way for further charges.

Overhead the cables hummed, nearby the engines thrummed steadily, pumping air to the rescuers, sweeping away the fumes of powder and rock dust and gas, and on the far side of the platform, the next crew waited: a ghostly gathering in their yellow slickers, and the gnome-like padding of drill coats.

Kathleen opened the note.

Hurrah for a girl of pure gold, I'm proud to even know you.

The children, bless them, are all in bed, the little imps.

Now, as you suggested, I'm off to The Stubborn Boy to feed the other crowd. As a future MacDonald, I must do my stuff.

Joey gave me a bird's eye view of the big scene. Seriously, it was splendid, courageous work. I knew you had it in you.

But what has happened to Donald? I'm not accustomed to having men walk out on me like that.

See you later, love,

Bridget

What had happened to Donald? What had caused him to walk out on his fiancée the very evening they were celebrating their engagement?

'Brass'

THERE was only pain in that thought and Kathleen felt her heart held pain enough with its burden of worry over Old Balmy.

She'd wonder instead what had happened to Kit-Smyth. What if he had gone into Carsted to wire her father?

Kathleen's heart arose in a lump, turned over and settled down. Power of attorney had been given her only for use in obtaining the right-of-way and she had ridden roughshod over Kit-Smyth's insistence that they bargain.

She, a girl of twenty-three, had crushed the barrier of nearly a century when she led those men over The Golden Girl fence. She had defied a man twice her age, one whom her father trusted.

"But Dad would have done no different," she protested. Then her chin came up. "And if he would, I'd only be glad I'd had the opportunity to handle things first."

A skip rattled to the surface and the first casualty was carried out. "Aw, it's nothin'," he protested when Kathleen rushed to him. "Just a hunk a rock hit me when I wasn't lookin'."

Kathleen went on to the hospital with him. The injury wasn't serious, but it would keep him out of the rescue crews.

Returning to her post, Kathleen did some serious thinking. She had ordered the rescue of fifty odd men at the risk of hundreds of men's lives. It was a large responsibility.

Too large. She was tired. She'd been tired when she had left the Gregory house . . . was it only last evening? She looked at her watch. Four o'clock. Ten hours ago she had sat across the table from Old Balmy.

Her eyes filmed with tears. Through the blur she saw the headlights of a car. Probably someone coming from Neutrality with supplies.

But no, surely no one would come at such a speed unless they were bringing news of some kind.

She looked back towards the mine, it seemed deserted. The fresh crew of muckers had gone down while she was at the hospital: the others were in the commissary: still others, waiting to be called, were sleeping, gathering strength for their ordeal.

The car raced on, then came to a slithering stop.

From it stepped Donald MacDonald. His face was chalk-white, his eyes immense and blazing with a contempt she had never before seen in anyone's eyes.

He saw her and with his lithe, panther-like step came up to her. For a moment he scanned her from the tips of her toes to the top of her tousled head.

"The Golden Girl!" he spat. "Golden . . . brass is the word. Here you are!"

He thrust a folded paper at her. "Here's what you came after! You were going to barter your beauty for it. Instead you're bartering the lives of men. I'm telling you this. You're not getting this right-of-way because you've done anything to win it. You're getting it because the little finger of any one of those men down there is worth a thousand women like you."

'Plated Tin'

THE paper fell between them. Kathleen looked down at it. In a moment she would be able to think, to reason. In a moment this queer numbed feeling would leave her . . . meanwhile, some place behind the frozen immobility of her conscious mind something told her to take it. This right-of-way was what she had come after. She had been willing to barter her beauty for it. She had said there was nothing she wouldn't stoop to do to triumph over this man.

And what a victory this would give her. She would accept this symbol of success, seal the bargain and only then let him know he had given it needlessly.

"There's a clause in there allowing me use of the mine property," MacDonald told her.

He strode away to the office.

Stiffly Kathleen knelt to pick up the contract. She felt she hadn't strength to arise again. Palm of her hand flat to the earth she braced herself, and then she recoiled from the touch of the earth. Down under the surface: two thousand feet down. Old Balmy was waiting for her to carry out her promise. Slowly Kathleen followed MacDonald.

He was shouting into the telephone when she reached the door. Kathleen could hear the hollow tones of the operator.

"This is a private company, we have no connection with the MacDonald trunk line."

"Then damn it all, get hold of Old Balmy; get me some Gregory miners. I'll pay them anything . . ."

Kathleen stepped up to the desk. "That isn't necessary," she observed lifelessly.

"Every able-bodied man in Neutrality, MacDonald and Gregory, are working on the rescue. Crews have been blasting through to your level from The Golden Girl since early last night. They were below within an hour of the discovery of the fire."

Her voice had a peculiar toneless quality, now it deepened. "As for this—" she held out the contract and with a swift motion tore it in half, rent the sections pulled the small pieces to bits and with a final burst of fury threw them into the face of Donald MacDonald—"the Gregorys do not bargain in human lives. They are not like you, Donald MacDonald. You would rob five hundred miners of their livelihood because you're too bigoted to give a right-of-way which would mean work and bread to them. Old Balmy could have forced your hand. But he believed in prayer. He believed your heart could be softened and the right-of-way won in harmony. For the first time I doubt the power of Balmy's prayers. He was praying when he went down your winch shaft to carry an air-line to your miners: a Gregory to save MacDonalds. But if his prayers have no more effect on his piercing that fire hole than they had on your heart, then God pity all of us. He believed in you and loved you. I believed in you and I loved you. Now I don't ever want to see you again. Brass, am I? Well if I'm brass, Donald MacDonald, you're plated tin!"

She wheeled through the door.

"Cleo—"

She turned back once. "The name is Kathleen Gregory—Gregory, you understand."

Sundown Stories

Many Happy Returns

"MANY happy returns of the day!" they cackled and cawed and barked and quacked and bleated.

"Oh, my Puddle Muddlers," said Willy Nilly, "I had forgotten it was my birthday." The little man felt a lump in his throat and he felt a shivery feeling going up and down his spine. He could not have told whether he felt very hot or very cold. He was almost certain that he would weep which would be a foolish thing to do and not at all the sort of thing a little man such as he was, should do.

But still he did feel that way and he only hoped that the tears would not come and that the lump would go away. It seemed as though he saw his Puddle Muddlers through a mist. And they were thinking that they were seeing him that way, for as they thought of him—so loyal and wonderful, such fun, so ready for everything, back of them at all times—they too felt lumps in their throats and a foggy feeling before their eyes.

They stood before him—his dear, dear ones. Perhaps they were an odd assortment of creatures—well, he was odd, too.

Wasn't he a little man almost like a gnome and didn't his ears point and stick out? And had 't he quite long legs for his rather short body and such a tiny nose that it couldn't be seen when his face creased up in smiles?

Of course his Puddle Muddlers might not be considered exquisite and beautiful to all the world but to him they were the rarest of rare treasures.

And their animal hearts went out to him—the one they could count on, the on who never failed them—the one they knew would be with them all, all their lives.

They forgot about the birthday celebration they had planned and all they were going to show him—because they felt so much. It was just as well that, at this moment, came an enormous surprise to each one of them.

Branded for Heaven

The Bheels, a people who live in a country east of Gujarat in the Bombay Presidency of India, have a curious custom in connection with their belief in the hereafter. All males are branded from the wrist to the elbow. The brands leave from four to five scars, each the size of a five-shilling piece, on each forearm. The idea, says London Tit-Bits Magazine, is that on passing over into the unknown the god Ram will have no difficulty in recognizing them for Bheels, and will give them a welcome into "heaven" or swarg, as they call it. But easy entry into swarg is provided for the males only, and presumably the females, lacking the branding, have to find other means by which to pass the recording angel.

Washington Daybook

By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON—A notable thing about Russian propaganda trials is the way the witnesses talk and talk about their own misdeeds.

A notable thing about the Dies investigation into the activities of such "un-American" elements as nazis and reds is the way some of the witnesses talk and talk about their own carryings on.

Of course in the case of the American hearings, no one is going to shoot anybody at sunrise or send anybody off to Siberia. But they are fascinating, just the same.

The most recent witness we have heard is Clyde Morrow of Detroit who told the committee he had been a communist organizer and strike leader but wasn't any more. To prove his case he showed his communist passbook, with the stamps showing the several years he had paid dues since joining in 1932. His communist name was C. Main. Communists, he said, take special names from gravestones or telephone books.

He Gave 'Em Names

MORROW named over all the communists he knew, in connection with Detroit labor troubles, and added a lot of names of individuals, including a dozen or so Detroit teachers, who he said had walked along the street with communists, or had attended lectures by prominent communist speakers, or in other ways had caused him to think they might be communists.

Previous red-and-nazi hearings in the House have been much like the present one. Witnesses are invited to pour out their testimony without cross examination.

At one point Mr. Morrow began to read a long typewritten statement purporting to be a summary of strike activities in Detroit written by another communist.

"How do you know that is an authentic statement?" asked Rep. Dies of Texas, chairman of the committee.

"I KNOW it is," Morrow said.

"Proceed," said Mr. Dies.

It's Catch-As-Catch-Can

TO REPORTERS trained to the ways of courts, the hearing sometimes seems a fantasy. Congressmen can't be punished for libel for statements on the floor, nor can witnesses before congressional committees, so almost anything goes, proof or no proof.

One entertaining bit of evidence Mr. Morrow supplied the committee was how to start a strike. He told how he and a group he called communists started a strike in the Briggs (auto bodies) plant in Detroit.

Took Over The Works

TWO hundred communists were rounded up from Toledo, Pittsburgh, Pontiac and Flint. Supplied with faked identification badges they filtered into the plant through many entrances, turned off power switches in key places and then rushed out to the assembly lines to tell the startled workers that "We are on strike."

From then on they kept the men "at fever pitch" by stories that the company was bringing truck loads of strike breakers and militia from distant points and that the men better prepare to defend their jobs. Only 500 men were thus put on strike, Morrow said, but added that the picket line was swelled by 5,000 unemployed rounded up by the communists.

The committee hearings, once a great show in Washington, are not a sell-out here any more. One casual spectator appeared to hear Mr. Morrow.

Man About Manhattan

By George Tucker

NEW YORK — Benay Venuta kissed a trip to Tahiti goodbye to take a role in "Kiss the Boys Goodbye."

And that's not just a play on words, either. For a year this tall, statuesque blonde radio songstress had been planning a second vagabond jaunt to the island in the southern Pacific ocean. Had her beachcomber's outfit out of mothballs, too.

Then last summer along came Brock Pemberton with a script of the scratch-as-can-scratch Clare Booth comedy. Would Miss Venuta consider playing a straight role, the part of a tough, glamor girl of the screen?

"Sure I considered," Miss Venuta says, "but it didn't take me long to make up my mind. I've done everything there is to be done in show business, except play a dramatic role. And honestly, I had a terrific hankering to do just that."

To prepare for her first dramatic venture on Broadway, Miss Venuta hied herself out to the cow barn circuit, joining the Cedarhurst Players. For weeks she got her stage bearings in "Berkeley Square," playing with Douglass Montgomery. Then, a one-summer's veteran of stock, she went into "Kiss the Boys Goodbye."

WHEN she isn't working, Miss Venuta likes to rove the high seas. Adventure seems to come naturally to her. They started coming her way when, taking a vacation from a finishing school in Beupre, Switzerland, she hired a boat for a Mediterranean cruise. The voyage bogged down when the wind died away and the motor refused to kick over. Four days of drifting about found them without food. Just as things looked bad, a tramp freighter picked them up.

On another occasion, Benay went shark-fishing with Joan Lowell off Jamaica. A sudden squall piled their boat up on a reef. A rescue party arrived not many minutes before their craft went to pieces.

TWO summers ago, Miss Venuta traipsed down to Tahiti, a 6,000-mile jaunt, and got in six weeks of beachcombing, painting, and photography. She built herself a tennis court and taught the natives how to play baseball. She lived what she calls the "Life of Venuta."

Before priming herself for the dramatic stage, Miss Venuta sang for the networks in the "blues" manner and was a graduate of the night club circuit. Now that she's crashed the dramatic stage, she is toying with another ambition: to become a modern dancer. But not for some time.

"I'm going back to Tahiti, next summer," she says. "Why, I have a ninety-nine year lease on a cottage there!"

Foot Has Two Arches

Because of its design the foot has long been recognized as a specialized organ for man's upright carriage of his body. In construction the normal foot is a finely designed and highly efficient structure perfectly planned for its function of weight bearing, shock absorption and locomotion. If only a single block of bone were positioned beneath each leg to serve as a foot, walking would be very much of a peg-legged performance. But nature, as in many other ways, has adapted the organ to meet man's needs. It is of extreme importance, therefore, that measures be taken to protect and preserve this most necessary and efficient structure from mechanical defects and disabling infections.

How Women in Their 40's Can Attract Men

Here's good advice for a woman during her change (usually from 38 to 52), who fears she'll lose her appeal to men, who worries about hot flashes, loss of pep, dizzy spells, upset nerves and moody spells.

Just get more fresh air, 8 hrs. sleep and if you need a reliable "WOMAN'S" tonic take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made especially for women. It helps Nature build up physical resistance, thus helps give more vivacity to enjoy life and assist calming jittery nerves and those disturbing symptoms that often accompany change of life.

Pinkham's is WELL WORTH trying.

Celebrated Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Winchell of Port Ewen celebrated their 30th wedding anniversary with a small party and dinner Friday evening in their home on Salem street. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Burr, Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Fowler, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Doyle, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schwark, Mr. and Mrs. Webster Munson, Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Hotaling and Mrs. Victor Spinnenweber. During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Winchell were presented with a beautiful chenille bed spread.

Miss Murphy Wed in Chapel

Miss Eleanor Elisabeth Murphy was married yesterday at 2:30 in the chapel of St. Mary's Church to Fred Walter Bruhn, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bruhn. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Benjamin C. Roth.

The bride, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Murphy of 176 Broadway, was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of orchid blue slipper satin with a shirred square neckline and puffed sleeves and an illusion veil that was fastened with orchids and lilies of the valley. She carried a cascade bouquet of orchids. Mrs. Marie M. Gilpatric, who was her sister's only attendant, wore a frock of ruby velvet and a tiny hat to match, and carried white chrysanthemums. Louis G. Bruhn acted as best man for his brother. A small reception was held in the crystal room of the Governor Clinton Hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Bruhn flew from Newark Airport today for points south and upon their return will reside at 37 Green street. Mr. Bruhn was graduated from Union College and attended Albany Law School and is a member of Delta Upsilon Fraternity.

Book Group to Meet

The Book Group of the College Women's Clubs will meet Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Irwin Jennings, 172 Main street.

Kantrowitz-Jacobson

Mr. and Mrs. Max Jacobson of West Chester street have announced the marriage of their daughter, Elinore, to Harold Kantrowitz, son of David Kantrowitz of North Front street and the late Mrs. Kantrowitz. The wedding took place Thursday, October 27.

Personal Notes

Raymond H. Rignall, principal of School 1 and A. J. Boyd, principal of School 5 attended the Army-Notre Dame football game in New York city Saturday.

George Silkworth, a student at Rider College, spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Silkworth, of Clinton avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mooney of 423 Delaware avenue are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, Thomas, Jr., on Friday in the Benedictine Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. G. V. D. Hutton of Manor avenue spent the week-end at Deerfield, Mass., where they visited their son, William, who is a student at Eagle Brook School.

Harold Kalish of 83 Broadway attended the wedding of his cousin, Miss Clara Mannheimer, to Dr. Theodore Mandy at Baltimore, Md. The wedding was held at the Lord Baltimore Hotel.

MODES of the MOMENT

Smart—Youthful—This Angora Set

Household Arts by Alice Brooks

An Exclusive Alice Brooks Set in Jiffy Knit

PATTERN 6239

Angora is the last word in woolens today. This colorful sport set—a jiffy knit at that—will meet with loud approval. Warm as well as smart, it uses up scraps of yarn for the variegated dots that give it snap. Pattern 6239 contains instructions for making the set; illustrations of it and of stitches; materials needed; color schemes.

To obtain this pattern send ten cents in coin to the Kingston Daily Freeman, Household Arts Dept., 259 W. 14th street, New York, N. Y. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS and PATTERN NUMBER.

FROCK- AND-BABUSHKA OUTFIT

MARIAN MARTIN
PATTERN 9890

Ever younger and more charming grow "before-noon" fashions—as Pattern 9890 by Marion Martin proves: Delightfully chic, this peasant-type frock and "babushka" bonnet will bring you many a compliment when you serve breakfast, do your shopping, or take the children to school! And how simple it is to stitch up! Its dress consists of only TWO major pieces—(plus the two styles of sleeves)—with softness gathered into dirndl shirrings to make your waist look amazingly tiny. The ric-rac trim is another miracle of flattery, particularly at the square neck with its front fulness. You'll love this new frock for at-home wear—it's so youthful!

Pattern 9890 may be ordered only in misses' and women's sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 16 requires 4 ¼ yards 36 inch fabric and 4 ⅜ yards ric-rac.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS in coins for EACH MARIAN MARTIN pattern. Be sure to write plainly your SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS, and STYLE NUMBER.

HERE are reasons why you should send for the MARIAN MARTIN PATTERN BOOK today. Its styles are new and different! All are easily made at home! You have wide choice: 31 misses, smart daytime dresses, and 16 for larger women—10 selections for formal evenings—plus 26 younger-set styles from kindergarten to college age. In addition, you'll find coats, suits, blouses and skirts—also pages of lingerie and Christmas gifts for everyone; Order now. BOOK, FIFTEEN CENTS PATTERN, FIFTEEN CENTS. Good Old Standbys
Serving Four Or Five

Beefsteak Pie, Bread, Fruit-Topped Gingerbread Dessert, Cucumber Pickles, Plum Jam, Coffee

Beefsteak Pie

- 1 pound beef, round
- ⅓ cup flour
- 4 tablespoons chopped suet
- 2 tablespoons chopped onions
- ½ cup diced celery
- 2 tablespoons chopped green peppers (optional)
- 1 tablespoon minced parsley
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon paprika
- 3 cups boiling water
- 1½ cups diced boiled potatoes
- ½ cup cooked peas

Use round steak two-thirds of an inch thick cut into one-inch pieces. Roll in flour. Brown quickly in melted suet. Add seasonings and water. Cover and simmer for 35 minutes. Add other ingredients. Pour into shallow buttered baking dish. Add crust.

Crust

- 1½ cups flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- ¾ teaspoon salt
- 4 tablespoons fat
- 1 egg yolk
- ½ cup milk

Mix together flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in the fat. Add yolk and slowly add milk. When a soft dough forms, pat it out until it is one-third of an inch thick. Make four cuts in the top and then place on top of the meat mixture. Bake in moderate oven.

Fruit-Topped Gingerbread Dessert

- ⅓ cup fat
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 2 eggs
- ½ cup molasses
- 1 cup warm water
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 teaspoons cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon ginger
- ½ teaspoon cloves
- ½ teaspoon nutmeg
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 2½ cups flour
- 1 teaspoon soda
- 1 teaspoon baking powder

Cream fat and sugar. Add rest of ingredients and beat for three minutes. Pour into a shallow greased pan. Lightly spread with topping and make in moderate oven.

Topping

- ⅓ cup chopped raisins
- ¼ cup chopped citron
- ⅓ cup broken nuts
- ¼ cup brown sugar

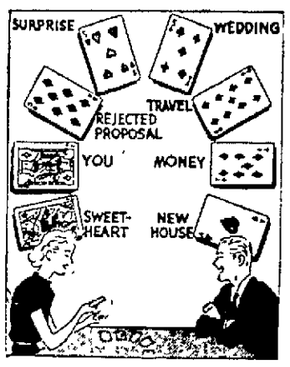

Mix ingredients carefully.

Everybody Loves Romantic Fortunes

Try the "Old Romany" Way

"Lucky you!" Betsy cries as Jim's name card, the Jack of Diamonds, turns up in the "magic horseshoe"—the old Romany way of laying out the cards.

That Queen of Clubs right next to the Jack may be a new sweetheart for Jim. A fickle one, perhaps, for the Eight of Spades says rejected proposal. But here's a surprise (Five of Hearts), meaning probably that the wedding (Five of Clubs) will take place after all.

Jim's future after that looks rosy, with travel (Nine of Clubs), money (Seven of Diamonds) and a brand new house (Ace of Hearts).

A lot of fun, too, to predict futures by horoscopes. Does your beau's birthday come between October 21 and November 20? His horoscope says he's wise and forceful—may be a famous orator.

And your birthday? If it's between January 21 and February 20 you are generous, have musical talent.

Make a big hit with friends by telling fortunes. Our 32-page booklet gives lots of exciting ways—cards, horoscopes, tea leaves and dominoes. The mystery of crystal gazing. Lively fortune games for your next party.

Send 10c in coin for your copy of FUN WITH FORTUNE-TELLING to The Kingston Daily Freeman, Home Service, 625 Sixth avenue, New York, N. Y. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS and the NAME of booklet.

Meeting Postponed

Because of the Ladies' Aid turkey dinner Wednesday, November 2, the regular meeting of the P.-T.A. will be postponed to Thursday, November 10, when Miss Ann Cassidy, state health nurse in charge of the northern half of Ulster county, will be the guest speaker, explaining the duties and functions of the health committee for this district.

Chief Justice Marshall 'Made Constitution Live'

Born in Germantown (now Midland), Fauquier county, Va., on September 24, 1755, John Marshall was the eldest son of Col. Thomas Marshall, a distinguished officer in the French war and the War of Independence, and of Mary Keith, a member of the Randolph family.

Because school facilities were meager in Fauquier county in those days, relates Leslie Hartley in the Washington Star, John was educated largely by his father. He had no college training except a few lectures on law and natural philosophy at William and Mary in 1779. He abandoned the study of law at 18 to enter the Revolutionary army. As a member of his father's regiment, he took part in the battle of Great Bridge, in which he displayed great courage.

In 1781, after leaving the army, Marshall began the practice of law in his native county. The next year he was elected to the Virginia assembly, serving as legislator during eight sessions. Later he moved to Richmond and, from 1788 to 1791, was that city's representative in the assembly. He was also a member of the federal convention which met in 1788 to discuss ratification of the Constitution of the United States. This issue was hotly debated, and it was largely through his convincing arguments that ratification was carried.

He refused the attorney generalship and the ministry to France, but, in 1789, accepted appointment as special envoy to France, serving with Charles Cotesworth Pinckney and Elbridge Gerry. After serving in congress and as secretary of state, he was named chief justice, a post he held until his death in Philadelphia.

As chief justice he rendered numerous decisions of prime importance to the nation. At a period when the powers of congress were poorly defined, when the processes of constitutional government were still in the experimental stage, he is credited with having "made the Constitution live."

French Horn Is a Tube Twelve Feet in Length

The french horn comes to us via the old hunting horn. Experiments in its use began in the Eighteenth century. The horn in F is a tube, 12 feet long, coiled around itself. The usual construction is one in which the body of the horn terminates in a conical ferrule 90 inches from the rim to the bell. Into this ferrule crooks or bent tubes fit. The horn is a transposing instrument, the various crooks giving sounds lower than the notation.

Real improvement began with the introduction of valves, whereby the length was instantaneously altered, notes a writer in the Chicago Daily News. Three valves place a full chromatic scale at the service of composers. There are two methods of "stopping": one by inserting the open hand, with fingers close together into the bell, and the other by using a mute, usually of metal, pear shaped and pierced for free passage of air.

The first composer to use valve horns was Halevy. Up to the time of Mozart two players were considered sufficient. It is not uncommon for composers to write compositions calling for six or eight horns.

W.C.T.U. to Meet

The W. C. T. U. of Ulster Park will hold its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. H. W. Osborn, 106 West Chester street, in Kingston, Wednesday afternoon, November 2, at 2:30 o'clock. Leader, Mrs. Clarence Wells. Word for roll call will be "Watch."

Loans to farmers from production credit associations were reported at a five-year high of $183,000,000 at the mid-point of the 1938 financing season.

Legion to Have Prominent Acts

"Money talks, but that's no reason why we should teach American dollars foreign languages"—so allows "Senator" Ford of Michigan, who takes the stump for the first time in this city at the 20th annual Victory Ball of Kingston Post, No. 150, American Legion, at the municipal auditorium on Armistice Day evening, November 11.

"Senator" Ford, who disclaims any relationship to the Detroit manufacturer of the same name, touches upon many topics during his ten-minute oration, but you find beneath his bantering tone and his laugh-provoking comments a close acquaintanceship with topics and questions—there's quite a difference between the two—of the day.

The entire show promises to be one of the best ever given at a local social function. It will get under way at promptly 8:30 p. m., and will run 80 minutes. This means the floor will be cleared for dancing by 10 o'clock. Two local orchestras, with Jake Mollott and Paul Zucca conducting, will furnish the music for dancing.

A Three Days' Cough Is Your Danger Signal

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your common cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you may get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel germ-laden phlegm.

Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained. Creomulsion is one word, ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

Hollywood
Sights And Sounds
By Robbin Coons

HOLLYWOOD—Peace, its wonderful.

Hollywood is breathing again. It's going to keep on making pictures. Even big pictures.

If things had turned out differently at Munich, they'd have turned out sourly in Hollywood. Other industries—steel, foodstuffs, materials—might have enjoyed a temporary boom in the holocaust, but the movies would have taken a tailspin.

There would have been no helping the "colossals" already made.

"Marie Antoinette" wouldn't have had her expected boost from Europe. ("But we'll get it all back from Europe," was the stock Metro answer to "Marie's" big budget.)

"Gunga Din," calculated to cash in heavily through the British Empire, would have: ne out with two strikes against it.

"If I Were King," made for international appeal, would have taken a cut of at least one-third in anticipated revenues.

"Men With Wings," high-budgeted, would have turned pale, under its technicolor, just like producers all over Hollywood during the war jitters.

DURING that scare many a "big one" was taken off the ready-to-shoot list and put back on the shelf.

Frank Lloyd had planned "Ruler of the Seas," a story of a big shipping family, but he substituted "Big Steel" as his next.

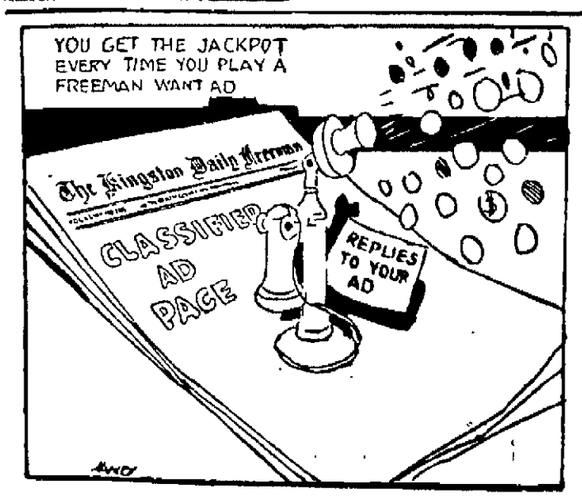

"The Light That Failed" has been on and off the schedule for several years. During the war talk it was off again—cost too much for the American market to bear alone. Peace—it's on again.

"Beau Geste," "The Irish Sweepstakes," "Knights of the Round-table"—British appeal subjects that couldn't have been undertaken but for Munich. They're all definitely on now.

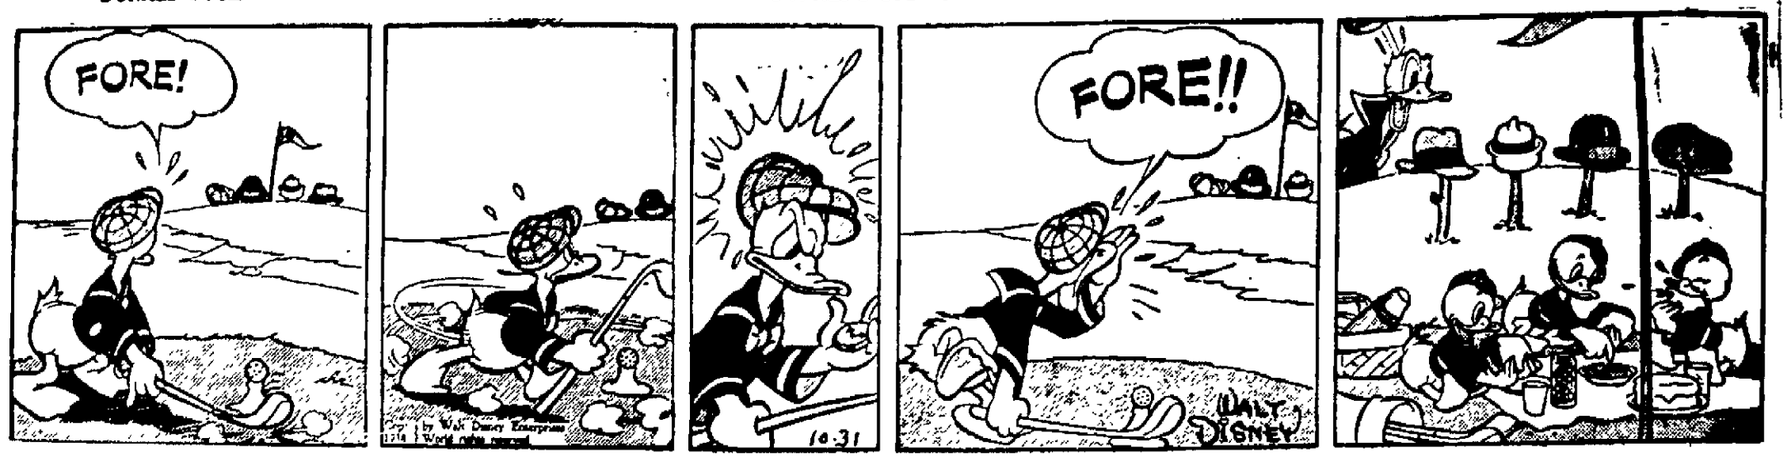

"Hotel Imperial," so-called jinx picture because of its history, is on again with Isa Miranda, the Italian star who didn't make "Zaza." Marlene Dietrich started fo "Hotel Imperial," walked out of the lobby. Margaret Sullavan was to take over, broke her arm. Isa was next—but if Italy had gone with Hitler on a bombing party, Isa would have been out.

GARBO and Dietrich, whose pictures generally rely on the foreign markets to show their best returns, might have been missing stars in a war season, or at least have been seen in less costly vehicles. Garbo probably wouldn't have had her "Madame Curie" but she'll have it now. Peace, it's wonderful.

Halloween tonight. Remember to celebrate without doing damage.

Halloween Things

I like that ghastly face, in whose eyes fire is seen,
To me, each jack o' lantern says,
"a happy halloween."
Those bright-hued leaves, which yesterday, braved storms in huge tree tops,
Are beautiful as they adorn the festive homes and shops.
Then, there's that witch — with whom the world's best air
pilots are vying,
Throughout the years—without a crash—that gal's done much high flying.
And does she break speed records?—Whiz! She streaks
across the nation,
And covers every state—with just a broom for transportation!
—LYLA MYERS

Can You Tell Which Is Which

She thought with Halloween quite near, for once she'd be real clever,
She'd buy a witch's costume—
and look like the best witch ever.
And so she bought the tall black hat, the dress with flowing cape,
And put them on; but, honestly,
she looked more like an ape.
Now, women wear such funny styles, sometimes it's hard to tell,
If one is masquerading, or attempting to dress well.
The hour arrived and in she walked, imagine her disgust,
Her husband said: "My Gosh!
What styles! But wear 'em
if you must."
—LYLA MYERS

Shaw—And so you think a college education is a good thing for a boy?

Pshaw—Yes. It fits him for something in life. If he can't catch on with a baseball team he may get a job as a professor.

No business is well organized unless its officials can make decisions quickly and firmly.

Friend—Where did you go on those whaling trips with your father?

Robert—Usually to the woodshed.

Read it or not:

George Washington proclaimed the first Thanksgiving Day for the United States in the first year of his presidency (1789) when he called for folks to be thankful for the Constitution of the United States.

The landlord was making one more attempt to collect rent from his roomer.

After the tirade, the poet spoke up with: "Why, sir, you ought to pay me for living here. In a few years' time people will be looking up this miserable attic, and saying: "That's where Miller, the poet, used to live."

"Well, they needn't wait all those years," answered the landlord, "if you don't pay me by 11 o'clock they can say it tomorrow."

It's easy to be broadminded in matters that affect us only slightly, or not at all!

A lot of girls earn enough to be independent of the old folks if it wasn't for buying their stockings.

This Is Halloween
(Bet You Don't Know Why)

(By AP Feature Service)

Everybody knows what happens on Halloween.

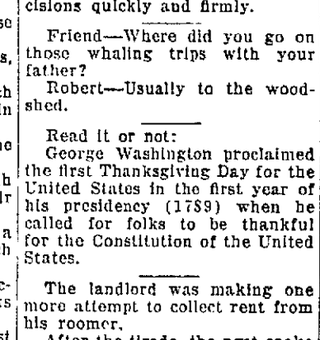

The youngsters know they can dress up in their false faces and have an uproarious time trying to fool neighbors; and grown-ups know they must be tolerant when their windows are soft soaped.

But why is Halloween?

Early Christians set aside dates when every martyr for Christ was venerated. There were soon so many martyrs that they decided to lump them all together for one big festivity—Hallowmass or All Saints' Day.

During the Eighth Century Gregory III set the date at November 1. Through the centuries, celebrants though it advisable to keep vigil on the night before.

Quite independently, the Irish Druids got the idea that Saman, lord of death, ordered wicked souls to come forth on the night of October 31.

Christians keeping vigil gradually accepted this idea that witches and ghosts were quite apt to be at large then and began lighting fires and making frightful masks to scare them away.

That, folks, seems to be the origin of our 1938, streamlined Halloween.

MARLBOROUGH

Marlborough, Oct. 29—At a special meeting of the Board of Education held on Tuesday evening, Vernon Meyers was appointed chief janitor of the Marlborough Central School. He succeeds George DuBois, who died suddenly Saturday of a heart attack. William Conn was named as assistant janitor to Mr. Meyers.

Plans are being made for a community gathering and evening of music in the Marlborough Central High School Thursday, November 10. The Rev. James Hanley, pastor of St. Mary's Church, will be the principal speaker. The American Legion will provide a color guard and give the salute to the flag. The high school glee clubs Choral Club and orchestra will provide music for the evening. The Rev. Claude McIntosh of the Presbyterian Church will give the invocation. Community singing will be enjoyed and the Rev. Van de Beek Vos, of Christ Episcopal Church, will give the introduction and the Rev. George W. Dalves of the Methodist Church the benediction.

Police Hold Four For Intoxication

Over the week-end four arrests were made on charges of public intoxication. Delphine McBee, a negress of 153 Abeel street, was picked up on Ferry street Saturday night. As this was not her first appearance in court Judge Cahill imposed a fine of $5.

James Yarbrough, a negro, picked up for public intoxication on Burgevin street, was fined $1. This was the first time he had appeared in police court.

A similar sentence was meted out to Scott Robins, 19, a negro, of 110 Gage street, who was intoxicated on Wall street on Sunday.

Kenneth R. MacIver of New Paltz, arrested on a charge of public intoxication on Broadway on Sunday night, had his hearing set down for later.

MARLBOROUGH

Marlborough, Oct. 31—A card party will be held November 18 at 8 p. m. at the Christ rectory for the benefit of the Young People's Club. Refreshments will be served and tickets may be secured from members of the club.

Mrs. Eunice Hepworth Gervais, school tax collector for Marlborough, has set October 31 as the date for payment of school taxes at one per cent. October 21 was the regular date, but Mrs. Gervais is allowing a special extension. After that five per cent must be added to the tax. More than $29,500 has been collected. The last day for settling for taxes was last Friday, when Mrs. Gervais did a land office business in the First National Bank of Marlborough. At the end of the day she had collected a total of $27,298, during the 30 days of collection. The total amount to be collected from local taxpayers is $38,000.

Edmund Carpenter, cashier of the First National Bank, spent Thursday in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Smith spent Wednesday in Mineola, L. I., where they visited their daughter, Miss Alice Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Reese and children, Doris and Sally, and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Reese spent Sunday visiting relatives in Bergenfield, N. J.

Miss Lily Benjamin of St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, spent Thursday in town visiting her aunts, the Misses Hattie and Cornelia Valentine.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Mackey will spend the week-end in West Hurley.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bond and the former's father, of Jersey City spent Wednesday in town at the home of Mrs. Amelia Perkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Ike Eicholzer and daughter, Dorothy, of Newburgh spent Wednesday visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnston.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Millspaugh and daughter, Margaret, were callers Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnston.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Calvin Wygant, Jr., have returned after spending six days at Hampton, N. H.

Miss Roberta Baxter, secretary to the Central School principal, spent the week-end in Ithaca. She went with Miss Virginia Barkhuff, former home-making department head here, and five other young people from Poughkeepsie, who all attended the Cornell-Penn State football game Saturday.

The regular meeting of the Community Garden Club will be at the home of Mrs James E. Easman, Jr., of Newburgh. William H. Carr, head of Trailside Museum, Bear Mountain Park, will be the speaker.

Asks Forgiveness

New York, Oct. 31 (AP)—A note asking forgiveness of his wife was found by police today in the automobile in which Clarence Van Ness, 55, a salesman, last night took his own life with a shotgun.

PRESIDENT INSPECTS NAVY'S $1,000,000 FLYING FORTRESS

President Roosevelt pays a visit to the Anacostia air station to inspect the Navy's giant four-engined flying boat—a craft which carries eight 1000-pound bombs and cruises at 225 miles per hour. Pointing out features of the plane to the chief executive is Assistant Secretary of the Navy Charles Edison. In front sit Assistant Secretary of War Louis Johnson (left) and Commander John D. Price of the Air station.

City Leases Gas House Building For NYA Center

The city authorities have leased the old gas house property on St James Court for the local National Youth Administration, and possession will be taken on Tuesday. The property will be used as a work center for the NYA which has been located in the municipal barn, which is needed by the city for the storage of equipment

The gas house property is owned by Mrs. Jennie Silverberg of 732 Broadway.

Extended activities on the part of the NYA will now have plenty of room in the new location and there is also large storage space available in the basement of the building.

The gas house property has been leased for a period of one year.

Cheerful Youth, 15, Dies at Hospital

Gordon Crawford of New Paltz observed his 15th birthday on Sunday by meeting death in the Benedictine Hospital where he had been a patient for several months under treatment for heart trouble. Gordon was one of the most cheerful patients in the children's ward, and during his long stay in the hospital he made many friends of those who visited the ward.

He apparently was somewhat better until several days ago when his condition gradually grew worse. Death came early Sunday evening. Although Gordon suffered considerable during the many attacks he suffered while in the children's ward he always remained cheerful and brave. He was looking forward to the Halloween which he did not live to enjoy. The body was taken to New Paltz for funeral and burial.

Pays With Life

Bellefonte, Pa., Oct. 31 (AP)—Antonio Peronace, 36-year-old coal miner, paid with his life in the electric chair at Rockview Penitentiary early today in expiation for the "wedding gift" slayings of his wife and father-in-law.

The direct issue of upholding the President's hand is involved in the congressional contest of James A. Fay, New Deal stalwart, and Rep. John O' Connor whose defeat has been asked by Mr. Roosevelt. O'Connor lost the Democratic nomination to Fay, but won the Republican nomination.

Burned Alive

Baby Priscilla Ann, shown here with her mother, Mrs. T. E. Turner, was burned to death when she was thrust into a firebox of a coal heater at Columbus, Ga. Mrs. Turner was severely burned when she snatched her daughter from the flames. Police Captain J. T. Spence said the Turners' landlady, Mrs Lucile Adams, admitted she placed the baby in the firebox.

Local Hymn Sing Proves Popular Here on Sunday

A crowd of nearly 200 attended the Sunday evening hymn sing at the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church under the leadership of Vernon R. Miller.

Favorite hymns of prominent men of the nation and outstanding local citizens were sung by the speakers.

The hymns of Fanny Crosby have been chosen for the hymn sing of next Sunday evening.

FDR to Push Campaign

Philadelphia, Oct. 31 (AP)—President Roosevelt put his influence into the final week of the Pennsylvania election campaign today with a statement approving Governor George H. Earle's "liberal" Democratic state administration. In a letter to Michael Francis Doyle, Philadelphia attorney and member of the permanent court of arbitration at The Hague, the President said, "In my own relations with the Earle administration I can truthfully say that I have found it at all times willing and eager to help in carrying into effect a liberal program for social and economic justice.

Driver Uninjured As Truck Wrecks

Pinned on the floor of the cab of his truck, so that it was necessary to use crowbars to free him, Raymond Comolli, of Barre, Vt., was fortunate to escape with slight injuries when his truck overturned about two miles north of Highland Saturday.

Comolli, driving south with a truck loaded with granite slabs, attempted to pass another truck going in the same direction on the new four-strip highway. His wheel struck the concrete curbing of the parkway in the center of the road, went out of control and turned over, the heavy slabs of granite being thrown about the highway. Comolli, knowing the danger from the load shifting, threw himself to the floor of the cab. The cab was smashed and the truck generally was badly wrecked.

It was necessary to call a wrecker to remove the block of stone from the highway. Comolli was treated by Dr. Carl Meckins, of Highland for lacerations about the head and a bruised hip and elbow.

The accident was investigated by Sergeant Hulse and Trooper Baker.

Mrs. McAllister Held in Dutchess

Allister refused to relinquish 996 shares in a gold-producing property in Central America to the firm. The contempt of court charges then were lodged against her and she was subsequently convicted.

The company declared McAllister held the shares only as its agent and that following his death on March 16, 1937, it should have received them back.

Normal School News

The regular monthly meeting of the Music Association will be held November 1, directly preceding Lyceum. Fine entertainment is being prepared and students of musical organizations are welcome. Appearing at Lyceum will be the well known group of men composing a sextette, namely the "Master Singers." Returning to New Paltz this year will be Mrs. Louise Mattlage, interperative dancer. Mrs. Mattlage appeared in chapel last year both dancing and lecturing in an informal manner. The response of the students was gratifying and special courses were held at the Normal for a group of women, who received instruction from Mrs. Mattlage. This year, Mrs. Mattlage has prepared a special group of dances to be presented in chapel and also a lecture on contemporary dancing. To display her technique, the two dances will be "Return," a greeting especially created for the students of New Paltz and "Dance for Tomorrow."

Following the program of interperative dancing, Mrs. Mattlage will confer in the social room with any students interested in dancing of this type. In the later part of the afternoon a tea will be given by a committee of last years' dancing class. Those on the committee are the Misses Clare McBride, Mildred Ludwig, Ruth Patterson, Doris Tuthill, Ann Brundage, Moira Brown, Yolanda Caporale, Julia Matuskia, Doris Bremwasser, Jean Sundstrom, and Mary Cunningham.

The International Relations Club has received from its affiliate, the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, the fall installment of books. This includes several of the recent studies made on current problems. This library has been given shelf room in the Normal School library, so as to be available to all the students. Appropriate to the collection is the book, "Czechs and Germans" by Miss Wiskemann, other books include, "Our Trade With Great Britain," "Analysis of the Problem of War" by Bidwell C. Eagleton; "The Federalist"—Alexander Hamilton," Co-operation Coercion"—L. P. Jacks; "Government in Facist Italy,"—H. A. Steiner; "Conference in World Economic Co-operation" and "The Puzzle of Palestine" the latter two being pamphlets. Miss Winifred O'Dell has been elected president of Chorus, which is second to the Glee Club headed by Miss Dann. Vice-President and secretary will be Betty Elwood and Adelle Allen respectively. The positions of librarian and assistant librarian were given Peggy Miller and Jeanne Wolpe respectively. Under the able leadership of Miss Harding, of the music department, the 86 members of chorus hope for a successful year.

The Ushers' Guild has selected eight girls to act as ushers at the various concerts with Katrine Troyanovitch as head usher. The guild will increase its membership until 20 girls are selected. Those already selected are: Ruth Fisher, Claire Lonergan, Doris Weber, Alice Jones, Betty Ortiz, Antoinette Powell and Katherene Sinspaugh. Near the close of each year freshman girls will be trained for membership.

The men's glee club advancing from a registration of ten of last year, now has a group of 24 good male voices. Several members of

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to Chapter 376 of the Laws of 1938, that there will be submitted to a vote of the electors of this State at the general election to be held on Tuesday, November 8, 1938, proposed amendments Nos. 1 to 9, inclusive, proposed by the Constitutional Convention of 1938. The following are abstracts of said proposed amendments, prepared under the direction of the Convention, and the forms of submission thereof approved by the Convention.

EDWARD J. FLYNN,
Secretary of State.

(Article numbers and headings appearing below are those proposed to be contained in the Constitution as amended. Section references appearing in parentheses below are to the sections of the proposed amended Constitution.)

ABSTRACT OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 1

Amending the Constitution Generally with the Exception of Amendments Separately Submitted

The purposes and effects of these proposed amendments are:

ARTICLE I
BILL OF RIGHTS

1. To continue the present right of trial by jury in all cases in which it heretofore has been guaranteed by constitutional provision; to change the existing provision that jury trial may be waived by the defendant in all criminal cases, except those in which the crime charged may be punishable by death, to require that such waiver be made by the defendant in person in open court by written instrument signed by him with the approval of a judge or justice of a court having jurisdiction to try the offence, and to empower the legislature to enact laws not inconsistent with the above provision, governing the form, content, manner and time of presentation of the instrument effectuating such waiver. (Section 2)

2. To permit the remedy of habeas corpus to be availed of by order as well as by writ. (Section 4)

3. (a) To require that a person accused of crime in any court be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation and be confronted with the witnesses against him, (b) to require that any public officer who, on being called before a grand jury to testify concerning the conduct of his office or the performance of his official duties, refuses to sign a waiver of immunity against subsequent criminal prosecution, or to answer any relevant question concerning such matters before such grand jury be removed from office by the appropriate authority or forfeit his office at the suit of the attorney-general, (c) to forbid that the power of grand juries to inquire into the wilful misconduct in office of public officers, and to find indictments or to direct the filing of informations in connection with such inquiries, ever be suspended or impaired by law, and (d) to include official referees among the officers or bodies by whom compensation for private property taken for public use may be ascertained, and to remove a provision authorizing such compensation, in proceedings affecting property located within the city of New York and to be acquired by the city of New York, to be ascertained by a term of the supreme court to consist of one or more justices thereof without a jury. (Sections 6 and 7)

4. To insure that no person shall be denied the equal protection of the laws of the State or any subdivision thereof, or be subjected to any discrimination in his civil rights because of race, color, creed or religion, by any other person, firm, corporation or institution, or by the State or any agency or subdivision of the State. (Section 11)

5. To insure (a) that the right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and that no warrants shall issue, but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized, and (b) that the right of the people to be secure against unreasonable interception of telephone and telegraph communications shall not be violated, and that ex parte orders or warrants shall issue only upon oath or affirmation of reasonable grounds to believe that evidence of crime may be thus obtained, and identifying the particular means of communication, and particularly describing the person or persons whose communications are to be intercepted and the purpose thereof. (Section 12)

6. (a) To repeal in its entirety the existing Section 11 abolishing all feudal tenures except rents and services certain hitherto lawfully created or reserved, (b) to repeal in its entirety Section 13 declaring invalid leases or grants of agricultural land for more than twelve years in which any rent or service is reserved, (c) to repeal in its entirety Section 14 declaring void all fines, quarter-sales or other like restraints upon alienation reserved in grants of land, and (d) to combine in Section 10 the substance of the present provisions of Section 10 and Section 12.

7. To renumber appropriately the sections retained.

ARTICLE II
SUFFRAGE

1. (a) To remove from present Section 1 the requirement that a citizen by marriage must have been an inhabitant of the United States for five years, to be entitled to vote, and to make mandatory the present permissive authority to the legislature to regulate the voting of electors absent in time of war in the military service, (b) to add a provision that the legislature may provide by law for a system or systems of registration whereby on personal application a voter may be registered and his registration continued so long as he remains qualified to vote from the same address, or for such shorter period as the legislature may prescribe, (c) to add a provision requiring the legislature to provide for identification of voters through their signatures where personal registration is required, and to provide for signatures at the time of voting of all persons voting in person by ballot or voting machine, whether or not they have registered in person, except in cases of illiteracy or physical disability, (d) to delete from present Section 8 an obsolete reference to town meetings, and (e) to renumber appropriately the sections retained.

ARTICLE III
LEGISLATURE

1. To substitute for the provision that members of either house of the legislature shall receive the sum of one dollar for every ten miles they travel in going to and from their place of meeting, once in each session on the most usual route, a provision that they shall be reimbursed for actual traveling expenses in going to and from the place in which the legislature meets, not more than once each week while the legislature is in session. (Section 6)

2. To substitute for the present inhibition contained in Sections 7 and 8 against members of the legislature receiving civil appointments and against certain federal and city officers being elected to the legislature, the inhibitions that no person shall serve as a member of the legislature unless he or she is a citizen of the United States and has been a resident of the State for five years and of the assembly or senate district for the twelve months immediately preceding his or her election, that no member of the legislature shall, during the time for which he or she was elected, receive any civil appointment from the governor, the governor and the senate, the legislature or from any city government, to an office which shall have been created, or the emoluments whereof shall have been increased during such time and that, if a member of the legislature be elected to congress, or appointed to any office, civil or military, under the government of the United States, the State of New York, or under any city government except as a member of the national guard or naval militia of the State, or of the reserve forces of the United States, his or her acceptance thereof shall vacate his or her seat in the legislature, providing, however, that a member of the legislature may be appointed commissioner of deeds or to any office in which he or she shall receive no compensation. (Section 7)

3. To substitute for the present provision permitting a legislative bill to be passed without being printed and upon the desks of the members in its final form at least three calendar legislative days prior to its final passage when the governor certifies to the necessity of its immediate passage, a provision permitting the passage of such a bill without printing and without being upon the desks of the members for three calendar legislative days only when the governor certifies the facts which in his opinion necessitate an immediate vote thereon, and to require that, in such case, the bill nevertheless be upon the desks of the members in final form, not necessarily printed, before its final passage. (Section 14)

4. To change the existing prohibition on the legislature from passing a private or local bill providing for building of bridges and chartering companies for such purpose, except on the Hudson river below Waterford and on the East river or over the waters forming part of the boundaries of the State, to a prohibition from passing such a bill providing for building bridges, except over waters forming part of the State boundaries, by other than a municipal or other public corporation or a public agency of the State. (Section 17)

5. To prevent the legislature from prohibiting any municipal corporation operating a gas, electric or water public utility service from making and receiving, in addition to an amount equivalent to taxes which would be payable to such municipal corporation by such service if privately owned, a fair return on the value of the property used and useful in such service, over and above costs of operation and necessary and proper reserves, or prohibiting the use of the profits therefrom for the payment of municipal expenses or obligations or the payments of refunds to consumers. (Section 18)

6. To enlarge the provision of present Section 23 that present Sections 17 and 18 of Article III shall not be applicable to any bill, or amendments to any bill reported to the legislature by commissioners appointed to revise the statutes, by providing that present Section 16 of Article III (prohibiting passage of any private or local bill embracing more than one subject, to be expressed in the title) as well as present Sections 17 and 18 shall not be applicable to any bill or amendments to any bill recommended to the legislature by commissioners or any public agency appointed or directed by law to prepare revisions, consolidations or compilations of statutes, but that a bill amending an existing law shall not be excepted from said Sections 16, 17 and 18 unless such amending bill shall itself be so recommended by such commissioners or public agency. (Section 21)

7. To transfer to this article the provisions of Section 6 of Article VII (Section 19); and to transfer the subject matter of present Sections 21 and 22 to Article VII and the subject matter of present Sections 26, 27 and 28 to Article IX, and to renumber appropriately the sections retained.

ARTICLE IV
EXECUTIVE

1. (a) To remove certain obsolete provisions relating to the time of the election of governor and lieutenant-governor and to substitute certain appropriate provisions therefor, but without changing the times of such election, (b) to remove the existing provision that, in case two or more shall have an equal and the highest number of votes for governor, or for lieutenant-governor, the two houses of the legislature at its next annual session shall forthwith, by joint ballot, choose one of such persons for governor or lieutenant-governor, and the existing provision that the governor shall transact all necessary business with the officers of government, civil and military, (c) to substitute for the present provision for an acting governor in case of a vacancy in the office of governor and lieutenant-governor, a provision that, if the office of governor become vacant and there be no lieutenant-governor, such vacancy shall be filled for the remainder of the term at the next general election happening not less than three months after such vacancy occurs; that, in such case, until the vacancy be filled by election, or in case the lieutenant-governor be under impeachment or unable to discharge the powers and duties of the office of governor or shall be absent from the State, the temporary president of the senate shall act as governor during such period, and that, if he shall be unable to discharge the powers and duties of the office of governor or be absent from the State, the speaker of the assembly shall act as governor during such period, and (d) to remove the present provision that the lieutenant-governor shall not receive or be entitled to any other compensation, fee or perquisite than his annual salary for any duty or service he may be required to perform by the constitution or by law. (Sections 1, 3, 5, 6)

2. To require that all rules and regulations made by any state department, board, bureau, officer, authority or commission, except such as relate to the organization or internal management of a state department, board, bureau, authority or commission, be filed in the department of state before becoming effective, and that the legislature provide for their speedy publication by appropriate laws. (Section 8)

3. To renumber appropriately the sections retained.

ARTICLE V
OFFICERS AND CIVIL DEPARTMENTS

1. (a) To render ineligible to the office of comptroller or attorney-general a person who is not a citizen of the United States, is less than thirty years of age or who shall not have been five years next preceding his election a resident of this State, (b) to render void, and subject to be restrained upon the suit of any taxpayer with the consent of the supreme court in appellate division on notice to the attorney-general, any payment of money of the State, or of any money under its control, or the refund of any money paid to the State, except upon audit by the comptroller, (c) to repeal the present provision that the officers named in the article shall, at stated times during his continuance in office, receive for his services a compensation which shall not be increased or diminished during the term for which he shall have been elected, and shall receive to his own use no fees or perquisites of office or other compensation, (d) to repeal obsolete provisions for a state department of architecture and a state department of military and naval affairs, and (e) to repeal certain obsolete provisions relating to the assignment to the departments of the State government of all civil, administrative and executive functions and the retention in office of elective State officers, and a provision that no specific grant of power by that article shall prevent the legislature from conferring additional powers upon such departments. (Sections 1-6)

2. To establish that membership in any pension or retirement system of the State or of a civil division thereof, after July 1, 1940, shall be a contractual relationship the benefits of which shall not be diminished or impaired. (Section 7)

ARTICLE VII
STATE FINANCES

To consolidate in Article VII the various provisions relating to state finances (a) by transferring thereto the subject matter of Article IV-A, relating to the executive budget, and of Section 22 of Article III, prohibiting inclusion of any provision or enactment in the annual supply bill, unless it relates specifically to some particular appropriation in the bill and requiring such provision to be limited in its operation to such appropriation, and amending such subject matter by (1) changing the time for submission to the governor of departmental estimates from October 15 in each year to such time as the governor may require, and changing the requirement for information to be included therein to a requirement that they contain such estimates and information as the governor may require, (2) changing from October 15 to December 1 the date for submission to the governor of estimates of the financial needs of the legislature and the judiciary, (3) changing the date for submission of the budget to the legislature by the governor from on or before January 15 (or February 1 in certain instances) to on or before February 1, (4) requiring the budget to contain a complete plan of expenditures proposed to be made before the close of the ensuing fiscal year, instead of simply a complete plan of proposed expenditures without specific limitation on the period of time involved, (5) requiring the governor to furnish as part of the budget an explanation of the basis of his revenue estimates, recommendations as to proposed legislation, if any, which he may deem necessary to provide moneys sufficient to meet the proposed expenditures and such other recommendations and information as he may deem proper, and such additional information as may be required by law (which may or may not include the several statements now required to be included in the budget), (6) requiring the governor, at the time of submitting the budget to the legislature, to submit the bill or bills containing the proposed legislation, if any, recommended in the budget, in addition to all proposed appropriations and reappropriations included in the budget, as now provided, (7) excepting from the present prohibition against consideration of appropriation bills until all appropriation bills submitted by the governor shall have been finally acted on by both houses, any bill supported by a message from the governor certifying to the necessity of its immediate passage, (8) permitting supplemental appropriation bills for the support of government, as well as the bills submitted by the governor as at present, to be for more than a single object or purpose (Sections 1-6), (b) by transferring to Article VII present Section 21 of Article III (Section 7); (c) by consolidating in Article VII, in amended form the provisions of present Article VII, Section 1, and Article VIII, Section 9, and changing the present prohibition now contained in such Section 1 against giving or loaning the credit of the State to or in aid of any individual, association or corporation, and the prohibition in such Section 9 against giving or loaning the credit or money of the State in any manner to or in aid of any association, corporation or private undertaking, with certain exceptions, so that the section shall provide that the money of the State shall not be given or loaned to or in aid of any private corporation or association or private undertaking, and that the credit of the State shall not be given or loaned to or in aid of any individual or public or private corporation or association or private undertaking, with the exceptions as now provided (Section 8); (d) by permitting the State to contract debt in anticipation of the receipt of the proceeds of the sale of bonds theretofore authorized, such debt to be paid with interest from the proceeds of the sale of such bonds within two years of the date of issue (Section 9); (e) by changing the requirement of present Article VII, Section 4 that a law authorizing State debt shall specify some single work or object, to a requirement that such law specify some single work or purpose (Section 11); (f) by reducing the maximum period for which State debt can be contracted from 50 to 40 years and to authorize insertion of a call provision in all State bonds (Section 12); (g) by empowering the legislature to provide means of refunding State debt having a call provision, provided that such refunding debt mature in equal annual installments not less than that refunded (Section 13); (h) by removing the present provision of Article VII, Section 5 authorizing the legislature to provide for the exchange of serial bonds for bonds for which sinking funds are provided and repealing present Sections 10, 12, 13 and 15 of Article VII, relating to canal improvements, highway debts, bonuses to discharged soldiers, sailors and marines of the world war, and the contracting of debt for public works or improvements; and (i) by renumbering appropriately the sections retained.

ARTICLE VIII
LOCAL FINANCES

1. To devote the entire article to the subject matter contained in present Sections 10, 10-a and part of 14 thereof and to amend the same by (a) changing the existing prohibition on gifts or loans by a county, city, town or village to or in aid of any individual, association or corporation, to a prohibition on such gifts or loans by school districts as well, making clear that only private corporations are intended in the prohibition, and including gifts or loans to any private undertaking in the prohibition (Section 1); (b) prohibiting any county, city, town, village or school district from giving or loaning its credit to or in aid of any individual or public or private corporation or association or private undertaking, except that a county may contract debt for advances to a town or school district, pursuant to law, of amounts of unpaid taxes returned to it (Section 1); (c) changing the provision of present Section 10 that the section shall not prevent any county, city, town or village from making such provision for the aid and support of its poor as may be authorized by law, to a provision that, subject to the limitations on indebtedness and taxation applying to any county, city or town, nothing contained in the constitution shall prevent a county, city or town from making such provision for the aid, care and support of the needy as may be authorized by law; changing the provision of present Section 14 that nothing in the Constitution shall prevent any county, city, town or village from providing for the care, support, maintenance and secular education of inmates of orphan asylums, homes for dependent children or correctional institutions, whether under public or private control, so as to remove the powers therein granted to villages and to permit any county, city or town to provide also for the care, support, maintenance and secular education of children placed in family homes by authorized agencies, whether under public or private control, and to provide health and welfare services for all children (Section 1); (d) requiring that indebtedness of a school district be contracted for school district purposes only and that no indebtedness of a county, city, town, village or school district be contracted for longer than the period of the probable usefulness of the object or purpose for which it is contracted, determined by or pursuant to general or special laws, such determination to be conclusive, and in no event longer than 40 years; that indebtedness hereafter contracted may not be refunded beyond such period, and that refunding of indebtedness heretofore contracted be made only with the approval of and on terms prescribed by the state comptroller and in no event for more than 20 years from the time of refunding (Section 2); (e) requiring the pledge of the faith and credit of every county, city, town, village or school district for payment of principal and interest on all indebtedness, and that, except for certain temporary debt, all such debt, including any refunding of debt hereafter contracted, be paid in annual installments, none of which may be more than 50% in excess of the smallest prior installment, commencing not more than two years from the date at which it was contracted (Section 2); (f) permitting, despite the foregoing requirement, debt contracted by New York City for water supply, rapid transit and dock construction, and for acquisition of land in connection with any of such purposes, to be financed by serial or sinking fund bonds with a maximum 50 year maturity (Section 2); (g) requiring annual appropriations by every county, city, town, village and school district for debt service purposes, and, if not made, requiring that revenues be set apart for and applied to such purposes (Section 2); (h) prohibiting creation of any municipal or other corporation (other than a county, city, town, village, school or fire district, or river improvement, river regulating or drainage district established or supervised by the department of conservation), possessing the power to contract debt and to levy taxes or benefit assessments on real estate or to require the levy thereof, provided that improvement districts in counties and towns may be created if the faith and credit of such counties or towns in which such districts are located be pledged for payment of the principal and interest on debt contracted for such district purposes, any such debt, if not excluded under other provisions of the article, to be included in ascertaining the power of such counties and towns to contract debt (Section 3); (i) prohibiting any such corporation now existing to contract further debt without the consent of the city or village within which, or of the town within the unincorporated area of which, any real estate may be subject to such taxes or assessments, any such debt, to the extent of the proportion of the real estate subject to such taxes or assessments situated within such city, village or unincorporated area of a town, to be included in determining the power of such governmental unit to contract debt if not excluded under other provisions of the article (Section 3); (j) extending to towns and villages the 10% debt limit on counties and cities, and changing the base for such debt limit from the assessed value of real estate subject to tax as shown by the last completed assessment roll prior to the contracting of debt, to an average of such value as shown by such roll and the four preceding assessment rolls; provided that the debt limit of all counties, other than Nassau County, and of all towns and villages on and after January 1, 1944 be reduced to 7%, and on and after January 1, 1949 to 5%; and that of all cities, except New York City, be reduced to 8½% and 7%, respectively, on such dates (Section 4); (k) authorizing exclusion of the indebtedness of a school district now partly within and partly without or conterminous with a city, and of a union free school district now wholly within but not conterminous with a city, in ascertaining the power of such city to contract debt (Section 5); (l) extending to towns and villages, as well as to counties and cities as now provided, the present authorization of exclusion from their debt limits of tax and revenue anticipation notes (clarified to include specifically delinquent taxes as well as taxes levied or to be levied, and moneys receivable from the State which have been or will be apportioned within one year after the issue of such notes) and extending to counties, towns and villages, as well as to cities as now provided, the present authorization of exclusion from their debt limits of indebtedness contracted for water supply (Section 5); (m) authorizing exclusion from the debt limits of counties, cities, towns and villages of debt heretofore or hereafter contracted for a public improvement or service which yielded during the preceding year net revenue, determined annually by deducting from gross revenues received therefrom costs, during such year, of operation, maintenance, repairs and replacements, and debt service charges, with power to the legislature to prescribe the method by which the amount of such debt to be excluded shall be determined and to confer appropriate jurisdiction on the appellate division to make such determination (Section 5); (n) authorizing the exclusion from the debt limits of counties, cities, towns and villages, now maintaining a pension or retirement system or fund, of serial bonds issued to place such system or fund on an acturial reserve basis, which system or fund shall thereafter be maintained on such basis by current payments to the reserve (Section 5); (o) continuing the present special exemptions from the debt limits of the cities of Buffalo and Rochester, but designating such cities by name and removing the present reference to cities of not less than 250,000 or more than 1,000,000 in population, and of the city of Syracuse, but removing the present reference to cities of not less than 175,000 or more than 250,000 in population (Section 6); (p) changing the present special exemptions from the debt limit of New York City by providing that the present exclusion of tax notes up to 1/10th of 1% of the assessed value of its real estate subject to tax shall be of such indebtedness (not issued for capital improvements) up to 1/10th of 1% of the average of such assessed value, determined as above provided; continuing the present proportionate exemption of debt incurred for dock purposes prior to January 1, 1910, but deleting the present proportionate exemption of debt incurred for rapid transit purposes (see proposed Amendment No. 9); and removing the requirement that any increase in the debt incurring power of New York City by reason of such exemption be available only for rapid transit or dock acquisitions or construction, by deleting the present special exemption for New York City of debt incurred for revenue producing public improvements (thereby making applicable to New York City the exemption for such purpose, described above, applicable to all counties, cities, towns and villages), and by continuing the present exemption of debt contracted for the construction or equipment of new rapid transit railroads, but making clear that the debt so exempted may not be used as a revolving fund (Section 7); (q) extending to indebtedness of counties, towns, villages or school districts the present provision, now applicable only to cities, that indebtedness valid at the time of its inception shall not become invalid by reason of the operation of the article (Section 8); (r) continuing the present provision that whenever a city includes one or more counties, the power of such counties to contract debt shall cease, but that such county indebtedness shall be treated for purposes of the article as city debt, and clarifying this provision so that it will also apply when in the future a county and city may become coterminous (Section 9); (s) changing the present tax rate limitation on counties having a city of over 100,000 inhabitants, and on such cities (which is 2% of the assessed valuation of real and personal property subject to taxation as shown by the last assessment roll, in addition to providing for debt service charges on county or city debt) to provide that such rate shall not exceed 2% of the average assessed value of such real property, determined as above provided, in addition to providing for debt service charges on all indebtedness, less taxes levied in such year for debt service charges on indebtedness referred to in items (l) and (n) above, or renewals thereof, and on certificates or other evidences of debt (except serial bonds of an issue having a maximum maturity of more than two years) issued for purposes other than the financing of capital improvements and contracted to be redeemed in one of the two fiscal years immediately succeeding the year of their issue, and extending such tax rate limitation as so amended to all other cities and to all villages on and after January 1, 1944 (Section 10); (t) permitting the legislature, notwithstanding the foregoing tax rate limitation, to exclude therefrom by general or special law in the case of a village or city of not more than 100,000 inhabitants, all or part of the amount raised by tax for educational purposes, and prescribing that the amount raised by tax on real estate for such purposes in a school district now partly within and partly without or coterminous with a city, or in a union free school district now wholly within or coterminous with a city, shall not be included in determining the tax limit of such city (Section 10); (u) permitting, whenever any such county, city or village is required by law to pay for all or any part of the cost of capital improvements by direct budgetary appropriation or by the issuance of certificates or other evidence of indebtedness (except serial bonds of an issue having a maximum maturity of more than two years) to be redeemed in one of the two immediately succeeding fiscal years, exclusion from the tax limit of such county, city or village, of taxes required for such appropriation or for the redemption of such certificates or other evidence of indebtedness, in which event the total amount so required shall be deemed to be debt to the same extent and in the manner as if such amount were financed through indebtedness payable in equal annual installments over the period of probable usefulness of such capital improvement, as determined by law, the amount to be deemed debt to be determined by the local fiscal officer, which determination the legislature may provide shall be conclusive if approved by the state comptroller (Section 11); and (v) permitting the legislature further to restrict the power of any county, city, town or village to borrow or to levy taxes on real estate, except the power to tax real estate for the payment of interest or principal of debt theretofore contracted. (Section 12)

2. To repeal present Section 5 of Article VIII, prohibiting the legislature from passing any law sanctioning the suspension of specie payments by any person, association or corporation issuing bank notes of any description, present Section 6, requiring the legislature to provide by law for the registry of all bills or notes issued or put in circulation as money and to require ample security for the redemption of the same in specie, and present Section 8 granting to billholders of any insolvent bank or banking association preference in payment over other creditors of such bank or association.

ARTICLE IX
LOCAL GOVERNMENTS

1. To transfer to Article IX the subject matter of present Sections 26, 27 and 28 of Article III, Sections 1 and 2 of Article X, Sections 1 to 3, inclusive, of Article XII and Section 6 of Article XIII.

2. (a) To restrict the power of the legislature in respect to all counties of the State by forbidding it to pass any law which shall be special or local in its terms or in its effect, or which shall relate specially to one county only, unless (1) upon the request of the board of supervisors or other elective governing body of each county to be affected, or, in any county having an alternative form of government providing for an elective county executive officer, upon the request of the board of supervisors or other elective governing body with the concurrence of such executive officer of each county to be affected, or (2) upon a certificate of necessity by the governor to the legislature reciting the facts of such necessity existing in the county to be affected, and the concurrence of two-thirds of the members elected to each house of the legislature; (b) to substitute for the existing provision that the boards of supervisors or other elective bodies of any two or more counties which shall have adopted an alternative form of government may by agreement provide for the discharge within the territorial limits of such counties or parts thereof of one or more governmental functions, the provision that the legislature may authorize boards of supervisors or other elective governing bodies of any two or more counties to so provide; (c) to require that if any alternative form of county government provides for the transfer of any function of local government to or from the cities, the towns or the villages of the county, or any class thereof, it shall not take effect with respect to such transfer unless the transfer or the form of government containing it shall also receive a majority of all the votes cast thereon in such cities, towns, villages or class thereof, as the case may be; (d) to delete the present restriction on the power of the legislature to pass special or local laws relating to the property, affairs or government of counties adopting an alternative form of government (to be covered by item (a) above); (e) to change the existing provision that, after the adoption of any such optional form of government, no law, special or local in its terms or in its effect, which abolishes or creates an elective office or changes the voting or vetoing power of or the method of removing an elective officer, changes the term of office or reduces the salary of an elective officer, changes the form or composition of an elective body of such county, or provides a new form of government for such county shall become effective without adoption by the electors of such county in the manner prescribed in proposed Section 1 (b) for the adoption of a form of government for such county pursuant thereto, and that nothing therein contained shall impair or restrict the power of the legislature to enact laws relating to matters other than the property, affairs or government of such county, to provide that, after the adoption of any such form of optional government no law enacted pursuant to the provisions set forth in item (e) of this paragraph which abolishes or creates an elective office or changes the voting or veto power of or the method of removing an elective officer, changes the term of office or reduces the salary of an elective officer during his term of office, abolishes, transfers or curtails any power of an elective officer or changes the form or composition of the elective body of such county shall become effective until at least sixty days after its final enactment and that, if within such sixty days electors of the county in number equal to at least 5% of the total number of votes cast in the county for governor at the last gubernatorial election shall file a petition with the county clerk or corresponding officer of the county protesting against such law, it shall become effective only if approved by the electors of such county at the next ensuing general election held at least sixty days thereafter, by receiving a majority of the total votes cast thereon in the county, and if the same provides for the transfer of any function of local government to or from the cities, the towns or the villages of the county, or any class thereof, that it shall not take effect with respect to such transfer unless the transfer or the law containing it shall also receive a majority of all the votes cast thereon in such cities, towns, villages or class thereof, as the case may be; and (f) to delete certain obsolete terms and otherwise conform the language to express the forgoing purposes. (Sections 1, 2 and 3)

3. (a) To direct that the duty now imposed on the legislature to provide for the organization of cities and unincorporated villages shall be exercised in such manner as to secure to them the powers granted to them by the constitution, and the duty now imposed on the legislature to restrict their power of taxation, assessment, borrowing money, contracting debt and loaning their credit, so as to prevent abuses in assessments and contracting debt, shall also be exercised so as to prevent abuses in taxation; (b) to change the existing requirement that the legislature act in relation to the property, affairs or government of cities only by general laws, in terms and effect applying alike to all cities, except on message from the governor declaring that an emergency exists and the concurrent action of two-thirds of the members of each house of the legislature, to a requirement that the legislature act in relation to the property, affairs or government of any city only by general laws in terms and effect applying alike to all cities, except on request of the mayor of the city affected concurred in by the local legislative body, or on request of two-thirds of the elected members of such legislative body declaring that a necessity exists and reciting the facts establishing such necessity and the concurrent action of two-thirds of the members of each house of the legislature; (c) to change the provision of present Section 5 of Article XII, that the legislature may by general laws confer on cities such further powers of local legislation and administration as it may deem expedient, to provide that the legislature may by general laws confer on cities such powers of local legislation and administration, in addition to the powers vested in cities by the article, as it may deem expedient, and may withdraw such powers; (d) to change the provision of present Section 3 of Article XII granting power to every city to adopt and amend local laws, not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of the State, relating to specified matters, to provide that every city shall have power to adopt and amend local laws, not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of the State, relating to its property, affairs or government and to adopt and amend local laws not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of the State, whether or not they relate to its property, affairs or government, in respect to the matters now specified in said Section 3, and in respect to the membership and constitution of its local legislative body, the ownership and operation of its transit facilities, and the collection and administration of local taxes authorized by the legislature, but excepting laws in respect to the powers, duties, qualifications, number, mode of selection and removal, terms of office and compensation of members of the governing elective body of the county in which such city is wholly contained; (e) to change the provision of present Section 3 of Article XII on the subject of local legislation to authorize every city to repeal, supersede, or modify any law enacted upon and which required, pursuant to the constitution, a message from the governor declaring that an emergency existed and the concurrent action of two-thirds of the members of each house of the legislature, insofar as the law relates to the property, affairs or government of such city, except that no city may, unless authorized by the legislature, (1) reduce any salary or compensation or change any working conditions or hours of employment if such salary, compensation, working conditions or hours of employment shall have been heretofore approved on referendum, except on approval of such reduction or change by a majority of the electors of the city voting thereon, or (2) repeal or supersede any law enacted by the legislature relating to any pension or retirement system or to the making and review of assessments or to the judicial review of dismissals from the civil service; (f) to change present Section 7 of Article XII which now provides that the provisions of the article shall not affect any existing provisions of law, but all existing charters and other laws shall continue in force until repealed, amended, modified or superseded in accordance with the article, to provide that the provisions of proposed Article IX shall not affect any existing provisions of law not inconsistent with the article, but all existing charters and other laws, so far as not inconsistent with the article, shall continue in force until repealed, amended, modified or superseded in accordance with the article; (g) to change the present provision of Section 7 of Article XII that nothing in the article shall apply to or affect the maintenance, support or administration of the public school systems in the several cities as required by present Article IX, to provide that nothing in the article shall apply to or affect or be deemed to restrict the power of the legislature in relation to the maintenance, support or administration of the public school systems in any city, as required by proposed Article XI, or any retirement system pertaining to such public school systems, counties not wholly contained within a city, counties wholly contained within the city of New York, except to the extent provided by proposed Section 3 of this article, or the courts as required by Article VI; and (h) to change the provision of present Section 2 of Article X to provide that the provisions of proposed Article IX shall not prevent the legislature from passing general or special laws prescribing or affecting powers and duties of such city officers or such courts or clerks to whom or which functions of such county officers shall have been assigned, insofar as such powers or duties embrace subjects not relating to the property, affairs or government of such city. (Sections 7-9 and 11-15, inclusive).

4. (a) To except judicial officers of inferior local courts from the requirement that all elections of city officers except to fill vacancies be held on the Tuesday succeeding the first Monday in November in an odd-numbered year and that the term of every such officer shall expire at the end of an odd-numbered year; (b) to extend, so as to include all counties wholly included in a city, the present provision that all elections of county officers in the counties of New York and Kings and in all counties whose boundries are the same as those of a city, except to fill vacancies, shall be held on the Tuesday succeeding the first Monday in November in an odd-numbered year and that the term of every such officer shall expire at the end of an odd-numbered year; and (c) to repeal certain obsolete provisions relating to terms of office of city and county officers elected before January 1, 1895. (Section 15)

5. (a) To require the legislature by general law on or before July 1, 1940, to confer on all villages having a population of 5,000 or more power to enact and amend local laws not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of the State relating to their property, affairs or government, subject to such limitations as the legislature by general laws may impose; (b) to permit the legislature thereafter to act in relation to the property, affairs or government of such villages only by general law applying in terms and effect alike to all such villages, except on request of the chief executive officer of the village affected concurred in by the local legislative body, or on message from the governor, in either case declaring that a necessity exists and reciting facts establishing such necessity and the concurrent action of two-thirds of the members of each house of the legislature; (c) to prohibit the legislature from authorizing a village to pass local laws repealing or modifying any legislative act relating to the civil service status of the employees of the village; and (d) to permit the legislature by general law to confer on such villages additional powers of local legislation and administration, and to withdraw such powers, the section, however, not to be deemed to restrict the power of the legislature to enact laws relating to matters other than the property, affairs or government of such villages. (Section 16)

ARTICLE X
CORPORATIONS

1. To transfer to Article X the provisions on the subject of corporations now contained in Sections 1, 2, 3 and 4 of Article VIII.

2. To prohibit the creation of any public corporation (other than a county, city, town, village, school district or fire district or an improvement district established in a town or towns) possessing both the power to contract indebtedness and the power to collect rentals, charges, rates or fees for the services or facilities furnished or supplied by it, except by special act of the legislature. (Section 5)

3. To prohibit giving to any such public corporation (other than a county or city) both the power to contract indebtedness and the power, within any city, to collect rentals, charges, rates or fees from the owners of real estate, or the occupants of real estate (other than the occupants of premises owned or controlled by such corporation or by the state or any civil division thereof) for services or facilities furnished or supplied in connection with such real estate, if such services or facilities are of a character or nature then or formerly furnished or supplied by the city, unless the electors of a city shall approve the granting to such corporation of such powers by a majority vote at a general or special election in such city, provided that the section shall not apply to a corporation created pursuant to an interstate compact. (Section 5)

4. To render the accounts of every such public corporation heretofore or hereafter created subject to the supervision of the state comptroller, or, if, the member or members of such public corporation are appointed by the mayor of a city, to the supervision of the comptroller of such city, provided, however, that such provision shall not apply to such a public corporation created pursuant to agreement or compact with another state or with a foreign power except with the consent of the parties to such agreement or compact, and to insure that neither State nor any political subdivision thereof shall at any time be liable for the payment of any obligations issued by such a public corporation heretofore or hereafter created, the State or a political subdivision thereof to be permitted, however, if authorized by the legislature, to acquire the properties of any such corporation and pay the indebtedness thereof. (Section 5)

ARTICLE XI
EDUCATION

1. To transfer to Article XI the provisions on the subject of education now contained in Article IX.

2. To change the present requirements that the revenue of the common school fund be applied to the support of common schools, that of the literature fund to the support of academies, and $25,000 annually of that of the United States Deposit Fund to the capital of the common school fund, to require that the revenues of all of said funds be applied to the support of common schools and libraries. (Section 3)

3. To except from the present prohibition against the State or any subdivision using its property or credit in aid, other than for examination or inspection, of any institution of learning wholly or partly under control or direction of any religious denomination or in which any religious doctrine is taught, the transportation of children to and from any school or institution of learning, if so provided by the legislature. (Section 4)

ARTICLE XII
MILITARY

1. To transfer to Article XII the provisions on the subject of the military now contained in Article XI.

2. To add to the membership of the State militia all able-bodied male residents of the State between the ages of eighteen and forty-five who have or shall have declared their intention to become citizens of the United States, and to substitute for the present provision that membership in the militia shall be subject to such exemptions as are now or may be hereafter created by the laws of the United States or by the legislature of this State, a provision that the membership in the militia shall be subject to such exceptions and exemptions as are now or may be hereafter created by the laws of the United States or by the legislature of this State. (Section 1)

3. To establish in the militia an air force, in addition to land and naval forces now provided for, to consist of such members of the militia as the legislature may deem proper. (Section 3)

4. To substitute for the present requirement that the governor appoint the chiefs of the several staff departments, his aides-de-camp and military secretary, to hold office during his pleasure and whose commissions shall expire with the term for which the governor shall have been elected, a requirement that the governor shall appoint the adjutant-general. (Section 4)

5. To substitute for the present requirement that all commissioned and non-commissioned officers of the militia except the chiefs of the several staff departments, the governor's aides-de-camp and military secretary, shall be chosen or appointed in such manner as the legislature may deem most conducive to the improvement of the militia, provided that no law shall be passed changing the existing mode of election and appointment unless two-thirds of the members present in each house shall concur therein, the requirement that all commissioned and non-commissioned officers with the exception of the adjutant-general and major-generals be appointed as provided by law. (Section 5)

ARTICLE XIII
PUBLIC OFFICERS

1. To transfer to Article XIII various provisions on the subject of public officers now contained in Sections 3 to 9 inclusive of Article X.

2. (a) To delete a provision requiring all members of the legislature and all executive and judicial officers, except such inferior officers as shall be exempted by law, who shall have been chosen at any election, before entering on the duties of their respective offices, to include in their respective oaths of office the oath or affirmation that he has not directly or indirectly paid, offered or promised to pay, contribute, or offered or promised to contribute any money or valuable thing as a consideration or reward for the giving or withholding a vote at the election at which he was elected to such office and has not made any promise to influence the giving or withholding of any such vote, and (b) to permit any committee of a political party to provide by rule for equal representation of the sexes on any such committee and to permit a state convention of a political party, at which candidates for public office are nominated, to provide by rule for equal representation of the sexes on any committee of such party. (Section 1)

3. To require that the legislature assemble every year on the first Wednesday after the first Monday in January, instead of on the first Wednesday of January, as at present. (Section 9)

ARTICLE XIV CONSERVATION

1. To transfer to Article XIV provisions on the subject of conservation now contained in Sections 7 and 7-a of Article VII.

2. (a) To amend present Section 7, which states the principle of inalienability of state owned forest preserves, by deleting the reservation of authority, in the State therein contained to construct state highways from Saranac lake to Long lake and Old Forge and from Wilmington to the top of Whiteface mountain, and to amend present Section 7-a by repealing a like reservation of authority to build a state highway from Indian Lake to Speculator, and by substituting in lieu thereof a reservation of authority to construct or complete any highway hitherto specifically authorized by constitutional amendment, (b) to make the provision in present Section 7 that a violation of any provisions of the section may be restrained at the suit of the people or, with the consent of the appellate division of the supreme court, at the suit of any citizen on notice to the attorney-general, applicable to any violation of the new article, (c) to repeal in its entirety existing Section 16, which provides for annual appropriations of State funds for an eleven year period beginning at $1,000,000 and increasing $200,000 annually for the next five years, for the acquisition of State lands for reforestation and for tree nurseries and the expense of reforestation, and which contains a duplication of the statement of the principle of inalienability of lands owned or to be owned by the State constituting the forest preserve, and to substitute in lieu thereof a declaration that wild life conservation and reforestation are policies of the State, and an authorization to the legislature to appropriate for such policies money for acquisition of State lands, outside the Adirondack and Catskill parks as now fixed by law, for forestry or wild life management. As to such lands heretofore or hereafter acquired within the forest preserve counties, the prohibitions of present Section 7 as proposed to be amended are made inapplicable, except that such lands may not be leased, sold or exchanged, or be taken by any public or private corporation. (Sections 1—4)

ARTICLE XV
CANALS

1. To transfer to Article XV provisions on the subject of canals now contained in Sections 8, 9 and 10 of Article VII.

2. (a) To eliminate from said provisions certain duplications and certain provisions expressly excepting from the prohibition of lease, sale or other disposition of the canals the canal known as the Main and Hamburg street canal situated in the city of Buffalo, that portion of the Erie canal between Rome and Mohawk, the barge terminal canal lands situated at the foot of West Fifty-third street and the Hudson or North river in the borough of Manhattan and city of New York, and specified portions of the Erie canal in the city of Utica and in the county of Herkimer (Section 1); (b) to change the existing provision that the legislature shall not sell, lease, or otherwise dispose of the Erie, Oswego, Champlain, Cayuga and Seneca or the Black River canals, but that they shall remain the property of the State and under its management forever, to a requirement that the legislature shall not sell, lease, abandon or otherwise dispose of the now existing or future improved barge canal, the divisions of which are the Erie, Oswego, Champlain and Cayuga and Seneca canals, or of the terminals, constructed as part of the barge canal system or of any portion of the canal system existing prior to the barge canal improvement which portion forms a part of, or functions as a part of, the present canal system, but that such canals and terminals shall remain the property of the State and under its management and control forever, such prohibition, however, not to prevent the legislature, by appropriate laws, from authorizing the granting of revocable permits for the occupancy or use of such lands or structures or prevent the sale, abandonment or other disposition of barge canal lands, barge canal terminals or barge canal terminal lands which have or may become no longer necessary or useful for canal or terminal purposes, or any canal lands and appertaining structures constituting the canal system prior to the barge canal improvement which have or may become no longer necessary or useful in conjunction with the now existing barge canal, and a provision empowering the legislature to authorize by appropriate legislation the sale, exchange, abandonment or other disposition of any barge canal lands, barge canal terminals, barge canal terminal lands or other canal lands and appertaining structures which have or may become no longer necessary or useful as a part of the barge canal system, as an aid to navigation thereon, or for barge canal terminal purposes (Sections 1 and 2; (c) to substitute for the present provision that all funds derived from any lease, sale or other disposition of any canal shall be applied to the improvement, superintendence or repair of the remaining portion of the canals, a provision that all funds derived from any sale or other disposition of any barge canal lands, barge canal terminals, barge canal terminal lands or other canal lands and appertaining structures shall be paid into the general fund of the treasury (Section 2); (d) to eliminate from the provision that the legislature shall annually make provision for the expenses of the superintendence and repairs of the canals, a clause that such provision be by equitable taxes (Section 3); (e) to substitute the superintendent of public works for the canal board as the officer authorized, upon application of the contractor, to cancel contracts for the improvement of the canals the terms of which shall prove to be unjust and oppressive (Section 3); and (f) to eliminate a provision authorizing the creation of a debt for the improvement of the canals or, in the alternative, that the cost of such improvement be defrayed by the appropriation of funds from the State treasury or by equitable annual taxes.

ARTICLE XVI
TAXATION

1. (a) To forbid the surrender, suspension, or contracting away of the power of taxation, except as to securities issued for public purposes pursuant to law (Section 1); (b) to require that any laws which delegate the taxing power specify the types of taxes which may be imposed thereunder and provide for their review (Section 1); (c) to forbid exemptions from taxation except by general laws (Section 1); (d) to permit the alteration or repeal of any exemptions from taxation except those exempting real or personal property used exclusively for religious, educational or charitable purposes as defined by law and owned by any corporation or association organized or conducted exclusively for one or more of such purposes and not operating for profit (Section 1); (e) to require the legislature to provide for the supervision, review and equalization of assessments for purposes of taxation, such assessments in no case to exceed full value (Section 2); (f) to provide that nothing in the Constitution shall be deemed to prevent the legislature from providing for the assessment, levy and collection of village taxes by the taxing authorities of those subdivisions of the State in which lands comprising the respective villages are located, nor from providing that the respective counties may loan or advance to any village located in whole or in part within such county the amount of any tax which shall have been levied for village purposes upon any lands located within such county and remaining unpaid (Section 2); (g) to require that moneys, credits, securities and other intangible personal property within the State not employed in carrying on any business therein by the owner be treated as located at the domicile of the owner for purposes of taxation and that, if held in trust, such intangible property shall not be treated as located in this State for purposes of taxation because of the trustee being domiciled in this State, provided that if no other state has jurisdiction to subject such property held in trust to death taxation, it may be treated as property having a taxable situs within this State for purposes of death taxation (Section 3); (h) to forbid that intangible personal property be taxed ad valorem or subjected to any excise tax solely because of the ownership or possession thereof, except that the income therefrom may be taken into consideration in computing any excise tax measured by income generally (Section 3); (i) to forbid the taxation of undistributed profits (Section 3); (j) to forbid discrimination in the rates and methods of taxation between corporations incorporated under the laws of the United States which the State has power to tax and other corporations exercising substantially similar functions and engaged in substantially similar business within the State (Section 4); and (k) to render subject to taxation all salaries, wages and other compensation except pensions, paid to officers and employees of the State and its subdivisions and agencies. (Section 5)

ARTICLE XVII
SOCIAL WELFARE

1. To transfer to this article the subject matter of present Sections 11, 12, 13 and 15 of Article VIII.

2. (a) To ordain that the aid, care and support of the needy are public concerns, which shall be provided by the State and by such of its subdivisions, and in such manner and by such means, as the legislature may from time to time determine (Section 1); and to require the board of social welfare to visit and inspect, or cause to be visited and inspected by members of its staff, all public and private institutions, whether state, county, municipal, incorporated or not incorporated, which are in receipt of public funds and which are of a charitable, eleemosynary, correctional or reformatory character, including all reformatories for juveniles and institutions or agencies exercising custody of dependent, neglected or delinquent children, but excepting such institutions for the education and support of the blind, the deaf and the dumb, and excepting also such institutions as are by other sections made subject to the visitation and inspection of the department of mental hygiene or the state commission of correction (Section 2); (c) to require the state board of social welfare to make inspections, or cause inspections to be made by any members of its staff, of institutions, whether incorporated or not incorporated, having inmates, but not in receipt of public funds, which are of a charitable, eleemosynary, correctional or reformatory character, and agencies, whether incorporated or not incorporated, not in receipt of public funds, which exercise custody of dependent, neglected or delinquent children, but solely as to matters directly affecting the health, safety, treatment and training of their inmates or of the children under their custody (Section 2); (d) to authorize the state board of social welfare, subject to the control of the legislature and pursuant to the procedure prescribed by general law, to make rules and regulations, not inconsistent with the Constitution, with respect to all of the functions, powers and duties with which the department and the said board are or shall be charged (Section 2); (e) to ordain that the protection and promotion of the health of the inhabitants of the State are matters of public concern, provision for which shall be made by the State and by such of its subdivisions and in such manner and by such means as the legislature shall from time to time determine (Section 3); (f) to authorize the State and local authorities, in such manner, as the legislature may from time to time determine, to provide for the care and treatment of persons suffering from mental disorder or defect and for the protection of the mental health of the inhabitants of the State (Section 4); (g) to require the head of the department of mental hygiene to visit and inspect, or cause to be visited and inspected by members of his staff, institutions either public or private used for the care and treatment of persons suffering from mental disorder or defect (Section 4); (h) to authorize the legislature to provide for the maintenance and support of institutions for the detention of persons charged with or convicted of crime and for systems of probation and parole of persons convicted of crime (Section 5); (i) to require the state commission of correction, which is continued, to visit and inspect, or cause to be visited and inspected by members of its staff, all institutions used for the detention of sane adults charged with or convicted of crime (Section 5); and (j) to permit, in addition to the visitation and inspection required by the article, such other visitation and inspection as now or hereafter may be authorized by law. (Section 6)

ARTICLE XIX
AMENDMENTS TO CONSTITUTION

1. To transfer to Article XIX the provisions on the subject of constitutional amendments now contained in Sections 1, 2 and 3 of Article XIV.

2. (a) To require that, upon any amendment or amendments to the constitution being proposed in the senate and assembly, such amendment or amendments be referred to the attorney-general whose duty it shall be within twenty days thereafter to render an opinion in writing to the senate and assembly as to the affect of such amendment or amendments upon other provisions of the constitution (Section 1); (b) to change the provision that if any such amendment or amendments shall be agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two houses, such proposed amendment or amendments shall be entered on their journals, and the yeas and nays taken thereon, and referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, to require that, upon receiving such opinion of the attorney-general, if the amendment or amendments as proposed or as amended shall be agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two houses, such proposed amendment or amendments shall be entered on their journals, and the ayes and noes taken thereon, and referred to the next regular legislative session convening after the succeeding general election of members of the assembly (Section 1); (c) to change the provision that if in the legislature so next chosen as aforesaid, such proposed amendment or amendments shall be agreed to by a majority of all the members elected to each house, the legislature submit such proposed amendment or amendments to the people for approval in such manner and at such times as the legislature shall prescribe, to require that if in such legislative session, such proposed amendment or amendments shall be agreed to by a majority of all the members elected to each house, the legislature submit such proposed amendment or amendments to the people for approval in such manner and at such times as the legislature shall prescribe (Section 1); (d) to require that any amendment or amendments which shall be ratified by the people become a part of the constitution on the first day of January next after such approval, instead of from and after the first day of January, as presently provided (Section 1); (e) to require that the question "Shall there be a convention to revise the constitution and amend the same?" shall next be submitted to and decided by the electors of the state at the general election to be held in the year 1957 (Section 2); (f) to delete certain obsolete provisions in relation thereto; (f) to authorize del-

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press

Souvenirs

Harrisburg, Pa.—Detective John Abrams walked through a special train carrying 1,400 returning high school football fans when it stopped at a station.

"If any of you took anything which didn't belong to you from any place in Harrisburg," he announced, "just lay it beside you on the seat and I'll be back in about five minutes."

When Abrams returned he picked up beer mugs, salt and pepper shakes, false faces, glue and red ink.

Honeymoon Special

Terre Haute, Ind.—Mestre K. Radicali, 21-year-old Robles, Calif., cafe owner, rode 3,000 miles on a motorcycle to marry Miss Georgia Taylor, 19, here.

For a honeymoon they planned a return trip to California—on the motorcycle.

Protective Custody

Kansas City—"My car has been stolen," James Sawtelle of Denver telephoned frantically to police.

"Well, not quite," replied the clerk, "come and get it."

Detectives has frightened two men who were attempting to steal the machine and then drove it into the police garage because the keys were in the ignition switch.

Narrow Margin

Kansas City—For more than a year William J. Walker, stationed on the U. S. S. San Francisco at Long Beach, Calif., saved and sent money to Miss Elizabeth Blanchard to finance their wedding and a trip back to the coast.

Walker arrived and Miss Blanchard drew the money from the bank. Later it disappeared—stolen by a sneak thief.

The couple went ahead with the wedding, but they found they had only $1 to finance their trip to California.

Walker is still trying to figure a way.

MT. TREMPER

Mt. Tremper, Oct. 29 — There was a special school meeting held at the school house Wednesday evening, October 26. The district voted to construct a new fence around the school grounds.

(5) To require that (a) at its first regular session after the election held in 1946, and after the election held in each successive twelfth year thereafter, the legislature reapportion by law, subject to the provisions of the article, the members of assembly among the several counties, according to the vote cast for governor at the election next preceding such reapportionment, and by the same law establish the senate districts and provide that the board of supervisors in any county having such a board to which is apportioned more than one assembly member, shall establish the assembly districts therein equal to the number of members to which it is entitled, and in any county not having a board of supervisors, to which is apportioned more than one member of the assembly, establish assembly districts therein equal to the number to which it is entitled, or provide that such districts be established by an elected body exercising powers within such county similar to those of a board of supervisors, or if any such county is wholly within the boundaries of a city, by the city council or the body exercising powers similar to those of a city council, (b) that senate districts hereafter established or altered by the legislature be as nearly equal as may be in the number of voters, determined according to the vote cast therein for governor at such next preceding election, and consist of convenient and contiguous territory and be in as compact form as practicable; provided that not more than four counties shall be included in a single senate district, that no county be divided in establishing a senate district except to make two or more senate districts wholly within a county, that counties wholly within a city not have together more than one-half the total number of senators, that no town, except in Nassau county, be divided in establishing a senate district, that no district contain a greater excess in number of such voters over an adjoining district within the same county than the number of such voters in a town therein adjoining such district, that towns which from their location may be included in either of two senate districts be so placed as to make such districts most nearly equal in number of such voters, and that any county having more voters, determined by the vote so cast for governor, than the amount of the quotient obtained by dividing the number of voters in the State, determined by the vote so cast for governor, by 53 be alone entitled to at least one senator, but that no county alone be allotted a senator unless the number of such voters therein is at least two-thirds of such quotient, and that no county shall have four or more senators unless it shall have the amount of such full quotient for each senator, (c) that every county heretofore or hereafter established and separately organized have at least one assembly member, except Hamilton county which shall be so entitled in certain instances, and that on a reapportionment of members of assembly each county shall have one member, except Hamilton and Fulton counties which together shall have one member, unless Hamilton county shall become entitled to one member, and that each county having 36,000 or more voters, determined by the vote cast for governor at the election next preceding such reapportionment, have two members, the remaining members to be allotted to counties having 72,000 or more of such voters in a ratio which shall be the quotient obtained by dividing the total number of voters above 72,000 in such counties by the number of unallotted members, each such county to be allotted one additional member for each such full ratio in excess of 72,000, and, if there remain members to be allotted, that they be allotted to the counties having the highest remainders of such voters in excess of such full ratios, in the order thereof, provided that no county may have ten or more members unless it has a full ratio for each member, that assembly districts within a county be established as nearly equal as may be in the number of voters, determined by the vote cast for governor at such next preceding election (except that, in establishing districts pursuant to proposed Section 4 the vote cast for governor in 1936 shall be used), and consist of convenient and contiguous territory and be in as compact form as possible, that in counties having more than one senate district, the same number of assembly districts be established in each senate district unless the assembly districts cannot be divided evenly among such senate districts, in which case they shall be so established that each of the senate districts in such county having the larger number of voters, in the order thereof beginning with the largest, shall have one more assembly district, that no town, except in Nassau county, be divided in establishing any assembly district, nor any assembly district contain a greater excess of voters over an adjoining district within the same senate district than the number of such voters in a town therein adjoining such assembly district; that towns which from their location may be included in either of two assembly districts be so placed as to make such districts most nearly equal in the number of voters;

(6) To render a reapportionment of members of assembly and establishment of senate and assembly districts subject to review by the supreme court on suit of any citizen begun within six months after such reapportionment and establishment, under such reasonable regulations as the legislature may prescribe; and to require any court before which a cause may be brought involving the same to give it precedence and, if not in session, to convene promptly for disposition of the same (Section 5);

(7) To require that, if the legislature fails to reapportion members of assembly and establish senate districts at either of the two regular sessions next succeeding a gubernatorial election, such reapportionment and establishment be made by a commission, to consist of one member from each judicial district of the State, to be appointed by a majority of the supreme court justices in each district not less than 31 nor more than 90 days after adjournment of the latter of such sessions, or if at the time of such adjournment there be pending, or afterwards begun, a review of a reapportionment of members of assembly and establishment of senate districts made by or pursuant to a law enacted by the legislature, and on such review such reapportionment and establishment shall be finally determined invalid, then that such commission be appointed within 90 days after the entry of the order or judgment of final determination; and to require such commission to file a certificate in the department of state, stating a plan for reapportionment and establishment of senate districts in accordance with the section, which plan shall be submitted to the people at the next general election held not less than 60 days after such certificate is filed, and shall become law effective at the expiration of the terms of the senators then in office, or the senators, if any, elected at such election, if it receives a majority of votes cast thereon (Section 5); and

(8) To continue the present provision that nothing in Section 5 shall prevent the division of counties and towns nor the erection of new towns by the legislature. (Section 5)

FORM OF SUBMISSION OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 2

ABSTRACT OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 3

In relation to Elimination of Grade Crossings

The purposes and effects of this proposed amendment to Article VII, Section 14 are (1) to permit moneys heretofore authorized to be borrowed for the elimination of railroad crossings at grade to be used, in addition, for incidental improvements connected with such elimination as authorized by the section as to be amended, (2) to require that the expense of any such grade crossing elimination the construction work for which was not commenced before January 1, 1939, including incidental improvements connected therewith as authorized by the section as to be amended, whether or not an order for such elimination shall theretofore have been made, be paid by the State in the first instance, but that the State be entitled to recover from the railroad company or companies, by way of reimbursement, the entire amount of the railroad improvements not an essential part of elimination, and the amount of the net benefit to the company or companies from the elimination exclusive of such railroad improvements, the amount of such benefit to be adjudicated after the completion of the work in the manner to be prescribed by law, and in no event to exceed 15% of the expense of the elimination, exclusive of all incidental improvements, such reimbursement by the railroad companies to be payable at such times, in such manner and with interest at such rate as the legislature may prescribe, (3) to require that the expense of any such grade crossing elimination the construction work for which was commenced before January 1, 1939, be borne by the State, railroad companies and the municipality or municipalities in the proportions presently prescribed by the section (viz: 50% by the railroad and 50% by the State and its subdivisions) and the law or laws enacted pursuant thereto applicable to such elimination, and subject to the provisions of such section and law or laws, including advances in aid of any railroad company or municipality, although such elimination not be completed until after January 1, 1939, (4) to require that a grade crossing elimination the construction work for which shall be commenced after January 1, 1939, include incidental improvements rendered necessary or desirable because of such elimination and reasonably included in the engineering plans therefor, and (5) to require that, out of the balance of all moneys authorized to be expended under the section as to be amended, and remaining unexpended and unobligated on July 1, 1938, $50,000,000 shall be deemed segregated for grade crossing eliminations and incidental improvements in the city of New York and shall be available only for such purposes until such eliminations and improvements are completed and paid for.

FORM OF SUBMISSION OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 3

Shall the proposed amendment, submitted by the Constitutional Convention in relation to the elimination of railroad grade crossings, be approved?

ABSTRACT OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 4

In relation to Low Rent Housing and Slum Clearance

ARTICLE XVIII

HOUSING

The purposes and effects of this proposed amendment adding a new Article (to constitute Article XVIII if Amendment No. 1 is approved, otherwise to constitute Article VII-A), are (1) to authorize the legislature to provide for low rent housing for persons of low income as defined by law, or for the clearance, replanning, reconstruction and rehabilitation of substandard and insanitary areas, or for both such purposes, and for recreational and other facilities incidental or appurtenant thereto (Section 1); (2) to empower the legislature, in aid of such purposes, to make or authorize capital or periodic subsidies by the State to any city, town, village or public corporation (defined for purposes of the article as any corporate governmental agency, except a county or municipal corporation, organized to accomplish any or all of the purposes of the article) payable only with moneys appropriated from the general fund, to authorize contracting of debt to provide funds for loans by the State to any city, town, village or public corporation, to authorize loans by the State to or in aid of corporations regulated by law as to rents, profits, dividends and disposition of their property or franchises and engaged in providing housing facilities, to grant or authorize tax exemptions, for not more than sixty years, and to grant the power of eminent domain to any city, town, village, public corporation or corporation regulated as above provided and engaged in providing housing facilities (Section 2); (3) to empower the legislature, in aid of such purposes, to authorize any city, town, or village (a) to make capital or periodic subsidies to any public corporation, payable only with moneys appropriated from the general or other fund of such municipality available for current expenses, (b) to make loans to any public corporation, to or in aid of corporations regulated by law as to rents, profits, dividends and disposition of their property or franchises and engaged in providing housing facilities, and to owners of existing multiple dwellings for rehabilitation and improvement thereof for occupancy by persons of low income as defined by law, and (c) to guarantee principal and interest, or only interest, on debt contracted by a public corporation (Section 2); (4) to render applicable to State debt contracted for purposes of this article the provisions of Article VII not inconsistent with this article except (a) that laws authorizing State debt not exceeding $300,000,000 shall take effect without submission to the people, and a greater amount of State debt may not be authorized prior to January 1, 1942; (b) that any such debt shall be paid in equal annual installments commencing not more than three and ending not more than 50 years after the contracting thereof; and (c) that any law authorizing the contracting thereof may be submitted at a general election irrespective of submission thereat of any other law or bill; (5) to permit any law authorizing payment by the State of capital or periodic subsidies to take effect without submission to the people, the amount payable to be excluded in ascertaining the amount of State debt which may be contracted under the article, provided that periodic subsidies by the State not be paid for longer than the life of the projects aided thereby and for not more than 60 years, and that no contracts therefor be entered into in one year requiring payments of more than $1,000,000 per year and that there not be outstanding at any one time contracts requiring payments exceeding $5,000,000 per year, except on approval at a general election of a law authorizing an excess (Section 3); (6) to empower the legislature to authorize any city, town or village to contract debt up to 2% of the average assessed value of its real estate subject to tax, determined by the last completed assessment roll and the four preceding assessment rolls for city, town or village taxes prior to the contracting thereof, providing that debt contracted under the article be excluded in ascertaining the power of a city to contract debt under any other section of the constitution, and that in determining the power of a city to contract debt under the article there be excluded such debt if the project aided by guarantees representing the same, or by loans for which the same was contracted, shall have yielded during the preceding year net revenue, to be determined annually by deducting from gross revenues, including periodic subsidies, received therefrom, costs of operation, maintenance, repairs and replacements, interest on such debt and the amounts required in such year for payment of such debt provided, in the case of guarantees, that such interest and amounts be paid, and in the case of loans such interest and amounts be paid to the city; and to permit the legislature to prescribe the method of determining the amount of such exclusion and to confer jurisdiction on the appellate division to make such determination (Section 4); (7) to require that the liability of a city, town or village for capital or periodic subsidies payable subsequent to the then current year be deemed debt, for the purpose of ascertaining the power of such city, town or village to contract debt, in the amount of the commuted value thereof remaining unpaid computed at a 4% annual interest rate, and to prohibit such periodic subsidies to be contracted for longer than the life of the projects assisted thereby, and for not more than 60 years (Section 4); (8) to prohibit the legislature from authorizing any city to contract debt in excess of the limitations imposed by any other article, unless it shall at the same time require such city to levy annually taxes, other than an ad valorem tax on real estate sufficient to pay principal and interest on such debt; provided that nothing in the article contained shall prevent such city from pledging its faith and credit for such payment, nor shall any such law prevent recourse to an ad valorem tax on real estate to the extent that revenue derived from such other taxes, together with revenues from projects aided by the proceeds of such debt, become insufficient to provide fully for such payment (Section 4); (9) to render cities, towns and village liable for repayment of loans and interest thereon made by the State to any public corporation acting as an instrumentality of such cities, towns or villages, but to exclude such liability from the debt limit of a city under this article except on default in payment of such loans, whereupon the unpaid balance thereof shall be included in such debt limit; and to prohibit any subsidy, other than capital or periodic subsidies originally contracted for in aid of projects under this article, by the State to a city, town, village or public corporation, acting as an instrumentality thereof, for the purpose of remedying or avoiding a default in payment of principal or interest on such a loan by the State pursuant to this article (Section 5); (10) to prohibit loans or subsidies by the State to aid any project unless such project conforms to a plan or undertaking for the clearance, replanning and reconstruction or rehabilitation of a sub-standard and insanitary area and for recreational and other facilities incidental or appurtenant thereto, and to require that occupancy thereof be restricted to persons of low income as defined by law and that preference be given to persons who live or shall have lived in such areas (Section 6); (11) to require that the liability on any guarantee of principal and interest on indebtedness of a public corporation be deemed debt in the amount of the unpaid principal thereof, and the liability on any guarantee of only the interest on such indebtedness be deemed debt in the amount of the commuted value of all interest guaranteed and unpaid, computed on an annual interest rate of 4% (Section 7); (12) to empower the legislature to authorize any State agency or any city, town, village or public corporation empowered by law to condemn private property for any public purpose specified in the article, to take property necessary for such purpose but in excess of that required for public use after such purpose be accomplished, and to improve and use such excess for any other public purpose, or to lease or sell such excess with restrictions (Section 8); and (13) to empower the State, or any city, town, village or public corporation to acquire or condemn property deemed ultimately necessary or proper to effectuate the purposes of the article, though temporarily not so required, all subject to the condition that nothing in the article shall be deemed to authorize the State, or any city, town, village or public corporation to engage in private business other than the building and operation of low rent dwelling houses for persons of low income as defined by law, or the loaning of money to owners of existing multiple dwellings. (Sections 9 and 10)

FORM OF SUBMISSION OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 4

Shall the proposed amendment, submitted by the Constitutional Convention in relation to low rent housing and slum clearance, authorizing the contracting of state debt up to $300,000,000 for loans, the expanding of the debt limit of cities by two per cent, and authorizing the granting of subsidies, be approved?

ABSTRACT OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 5

In relation to Judiciary

ARTICLE VI

JUDICIARY

The purposes and effects of this proposed amendment to Article VI are (1) to increase from nine to ten the number of judicial districts of the State, the same to continue as presently constituted except that the Second District shall consist of the counties of Kings, Queens and Richmond only, and a new Tenth District of the Counties of Nassau and Suffolk, said last named counties to continue to be a part of the second judicial department until changed as in said article provided (Section 1); (2) to authorize the legislature, once after every census or enumeration, federal or state, by a two-thirds vote of each house, to alter, or increase or diminish the number of, judicial districts and, upon any change in the districts being made, to reapportion the justices elected in the district altered (Section 1); (3) to require that a majority of the justices designated to sit in each appellate division at all times be justices elected in a district within the department (Section 2); (4) to permit a justice to withdraw from service in the appellate division by filing with the governor a certificate that he elects to terminate his designation (Section 2); (5) to permit the appellate division in any department to transfer any pending cause or proceeding to the appellate division of any other department whenever it shall deem that reason exists why it should not determine the same (Section 2); (6) to substitute for certain obsolete provisions respecting jurisdiction of the several appellate divisions, the provision that, except as in said article otherwise provided, they shall have and exercise such original or appellate jurisdiction as they now possess, and such additional jurisdiction as may hereafter be prescribed by law (Section 2); (7) to authorize a justice of the appellate division resident in any county in which there is no other resident supreme court justice to hear and determine ex parte applications and grant and enter default judgments (Section 2); (8) to substitute for the provisions that the Court of Appeals and each appellate division shall have power to appoint and remove their clerks and attendants, the provisions that each such court shall have power to appoint and remove its clerks, attendants, assistants and other employees (Sections 2 and 5); (9) to change the provision authorizing the justices of the appellate division in each department to fix the times and places for holding special and trial terms of the supreme court therein, to include other terms of the supreme court than trial and special terms, and clarify the provision authorizing the appellate divisions to make rules therefor (Section 2); (10) to continue the appellate terms of the supreme court in the first and second departments, subject to the power of the appellate division in each department to discontinue at any time the appellate term in its department (Section 3); (11) to authorize the legislature to provide that, in addition to the powers and duties now conferred by law upon official referees of the court of appeals and of the supreme court, any such official referee who may have been an elected judge of the court of appeals or an elected justice of the supreme court may be temporarily assigned by the respective appellate divisions to hold trial and special terms of the supreme court with or without a jury, with the powers and duties of a justice of the supreme court while so assigned (Section 4); (12) to extend the jurisdiction of the court of appeals in respect to the review of the facts when the appellate division, on reversing or modifying, finds new facts, to include appeals from interlocutory as well as final judgments and orders (Section 7); (13) to include in the instances in which appeals to the court of appeals may be taken as of right, appeals from an order of the appellate division granting a new hearing in a special proceeding, as well as a new trial in an action, where the appellant stipulates that, upon affirmance, judgment absolute or final order shall be rendered against him (Section 7); (14) to permit applications for allowance of appeals to the court of appeals from a final judgment in an action or a final order in a special proceeding to be made to either the appellate division or the court of appeals in the first instance, but if first made to the court of appeals, no subsequent application may be made to the appellate division (Section 7); (15) to permit an appeal to be taken to the court of appeals as of right from a judgment or order entered upon the decision of an appellate division of the supreme court in any civil case or proceeding originally commenced in any court other than the supreme court, a county court, a surrogate's court or the court of claims wherein is directly involved the construction of the constitution of the State or of the United States (Section 7); (16) to substitute for the present provision that the legislature may further restrict the jurisdiction of the court of appeals and the right of appeal thereto, a provision authorizing the legislature to abolish the right of appeal to the court of appeals from a judgment or order entered upon the decision of an appellate division of the supreme court which finally determines an action or special proceeding, where one or more of the justices of the appellate division dissents from the decision of the court, or where the judgment or order is one of reversal or modification, except in an action or special proceeding wherein is directly involved a construction of the constitution of the State or of the United States, in the event of which abolishment such appeals may nevertheless be taken upon the same being allowed by the court of appeals or the appellate division as described in item (14) above (Section 7); (17) to incorporate in the constitution specific authority for the court of appeals to make and enforce rules and regulations for the admission of attorneys and counselors at law and for their control, regulation and discipline, and specific authority to delegate to the appellate division of the supreme court in the respective departments the administration and enforcement of such rules and regulations (Section 8); (18) to require that, whenever an appeal is decided by an appellate court without opinion, the court briefly state the grounds of its decision (Section 9); (19) to authorize the court of appeals, either upon its own motion or upon the recommendation of the appellate division of the department in which the justice, judge or surrogate resides, to remove a justice of the supreme court, a judge of the court of claims, a surrogate or special surrogate, a judge of a court of general sessions, a county judge or special county judge, or a justice of the city court of the city of New York for cause and to retire any such judicial officer for permanent mental or physical disability preventing the performance of his judicial duties, provided, however, that no justice, judge or surrogate shall be so removed or retired unless he shall have first been served with a written notice of the proceeding therefor and a statement of the cause or disability alleged and shall have been given an opportunity to be heard, such removal for cause to be upon the concurrence of five of the elected judges of the court of appeals (Section 10); (20) to authorize the appellate division of the department in which the judge or justice resides to remove for cause or retire for permanent mental or physical disability preventing the performance of judicial duties any justice of the municipal court of the city of New York, any judge or justice of a court of inferior local jurisdiction and any justice of the peace in the manner described in item (19) above (Section 10); (21) to authorize the legislature to provide compensation for all judicial officers mentioned in items (19) and (20) above who are retired for disability in accordance therewith (Section 10); (22) to remove from Section 11 dealing with county courts certain obsolete references to county courts and county judges of the counties of Kings, Queens, Bronx and Richmond; (23) to increase the jurisdiction of the county courts in actions for the recovery of money to embrace actions in which the complaint demands judgment for a sum not exceeding $3,000 and interest, now limited to $3,000 including interest (Section 12); (24) to authorize a special county judge to hold the county court in any other county when requested by the county judge of such other county upon the consent of the presiding justice of the appellate division of the judicial department within which the judge so requested resides (Section 12); (25) to substitute the appellate division for the governor as the authority empowered to designate a county judge of another county to hold the county court in a county having no special county judge when the county judge thereof has died or is absent or incapacitated (Section 12); (26) to permit any county judge to be assigned temporarily to hold any term or session of the supreme court, or of a surrogate's court outside of the city of New York, by the appellate division of the supreme court in the judicial department to which the assignment is made, but no assignment of a county judge for service without his own judicial department to be made unless the presiding justice of the appellate division of his own judicial department consents thereto, such county judge while so assigned to have the powers and duties of a justice of the supreme court if assigned to the supreme court, and of a surrogate if assigned to a surrogate's court (Section 12); (27) to limit to six years the terms for which special county judges and special surrogates may be elected (Section 13); (28) to authorize the legislature to abolish any office of special county judge or special surrogate heretofore or hereafter created by it at the expiration of the term of an incumbent or in case of a vacancy if it deems the continuance thereof unnecessary (Section 13); (29) to increase from six to fourteen years the term of office of the surrogate of Richmond county, to correspond with the terms of the surrogates of the other counties in the city of New York (Section 14); (30) to continue the authority of the legislature to increase the jurisdiction of the surrogate's courts but to deny it authority to diminish that jurisdiction (Section 14); (31) to require that the power of the legislature to provide that the duties of the county judge and surrogate in any county be discharged by the same person be so exercised as not to abridge the term of any county judge or surrogate then in office (Section 14); (32) to authorize the surrogate of Richmond county temporarily to hold a surrogate's court of any other county within the city of New York when requested by the surrogate or surrogates of such county or to be assigned temporarily by the appellate division of the second department to hold a term of the supreme court in Richmond, Kings or Queens county (Section 14); (33) to rename the county courts of the counties of Kings, Bronx, Queens and Richmond, the courts of general sessions of those counties respectively, to consist respectively of the county judges now in office and their successors, who shall become judges of the court of general sessions of their respective counties (Section 15); (34) to empower the legislature to authorize the election of one or more additional judges of any of said courts of general sessions (Section 15); (35) to require that whenever there are three or more judges of any court of general sessions, the judges thereof shall choose one of their number to be the administrative judge of said court who shall act as such for the period of five years, but not beyond the expiration of his term of office, such judge to be charged with the general administration of the court and the assignment of the judges to hold the terms thereof (Section 15); (36) to permit any judge of any court of general sessions to be temporarily assigned to serve in another court of general sessions within the judicial district of his residence or to preside at a special, trial or other term of the supreme court within the judicial district of his residence by the justice of the appellate division of the department within which he resides (Section 15); (37) to grant to the judge so assigned, during the period of assignment, all of the powers, duties and jurisdiction of a justice or judge of the court to which he may be assigned (Section 15); (38) to empower the appellate division in each of the first and second departments to establish an appellate term for criminal appeals to hear and determine such appeals from inferior criminal courts of the city of New York as may hereafter be authorized by law, each such appellate term to be constituted of three members who may be either justices of the supreme court or judges of a court of general sessions, such members to be residents of the city of New York and of the judicial department for which such appellate term is established, two of the members thereof to constitute a quorum and the concurrence of two to be necessary to a decision, the said appellate terms to be held at such times and places as the appellate division of the respective departments shall designate and, except as otherwise provided by law such appellate term or the appellate division establishing it to have authority to allow an appeal from such appellate term to such appellate division whenever in the opinion of either a question of law or fact is involved which ought to be reviewed (Section 15); (39) to authorize the legislature to confer upon the city court of the city of New York additional jurisdiction in the class of actions in which it now has jurisdiction and in which the complaint demands judgment not in excess of $5,000 with interest (Section 16); (40) to grant to the city court of the city of New York the power to entertain equitable defenses (Section 16); (41) to repeal the provision of present Section 15 requiring that, until the legislature shall otherwise provide, the county judge and surrogate of Richmond county shall perform in said county the duties of a justice of the city court of the city of New York and also the duties of a justice of the supreme court at chambers or out of court; (42) to authorize the legislature to increase the number of justices of the city court of the city of New York and provide for their election in specified counties (Section 16); (43) to repeal a provision of present Section 15 that the chief clerk of the city court of the city of New York and the deputy clerk or deputy clerks thereof shall keep their respective office or offices at a place or places to be designated by the court and authorizing the presiding justice of the court to regulate and supervise the duties of chief clerk and deputy clerks; (44) to permit any justice of the city court to be temporarily assigned by the justices of the appellate division of the department within which he resides to hold any term of the supreme court within such department, such justice to have the powers and duties of a justice of the supreme court while so assigned (Section 16); (45) to continue the municipal court of the city of New York substantially as at present, but with the status of a constitutional court (Section 17); (46) to direct that a person appointed to fill a vacancy in the office of justice of the peace shall hold office until the commencement of the calendar year next succeeding the first town election at which the vacancy may be filled or a successor elected (Section 19); (47) to repeal the provision of present Section 18 that no inferior local court of civil or criminal jurisdiction which has been created since the 1st day of January, 1895, or is hereafter created shall be a court of record; (48) to forbid that the compensation of a judge or justice of an inferior local court except that of a justice of the peace, be diminished during his term of office or that the office of any judge or justice of such a court be abolished or the term thereof diminished so as to abridge the term of any judge or justice then in office unless the court of which such judge or justice is a member is abolished simultaneously (Section 19); (49) to render ineligible to the office of judge or justice of such a court, except the office of justice of the peace or police justice, a person who is not an attorney or counselor at law of this State (Section 19); (50) to require that no person shall hold the office of judge or justice of any such inferior local court, except the office of justice of the peace or police justice, longer than until and including the last day of December next after he shall be seventy years of age except that a judge or justice in office or elected or appointed to office at the effective date of the article, as to whom no provision limiting his right to hold office to the close of the year following his attaining the age of seventy years was applicable prior to the effective date of the article, may continue in office during the term for which he was elected or appointed (Section 19); (51) to substitute for the present provision that the powers or duties in criminal matters now exercised by justices of the peace may be transferred by law to inferior local courts of criminal jurisdiction the territorial jurisdiction of which outside of cities may be defined by the respective boards of supervisors, the provision that the powers or duties in criminal or civil matters now exercised by justices of the peace may be transferred by law to inferior local courts (Section 19); (52) to repeal the present provision of present Section 17 for the removal of justices of the peace, justices of the municipal court of the city of New York and judges or justices of inferior courts not of record, and their clerks, for cause, after due notice and an opportunity to be heard, by such courts as are or may be prescribed by law; (53), to authorize the legislature to confer upon children's courts and courts of domestic relations jurisdiction to compel the support of a husband, as well as of a wife, child or poor relative by persons legally chargeable therewith who abandon or neglect to support any of them (Section 20); (54) to amend the present provision requiring the legislature, in conferring jurisdiction on children's courts and courts of domestic relations, to provide that whenever a child is committed to an institution or is placed in the custody of any person by parole, placing out, adoption or guardianship, it shall be committed or placed, when practicable, to an institution governed by persons, or in the custody of a person of the same religious persuasion as the child, by removing adoption of a child from that requirement (Section 20); (55) to forbid that the compensation of a judge or justice of a children's court or a court of domestic relations be diminished during his term of office, or that the office of any judge or justice of such a court be abolished or the term thereof diminished so as to abridge the term of any judge or justice then in office unless the court of which such judge or justice is a member is abolished simultaneously or that a person shall hold the office of judge or justice of any such court longer than until and including the last day of December next after he shall be seventy years of age except that a judge or justice in office or elected or appointed to office at the effective date of the article, as to whom no provision limiting his right to hold office to the close of the year following his attaining the age of seventy years was applicable prior to the effective date of the article may continue in office during the term for which he was elected or appointed (Section 20); (56) to permit the compensation of all judges, justices and surrogates to be established pursuant to law, as well as by law (Section 21); (57) to render judges of the court of appeals and justices of the supreme court eligible as members of a judicial council as now, or hereafter constituted (Section 21); (58) to change the present provision that a judge of the court of appeals, a justice of the supreme court, a judge of the court of general sessions of the county of New York, justices of the city court of the city of New York and a county judge or surrogate elected in a county having a population exceeding 120,000 shall not practice as an attorney or counselor in any court of record in this State nor act as referee in any action or proceeding, to forbid that a judge of the court of appeals, a justice of the supreme court, a judge of the court of claims, a judge of a court of general sessions, a justice of the city court of the city of New York, a justice of the municipal court of the city of New York, or a county judge or surrogate elected or appointed in a county having a population exceeding 120,000 shall practice as an attorney or counselor in any court in this state or act as referee in any action or proceeding or as arbitrator or umpire in any arbitration proceeding (Section 21); (59) to authorize the legislature to impose a similar prohibition upon special county judges and special surrogates in any county, as well as upon county judges or surrogates, as at present (Section 21); (60) to amend the present provision that neither the attorney-general or any of his assistants or deputies regularly employed as such, nor any district attorney or assistant or deputy district attorney shall appear or act as attorney or counsel for the defendant in any criminal case or proceeding in any court of the State, to permit those officers to so appear or act if in the performance of their official duties (Section 21); (61) to forbid that a judge of a children's court appear or act as counsel for a defendant in any criminal case or proceeding pending in his own county or in an adjacent county (Section 21); (62) to authorize the legislature to delegate its power to regulate practice and procedure in civil actions and proceedings to the court of appeals, the appellate division, the judges or justices thereof or a commission of judges, justices and surrogates (Section 22); (63) to amend the present provision that the clerks of the several counties shall be clerks of the supreme court to provide that, in addition, they shall be clerks of the county courts of their respective counties, except in the counties within the city of New York (Section 23); (64) to continue the court of claims substantially as at present, but with the status of a constitutional court of record, the judges thereof to have the same qualifications and be subject to the same restrictions as justices of the supreme court (Section 25); (65) to establish the judicial council, as now or hereafter constituted, a part of the judicial system of the State, to continue for such time, be constituted of such members and have such powers and duties as the legislature may prescribe (Section 26); (66) to grant to any person aggrieved by a decision, order or other determination made in the exercise of a judicial or quasi-judicial function by any administrative officer, board, commission, department, agency, tribunal or other body, whether acting under the authority of the State or of any of its municipal corporations or other civil divisions, the right to a judicial review thereof, upon both the law and the facts, in a proceeding in the supreme court, which, if it shall find any such decision, order or other determination to be contrary to the evidence, or not supported by the facts, may direct a reconsideration or a new hearing of the matter by the administrative officer, board, commission, department, agency, tribunal, or other body whose decision, order or other determination is under review, except that in cases of assessments for purposes of taxation or for the revision or the refund of a tax, or of determinations involving compensation or death benefits to be paid in accordance with provisions of workmen's compensation laws, or involving care of or payments or benefits to or in aid of the aged, sick or needy or the administration of laws and regulations for protection of the public health, or involving the administration of the educational system of the State, such review shall be only in the manner and to the extent now or hereafter provided by law, and except that such right shall not apply to the review of a judgment or order rendered by a court or judge (Section 27); and (67) to renumber appropriately the sections of the article retained

ABSTRACT OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 9

In relation to Exclusion from the Debt Limit of the City of New York of $315,000,000 for the Unification of Transit Facilities

The purposes and effects of this proposed amendment (to constitute Section 7-a of Article VIII if Amendment No. 1 is approved, otherwise to constitute Section 10-b of Article VIII) are (1) to require that, in ascertaining the power of the city of New York to contract indebtedness in addition to the indebtedness excluded under any other section there be excluded the aggregate of indebtedness initially contracted from time to time by the city for the acquisition of railroads and facilities or properties used in conection therewith or rights therein or securities of corporations owning such railroads, facilities or rights, not exceeding the sum of $315,000,000, that provision for the amortization of such indebtedness be made either by the establishment and maintenance of a sinking fund or by annual payment or by both such methods and that any indebtedness thereafter contracted in excess of such sum for such purposes be not so excluded, such provision however, not to be construed to prevent the refunding of any such indebtedness; (2) to authorize the city of New York, notwithstanding any other provision of the constitution, to contract indebtedness for the purposes mentioned above and to deliver its obligations evidencing such indebtedness to the corporations owning the railroads, facilities, properties or rights acquired, to the holders of securities of such owning corporations, to the holders of securities of corporations holding the securities of such owning corporations or to the holders of securities to which such acquired railroads, facilities, properties or rights are now subject; (3) to require that, in ascertaining the power of said city to contract indebtedness, in addition to the indebtedness excluded under any other section, there be excluded indebtedness contracted by the city for transit purposes, and not otherwise excluded, proportionately to the extent to which the current net revenue received by the city from all railroads and facilities and properties used in connection therewith and rights therein owned by the city and securities of corporations owning such railroads, facilities, properties or rights, owned by the city, shall meet the interest and the annual requirements for the amortization and payment of such non-excluded indebtedness; (4) to require that, in determining whether indebtedness for transit purposes may be excluded under the last mentioned provision, there first be deducted from current net revenue received by the city from such railroads and facilities and properties used in connection therewith and rights therein and securities owned by the city: (a) an amount equal to interest and amortization requirements on indebtedness for rapid transit purposes heretofore excluded by order of the appellate division, which exclusion shall not be terminated by or under any provision of the section, (b) an amount equal to the interest on indebtedness contracted pursuant to the section and of the annual requirements for amortization on any sinking fund bonds and for redemption of any serial bonds evidencing such indebtedness, (c) an amount equal to the sum of all taxes and bridge tolls accruing to the city in the fiscal year preceding the acquisition of the railroads or facilities or properties or rights therein or securities acquired by the city under the section, from such railroads, facilities and properties, and (d) the amount of net operating revenue derived by the city from the independent subway system during such fiscal year; and (5) to require the legislature to prescribe the method by which and the terms and conditions under which the amount of any indebtedness to be excluded under the section shall be determined to forbid the exclusion of any indebtedness except in accordance with such determination, and to authorize the legislature to confer jurisdiction on the appellate division of the supreme court in the first judicial department for the purpose of determining the amount of any debt to be so excluded.

FORM OF SUBMISSION OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 9

Shall the proposed amendment, submitted by the Constitutional Convention excluding from the debt limit of the City of New York $315,000,000 for the unification of transit facilities, be approved?

Krom Laboratories, Inc. to Buy Store Building at Binnewater

Freeman Photo

The Krom Laboratories, Inc., which for a year or so has been manufacturing a hand soap and an insecticide at Binnewater, is branching out and will head for business in a big way, according to Abraham Tudoroff of Kingston, who has become interested in the corporation and who, at a recent organization, was made treasurer and general sales manager.

As part of the plan for an extension of its program the company has, in addition to the $20,000 worth of common stock originally authorized, applied to the secretary of state for authority to issue $20,000 of six per cent preferred stock.

With larger capitalization the firm expects shortly to increase its production force and at the present time a sales division is being organized for the purpose of facilitating a wider distribution of the chemical products it manufactures.

In order to provide more space for manufacture of its products Krom Laboratories, Inc., has contracted for the purchase of the old Norton Cement Co. store building, situated near the railroad station at Binnewater, on the Williams Lake road. The new plant is a two and a half story building, at one time occupied by the late Henry J. Hoffman and originally as a company store for the cement company.

At the present time Krom Laboratories are manufacturing various types of soaps, polishes, cleaners and insecticides, with its trademark, registered with the U. S. Patent Office covering Catskill Mountain Needle Pine Emulsion, Companion Antiseptic Hand Paste, Pal-Eze Floor Wax, Kill-Em-Slick spray and Tudo-Longer-Wear.

A modern research laboratory is now being organized on the recently acquired property, which it is declared will be one of the most unusual and up-to-date laboratories of its kind in this section of the country.

Production activities of the firm are in charge of Loughran Krom, chemist, who has spent over 10 years in research work to develop a non-poisonous plant and foliage spray, as large numbers of people are annual poisoned by using poisonous sprays to combat insect pests. Mr. Krom has been an active member of the American Technical Society, spent many years with Dr. Carl Schwartz, research chemist and was formerly chief engineer for the Victor Checkwriter Corporation.

Products of Firm

Mr. Tudoroff lists the products at present being manufactured by the company as follows:

The Catskill Mountain Pine Needle Bath Emulsion is recognized by leading physicians and health resorts throughout the country. Its qualities are such that it relieves tired and taut nerves; it helps in toning up the skin and contains valuable antiseptic qualities. This liquid is refreshing and invigorating in odor and action.

Companion Antiseptic Hand Paste contains a rapid cleansing agent for dirt, grime, greases and odors. It prevents roughness and chapping by putting natural elements back in the skin. It is excellent as a cleansing agent for woodwork, painted surfaces, enamel, porcelain, cooking utensils, etc. It does not contain strong caustic substances and its composition is from the purest ingredients obtainable.

Pal-Eze Floor Wax saves labor and preserves the surface. Is easily applied and no rubbing or polishing is necessary to bring out high luster or gloss. It prevents wear and lowers the amount of germ laden dust in the house. It fills up the pores of linoleum or floor surfaces and puts a hard finish on same. It is not slippery or sticky. It is economical to use.

Kill-Em-Slick is a household insect or fly spray; has an alluring aroma or odor; destroys germ carriers as well as moths and larva. It is non-poisonous and harmless to human beings.

Another product manufactured by Krom Laboratories, Inc., is Tudo-Longer-Wear. This liquid puts elasticity in the threads or fibers which compose rayon and silk stockings and prevents runs. It makes the hose fit snug without sag or wrinkles and brings out a new lustrous appearance and develops the wearing qualities of rayon or silk fabrics.

Ex-President's Son Debates F.D.R.'s Friend In Ohio Race

ROBERT J. BULKLEY
Got pat on back from Roosevelt

ROBERT A. TAFT
'Favorite son' wants senator's job

(By The AP Feature Service)

Columbus—Ohio, "mother of Presidents," is watching a good old-fashioned political show that may help cast some of the roles on the 1940 stage.

The New Deal is a clean-cut issue in the race for the Senate between Robert A. Taft, son of the late President and supreme court justice, and Senator Robert J. Bulkley, administration supporter who received a pat on the back from President Roosevelt in his bid for re-election.

They Stick to Issues

The two candidates have done nothing to distract the voters from the issue. Taft, member of the famous family and Cincinnati lawyer, denounces the New Deal. Bulkley, a Cleveland lawyer, defends the President's purposes. They refrain from personalities.

And just to make it plainer, they revived the old custom of political debates. They agreed to meet each other on the same platform six times in various cities.

Thus again Ohio, by tradition a "pivotal" state, gains national political significance.

Republicans, with a mind to 1940, particularly are watching the trend of the Buckeye state. Taft, Ohio observers believe, would become a national figure in 1940 should he unseat Bulkley. He was the "favorite son" of the Ohio delegation in the 1936 Republican convention.

Labor Divided on Candidates

National interest in the gubernatorial contest is directed largely to labor's divided stand in this industrial state. Charles Sawyer of Cincinnati, Democratic national committeeman, is pitted against John W. Bricker, former Republican attorney general.

Sawyer has the backing of CIO's Labor Non-Partisan League and the personal endorsement of William Green, president of AFL, who votes in Ohio.

But AFL locals over the state have split in deciding whether to support Sawyer or Bricker. The state federation has taken no stand.

Sawyer, often a New Deal critic, won the Democratic nomination over Gov. Martin L. Davey, who called out troops in last year's "little steel" strike in Ohio.

Bible Does Not Mention Names of the 'Wise Men'

The names of the "wise men from the East" who followed the star of the new-born Jesus to Jerusalem and Bethlehem are not given in the Bible. Neither does the Bible mention the number of wise men, nor their nationality. Early churchmen fixed the number at three, probably because the Biblical account mentions three gifts—gold, frankincense and myrrh, writes Flora MacFarland in the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A tradition as old as the Second century (resting on Psalms LXXII: 10, and Isaiah XLIX: 7) refers to the three wise men as kings, and at a later period the names Melchior, Gaspar and Balthasar became attached to them. Melchior means "king of light," Gaspar, "the white one," and Balthasar, "the lord of treasures." The first king offered gold, the emblem of royalty; the second, frankincense, in token of divinity; and the third, myrrh, in prophetic allusion to the persecutions which awaited the Child.

Many Bible scholars suppose the three wise men to have been Magi, members of a priestly order of ancient Media and Persia. Medieval legend calls them the Three Kings of Cologne, and the cathedral there claims their relics. They are commemorated on January 2, 3 and 4, and particularly at the Feast of the Epiphany.

The Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation has been authorized to purchase an additional 38,000,000 pounds of butter during the fiscal year.

Convicted Men Leave for Dannemora

Freeman Photo

Thursday morning Sheriff Abram F. Molyneaux sent by bus what is thought to have been the largest consignment of prisoners ever to leave the county at one time. Eleven prisoners were sentenced to serve up to 20 years at the Clinton State Prison at Dannemora earlier in the week by County Judge Frederick G. Traver. The above photo shows the men as they prepared to leave the court house at 5 a. m.

Humiston Record Warrants Election

His intimate acquaintance of every section of Ulster county, a life-time devoted to serving local families during the emotional crisis of bereavement, and exceptional training as a mortician and in the restorative arts are among the salient factors that have made Mr. Humiston's past service as a coroner an unblemished record of performance.

Master Mortician

He has a long record of progressive, public spirited leadership in public affairs. Mr. Humiston is recognized among the members of his profession as a master mortician and he is frequently called upon because of his skill to make calls in distant cities. His funeral home at Kerhonkson is considered among the most modern and complete in the state and pride in his services has caused him to constantly keep his place of business up to the minute in equipment. He has recently put into service a new 28' by 22' post-mortem room, equipped with a new hydraulic lift and other modern devices for use by physicians in this work. Equipment in his mortuary home includes a chapel, his outside equipment is of the latest type and in every department of his business he has installed equipment for the convenience and service of the public.

Despite rumors which are being circulated that the election of a physician as coroner will eliminate the expense of a physician signing death certificates, there is no need for such action as Coroner Humiston has the right and does issue permits in coroner's cases. In the event of a post-mortem examination or autopsy such act is ordered by the District Attorney and must be performed by two physicians who render their report to the coroner.

Another important factor which has been associated with the office of Coroner Humiston is the ability of his office to always locate him in an emergency. A record of his activities is always available in his office and he can be reached within a few minutes in case of an emergency call. This is of particular value in the office of coroner where quick action is desired. Mr. Humiston's record for getting at the scene of a call in quick time is known to all.

Needed In Rondout Valley

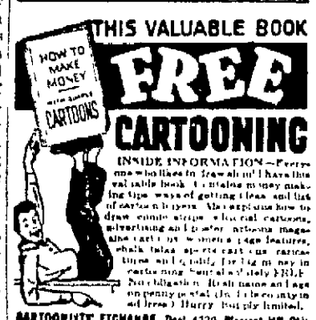

The need of a coroner in the Rondout Valley for the next few years is imperative. New York city is just entering into the construction of its water works. As was demonstrated in the Ashokan and Gilboa projects, death by violence cannot be averted and a coroner located close to the scene is a distinct advantage. While ready to serve the Rondout Valley and Catskill mountain area in quick time, Mr. Humiston is only 20 minutes from Kingston should his service be required here.

Mr. Humiston's active participation in the community life of Ulster county is evidenced by his fraternal and other affiliations. He is a member of Masonic Lodge, No. 682, F. & A. M.; Masonic Club of Ellenville, Masonic Club of Kingston, A. J. Anderson Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., of Kerhonkson; Patron Grange, No. 1519, of Accord, and of the Men's Club of Accord.

Ulster county could perhaps never find a man better qualified to serve as coroner and voters would be failing in their civic duty if they failed to re-elect Mr. Humiston as one of the coroners of the county of Ulster.

High Spots on This Week's College Football Schedule

By HERBERT W. BARKER

New York, Octll 31 (AP)—Football enters the critical November phase with a dozen teams still eligible for the national championship sweepstakes.

The undefeated and untied list of major outfits includes Pitt, Dartmouth and Georgetown in the east; Tennessee and Duke in the south; California and Santa Clara in the far west; Texas Christian and Texas Tech in the southwest; Notre Dame, Iowa State and Oklahome in the mid-west.

Western Reserve, high-powered scoring array from Cleveland, likewise boasts a perfect record along with others in the so-called smaller college class.

National championship speculation also must include Northwestern's Wildcats, conquerors of Minnesota but held to a scoreless draw by Ohio State. Boston College, Villanova and Utah likewise have escaped defeat but have been tied.

After last Saturday's extraordinary list of gridiron "naturals," there is a noticeable falling off in the class of this week's program. High spots of the slate include:

East

Pitt, the unquestioned leader after its 21-point fourth period rally that trounced Fordham, 24-13, will need to fight off a natural let-down in its annual clash with tough Carnegie Tech. Dartmouth, whose high-geared offensive brushed aside Yale, 25-6, has a breather in little Dickinson, while Georgetown, conqueror of Temple, 13-0, plays Bucknell.

Boston College and Villanova both will need to tread warily against intersectional rivals. The Eagles play Indiana, which held Wisconsin to a 6-0 count, while Villanova, surprised by a 6-6 tie with South Carolina, takes on Auburn.

Topping the intersectional list, however, is Notre Dame's meeting with Navy at Baltimore. The Irish spotted Army a touchdown in the first few minutes of play and then won out on a fourth-period drive, 19-7. Navy, sluggish for three periods, was held to a scoreless tie by Penn despite a strong finish. Harvard, led to a 26-7 victory over Princeton by Torbie MacDonald, plays Chicago; battered Fordham tackles St. Mary's Gaels; Manhattan faces North Carolina State, and Columbie, well shellacked by Cornell, 23-7, meets an improving Virginia team.

After absorbing a 33-6 beating from Penn State, Syracuse squares away against Colgate, stopped cold by Holy Cross, 21-0. Holy Cross, meanwhile, plays Temple. Rutgers and Princeton, who began all this football business, renew their ancient rivalry in Rutgers' new stadium. Yale takes on Brown while Army eases off against Franklin and Marshall.

Middle West

Northwestern's stunning 6-3 upset of Minnesota left the Wildcats tied for the Big Ten lead with Ohio State whose Buckeyes leisurely mopped up New York University, 32-0. Northwestern plays Wisconsin next while Ohio State takes on Purdue, held to an amazing scoreless tie by Iowa's Hawkeyes. Iowa may be the innocent victim of Minnesota fury in the remaining Big Ten game of the week. Michigan plays host to Penn after wading through Illinois, 14-0.

In the Big Six, Oklahoma, easy 28-6 victor over Tulsa, plays Kansas State. Kansas, engineer of a tremendous upset in a 27-7 beating of Kansas State, meets Nebraska, stopped 13-10 by Paul Christman and the Missouri Tigers. Missouri may be overpowered by Michigan State, which surrendered to Santa Clara by a single point, 7-6.

Southwest

Three conference games are on the slate but Texas Christian, the leader, does not figure in any of them. The Horned Frogs, a strong contender for national honors, meets Tulsa after routing Baylor, 39-7. Southern Methodist and Rice, unbeaten within the conference, will aim at their second successive conference victories against Texas A. and M. and Arkansas, respectively.

South

Tennessee's 14-6 conquest of Louisiana State left the Vols far out in front in the Southeastern Conference race with Tulane and Georgia the only other squads without conference defeat. Tulane, 27-0 victor over Mississippi State, has won one and tied one.

A heavy conference schedule sends Louisiana State Against Mississippi State; Tulane against Alabama, 26-6 conqueror of Kentucky, and Vanderbilt, 13-7 victor over Georgia Tech, against Sewanee.

The Southern Conference crown virtually was clinched by Duke when the Blue Devils, one of the country's mightiest defensive machines, topped North Carolina, 14-0.

Far West

Tied with four successive victories, California and Southern California probably will settle the Pacific Coast Conference crown in their annual battle at Los Angeles. California had trouble with Oregon State, 13-7, but Southern California ran up a 31-7 count on Oregon.

Seabiscuit Races Admiral Tomorrow

Baltimore, Oct. 31 (AP)—The weatherman was the fair-haired boy today as the match race of the mighty, the showdown tomorrow between Seabiscuit and War Admiral, neared starting time on Pimlico's mile and three-sixteenths of turf.

Barring a forfeiture, only one thing can postpone this oft-scheduled but never-run race and that is rain between now and 8:30 tomorrow morning, when one Jervis Spencer, Jr., Maryland's racing commission chairman, walks on the track for a final look-see.

If he rules "it's fast," the 'Biscuit and the Admiral will go postward about 3:50 p. m. (EST), even though it should rain proverbial cats and dogs after the official ruling.

Football Injuries

New York, Oct. 31 (AP)—Last Saturday's football games not only brought defeat to most of New York city's college football teams, but they proved costly in injuries, too. Columbia's Sid Luckman will miss the Virginia game because of torn muscles over his ribs; Bill Helmcke and Morris Vogel, New York University linemen, suffered leg injuries in the Ohio State game and Manhattan lost Bill Dorsey, end, who wrenched a knee severely playing against Canisius.

Budge Lets Down Further

Long Beach, Calif., Oct. 31 (AP)—J. Donald Budge's tennis letdown went to a new low yesterday when the king of world amateur players was trimmed by Jack Tidball of Los Angeles in a three-set exhibition. Tidball, despite 11 double faults on his service, won by scores of 6-2, 2-6, 6-4.

A man who bought a car three weeks ago says the only thing that depreciates faster is a chocolate eclaire.

Amendment to P.S.C. No. 6—Electricity effective November 1, 1938 are stated below:

In S. C. No. 3, Commercial and Industrial Rate (new title), the demand charge is changed to 15.5c gross, 15c net per 100 watts; the monthly energy charge is changed to 6.15c gross, 6c net per Kwh. for first 10 Kwh. per month per 100 watts of demand (but not more than first 200 Kwh. per month), 3.6c gross, 3.5c net per Kwh. for remainder of first 20 Kwh. per month per 100 watts of demand (but not more than next 600 Kwh. per month), 2.05c gross, 2c net for next 1200 Kwh. per month, and 1.25c gross and net per Kwh. for additional energy. Requirements for the determination of demand by meter are extended to include all customers whose monthly consumption exceeds 800 Kwh. for two consecutive months. When measured, the demand shall be the highest demand established during the interval between meter readings which includes the month for which the bill is rendered. The provisions for determination of demand from connected load are modified to provide that no demand so determined shall be less than 100 watts for each full 50 Kwh. of monthly usage. The minimum demand is changed to 300 watts. The discount for customers taking primary service under this classification is changed to 5%. The provision relating to standby or breakdown service is changed so that the charges for such service are not limited by the maximum rates, the demand is the maximum demand which the company may be required to serve, and the term of service is one year. In S. C. No. 4, Power Rate, requirements of the determination of demand by meter are extended to customers with connected loads in excess of 10 h.p. or with monthly usages in excess of 800 Kwhrs. for two consecutive months. When measured, the demand shall be the highest demand established between meter reading intervals. The minimum demand for customers taking both lighting and power service under this classification is changed to 50 Kw. Standby or breakdown service will no longer be supplied under this classification. In S. C. No. 6, Heating Rate, the energy charge is changed to 3.6c gross, 3.5c net per Kwh., and the minimum charge is changed to $1.10 gross, $1.00 net per month plus 20.5c gross, 20c net for each Kw. of demand in excess of 5 Kw. when polyphase service is supplied. Under a new general regulation monthly bills may be based on bimonthly meter readings.

ersey Reds Get Phil Rabin; Perfetti, Speary Box Friday

y Trades Star Moe Frankel r Week-End

Game Nov. 16

usta's Upstaters Can't Exhibition Date — g New York Club to in for Exhibition

N. Levan Haver came an ement today that will the basketball fans of the an League. It was this:

Rabin has been traded by to the Jersey Reds in ex- for Moe Frankel."

local attorney was not in a on to say whether there was h transaction involved in rade, made over the week- but it is presumed that there because Manager Carlie Husta have been given an attractive ement to release the league's scorer.

With Rabin in the lineup, the chances of outdistancing hing in John J. O'Brien's loop better than ever.

Although Troy gave up Rabin, Collar City will have a star in rankel, who was a mainstay on Skeeters. Frankel played sensational games at the torium last season. He is a ble man for any ball club, it may be that Manager Husta him to work out a scheme of wn in regards to team play.

torney Haver, one of the Big interested in promoting pro- nal basketball here to keep ity among the leading cities orting an American League spent the week-end ironing matters with Barney Sedran, is to handle the Colonials this on.

"Although I have the nucleus a good club in the pick of last s Celtics, I'm not letting any- stand in the way of giving ngston a team that will go after championship," Sedran said.

The veteran cager, who is as wd in the managerial role as used to be in the lineup, in- ed Haver that he has several er trades in mind, but would talk about any definite shifts.

"When the time comes for the announcement, I'll release news, because I don't believe stringing the fans along for publicity purposes," said Sedran.

Speaking for the local commit- M. H. Herzog, Attorney Joe rman and Jack Feye, his co- partners in bringing basketball back, Haver said that Troy will not be available for that exhibi- tion game here Wednesday, No- vember 9.

"The team has an engagement at home and will not be able to keep the date at the auditorium, but we'll bring in a good club from New York to furnish the opposi- tion."

The first league game here will Wednesday, November 16, against the Jersey Reds, with abin in the lineup, and the sec- d will bring in Carlie Husta's roy club on the 24th, Thanksgiv- ing Day.

Two Teams Are Unscored Upon

New York, Oct. 31 (AP)—Western Washington College of Education and Duke emerged from last Saturday the only unscored upon, undefeated or untied teams of the country.

Duke has gone to the wars six times and piled up 79 points but the boys from Bellingham, Wash., are right at their heels with 42 points in four games.

IRISH MISSED THIS POINT, BUT SCORED 19 TO ARMY 7

The Army did some fancy pyramiding and flopflopping in this successful effort to block a try for extra point by Willard Hofer, Notre Dame quarter. Doing the head-over-heels nosedive is Ben Bailey (10), Soldier end. Other Cadets heckling the kicker are Samuel (6) and Light (45). Army was taken into camp, 19 to 7, in game at Yankee Stadium, New York.

St. Anslems Are Among Leaders

Manchester, N. H., Oct. 30—By taking the measure of the New Hampshire University Wildcats at Durham Saturday afternoon by the score of 26 to 0, the St. Anselm College Hawks remained with the nation's football elite of undefeated and untied teams.

The Hawks started off slowly and set up seven points to their credit in the first period on some fancy running by Rambling Ray McLean and Charlie Jaworek. McLean carried over the Wildcats' goal line one a delayed spinner over left tackle. With an air offensive that had New Hampshire running in circles, the Hawks flew high in the third period with three touchdowns in seven minutes. Captain Mike Mallo at center was the bulwark of the Saints' defense and at no time did the New Hampshire eleven penetrate St. Anselm's 20-yard line.

Coaches O'Donnell and Cannell will prepare their charges for the all-important game with West Maryland here next Saturday.

Garcia Is Still 5-6 Favorite

New York, Oct. 31 (AP)—A baker's dozen of lettuce pickers from California are in town to see Ceferino Garcia win the world welterweight championship Wednesday night. There is considerable doubt in other quarters as to Garcia's ability to take the title from Henry Armstrong but the presence of these 13 gives you an idea of how the home folks feel about it.

The champion was a 5-6 favorite when the hard work of training ended yesterday, but you probably can take your pick at the same odds when the two climb into the Madison Square Garden ring for their 15-round tilt.

Kingston Football Giants Play Tie With Bearcats in Sunday Contest, Neither Team Is Able to Make Score

Two hearty stands within the shadows of their own goal posts by the General Electric Giants and the Troy Bearcats enabled these two grid machines to come out of yesterday's clash in a Mexican standoff 0 to 0.

After playing on an even basis during the first half, the Giants roused themselves at the outset of the third quarter and started rolling. The first drive carried the locals to the 20 of Troy from their own 39, a 41 yard sustained drive before the Bearcats dug in their cleats and repelled the charge. Late in the final session the Reliamen again focused an attack which placed them on the Troy 23, but Bob Sullivan broke up the threat by intercepting one of Jimmy Cullum's aerials. On the other hand Troy presented the 4,000 fans with three rallies which were stopped within danger grounds. Their opening threat went to the 10, the next on the 30 and finally on Kingston's 39. The latter was stopped when Bill Thomas snatched a looping pass from Grenier and returned to his own 43.

Despite obviously partial ruling by the arbiters, however, the game was well played for a pro tussle. There wasn't one knockout and only 45 yards were recorded for penalties.

Right after the opening kickoff Troy took the ball on an exchange of punts and battered its way to Kingston's 30 but two plays later a 15-yard penalty put them back on the 50. Don Grenier's able and trusty right flipper kept the collar city boys traveling as he shot out passes to Joe Kelleher and Dutch Rokjer but the Giants finally regained possession on the 15 after Grenier's punt.

With less than four minutes to go this pesky Grenier again came into the picture by intercepting Cullum's pitch on the 37 and then lateraled out to Len Afinowicz who was dropped on the local's 34. Len on a fake spinner legged it to the 33 and then Sammy Nelson chopped his way to the 30. A first down was registered on Grenier's hurl to Afinowicz who rammed his way to the 21. Grenier then plowed off tackle to the 19 as the first session ended.

Giants Stop Rally

As the second chapter got under way Gil Kelder replaced Jerry Dann in the secondary and made his debut fit well into halting the Bearcats. Afinowicz kept up the threat, however, as he socked his way to the eight following Grenier's flip to him on the 10, for another first down. Tony Patti went through the front wall and went to the three. But here Kingston applied the brakes after Nelson picked up two yards to the one. Grenier took the ball on a wide spread and galloped around end and when about to be tackled, flipped a lateral over to Nelson who fumbled and the ball rested on the locals 10.

Three line plunges by Minasian and Mac Tiano advanced to the 15 but on the next play Bernie Keldroff picked up a fumble by Minasian on the Giants' 30. Three passes were knocked down and finally Grenier dropped far back to the 40 where he booted into the end zone.

The Giants' famed running and passing attack perked up a little in the waning minutes of the second period. A Kingston rally opened as Eddie Minasian snatched Grenier's flip and galloped from his own 30 to the 38 with a neat high-stepping exhibition. Cullum on the first play fired a pass into the arms of Tiano, who clicked off a 15-yard jaunt which advanced the sphere to Troy's 45. Cullum slipped another one to Kelder on the 39 for six yards. Helped with a Troy five-yard setback Tiano raced to the 34. On a wide and tick reverse, which Troy solved completely, from Cullum to Tiano, lost to the 44. As a last resort Jim Cullum shot out two aerials which were blocked.

Giants Look Inspired

It appeared as though a new club took the field in the third quarter for the Giants. Bill Thomas started the uprising as he snagged Grenier's flip on his 39 and scampered to the 43. Two swell flips by Bill Thomas to Cullum paved to the 30 of Troy. Kelder slid off tackle for 10 yards to the 20. Two reverses and a pass went for nothing and the first real push by the locals was stopped.

With six minutes to go in the final session Kingston went on another rampage but it took the long, out-stretched arms of Sullivan to stop them. The Giants marched to the 25 and here Sullivan intercepted Cullum's flip and the locals' last chance hit the dirt. The Giants' advance was helped along by Minasian and Tiano and a pass to Cullum.

The Giants' front line again displayed plenty of power in this standoff. Lou Beany, Avery, Ray Schneider, Johnny Spada and Lee Glenn all showed well. Next Sunday White Plains comes to the Athletic Field.

All American Bug Starts— Texas Christian Good

By Joe Kelly

The GE Giants had a tough one yesterday playing the Bears in that 0-0 tie at Troy. . . . One of the fans rooting for the Giants complained about the officiating. . . . If those pile-drivers from Pitt aren't the top flight of footballers we're mistaken. . . . And the boys say Biggie Goldberg can't miss all-American claim. . . . Another gridder getting the "all" call is Ki Aldrich, Texas Christian center. . . . Wonder where Kid Chappie got that cat Saturday. . . . Bringing 'em in alive, eh Kid!

That trade in the American Basketball League sending Phil Rabin to the Jersey Reds should keep the fans in conversation. . . . Wonder what that boy Carlie Husta plans on doing. . . . He's a pretty foxy gent, and we think he's bringing in Moe Frankel for some good reason. . . . Southwest scouts report that Texas Christian is the greatest grid outfit that section ever saw. . . . Anyway, the guy who kept the Frog statistics against Baylor needed an adding machine. —what with 524 yards gained rushing and passing. . . . Sergeant Perry is anxious to show the Kingston fans that he is still the same scrapper he was when he defeated Johnny Bileski. . . . That Dom Perfetti-Bill Speary match should be honey.

Nate Palisi did a lot of visiting in Detroit on his vacation. . . . Stopped around to Jack Kearns' grill to chat with the big fight magnate out that way. . . . Nate knows 'em all. . . . Good tip for next week: St. Mary's over Fordham. . . . No team is ever the same after once getting kicked around by Goldberg and his gallopers. . . . Vera Hruba, the ice queen, gets a screen test this week. . . . Some of the fight fans in Saugerties are kicking about that decision Charley Raigins lost last Friday. . . . Anyway, the scrap was a dandy. . . . Both boys deserve a lot of credit.

Runyan Wins in The Argentine

Buenos Aires, Oct. 31 (AP).—Paul Runyan of White Plains, N. Y., United States P. G. A. champion, yesterday won the Argentine open golf championship with a record score of 282 for 72 holes. He took a prize of 1,500 pesos, approximately $385.

The Argentine professionals, Andres Peres and Martin Pose, tied for second place, one stroke behind Runyan. Harold (Jug) McSpaden of Winchester, Mass., only other North American entry, has a score of 294.

Many Worries for Captain Walters

Boston, Oct. 31 (AP)—Captain Angus Walters of Lunenburg, N. S.—he of the many surprises—sounded off today with a new one—he's through with fishing.

Right after his schooner became the winner of the final and deciding race of the challenge contest with Gertrude L. Thebaud of Gloucester, Angus announced his engagement to be married next spring.

At the same time, he announced there would be "plenty doing" if the race committee didn't produce the Fishermen's Cup—then missing—and the $5,000 prize money—still missing.

The cup turned up last night at, of all places, the New England Home for Little Wanderers.

Angus' latest announcement included scheduling of a trip to Florida before the new year, and a return next spring to the New York World's Fair.

He has only one worry left—will he receive the prize money tomorrow night at a testimonial banquet planned by the Canadian Club of Boston?

2 National Champs Head Fight Card At the Auditorium

Attractive Bill

Carmine Fatta, Armstrong, Perry, Bliss and Trovatello in Supporting Scraps—All Popular Battlers

That choice fistic morsel that local fans have been waiting for is down to top the boxing card in the municipal auditorium, Friday night—Bill Speary vs. Dom Perfetti.

These two national title-holders, Speary, the Golden Gloves bantamweight champion, and Perfetti, Diamond Belt titlist, are matched for the featured five-rounder that has taken months to arrange.

The thermometer was hovering around summer heat when Announcer Sam Ribet first informed the fight patrons that the match was in the making, but it was not until last Friday night that he made the dramatic statement that the two would come together.

Speary is the nearest bantamweight fighter in the United States, having won the title for three years. He now wears the crown, and expects to defend it successfully in the next Golden Gloves competition.

Dom Perfetti, the Diamond Belt winner, boasts of one victory over Speary in two starts, the Nanticoke, Pa., champ having won the other.

Perfetti defeated Speary in Rochester on a technical knockout, due to a cut over the eye.

"He'd never have won it if it hadn't been for that cut," said Speary, "and I'm anxious for the rubber bout to prove my superiority."

Perfetti, who likes to box at the auditorium, said he'd consent to the return match as soon as arrangements could be made to "fight it out" in Kingston.

Last week Speary agreed to meet the Amsterdam boxing master at the auditorium, and started training for the match. "I want to be in tip top shape," he said, "because this one must be a win for me."

Speary who has received more publicity than any other amateur fighter, is a harder puncher than the clever Perfetti, and has the edge with the fans who keep good track of their scrappers.

On the card supporting this great attraction are the following bouts:

Carmine Fatta, Newburgh's sensational lightweight vs. Davie Meyers, Philadelphia, Pa.

Sergeant Charles Perry, former West Point Cavalry light heavyweight champion, vs. Joe Bliss, 175, Nanticoke, Pa., whom he floored three times two weeks ago in Rochester, but lost the decision.

Sammy Trovatello, Poughkeepsie bantamweight champion of the Hudson valley vs. Glen Edwards, Nanticoke, Pennsylvania state champion.

Joe Bliss, Ellenville heavyweight knockout puncher, who floored Smoke Watkins, vs. Johnny Fatta, 220-pound cousin of Joe Fatta, former New York state middleweight champ.

Johnny Bowes, Newburgh, another puncher like Corky Dalgarian, his stablemate vs. Mork Anstrom, Kingston.

Bruno Fatta, Middletown vs. Johnny Mirabile, Albany light weight novice.

'Foreign Invasion' Causes Variety of Public Reactions

New York, Oct. 31 (AP)—The terror caused by radio's "end of the world" and "foreign invasion" as some listeners understood it, produced some strange repercussions throughout the country. It brought the following messages over Associated Press wires to the New York office.

PROVIDENCE — Weeping and hysterical women swamped the switchboard of the Providence Journal for details of the massacre and destruction and officials of the light company received scores of calls urging them to turn off all lights so the city would be safe from the enemy.

ATLANTA — The Birmingham Age-Herald reported people gathered in groups and prayed.

Reports to newspapers from listeners in the southwest had it that a planet struck in New Jersey, monsters, almost everything. Anywhere from 10 to 7,000 people reported killed. So confusing were the calls that editors were able to determine only that "something was happening in New Jersey." The calls taxed telephone facilities of the newspaper offices, but subsided almost as quickly as they started.

ASHEVILLE, (N. C.)—Times says five boys at Brevard College, Brevard, N. C., fainted as pandemonium reigned on campus for half-hour when students convinced world coming to an end. Many fought for telephones to inform parents to come and get them. Students finally quieted by few who knew program was dramatization.

INDIANAPOLIS — Woman ran in Indianapolis Methodist Church screaming, hysterical — "New York destroyed. It's the end of the world. You might as well go home to die. I just heard it on the radio." Services dismissed immediately.

MILWAUKEE — Newspaper switchboard operator got several calls saying "it was thrilling; there ought to be more programs like that." She reported most men liked program; most women didn't.

DETROIT — Pennsylvania motorist who heard program stopped at Ann Arbor police station to ask if true New York and New Jersey conquered and hordes marching on Pennsylvania; said two daughters in back seat had fainted during broadcast.

CINCINNATI—Two New Yorkers who had just registered in a downtown hotel ran a mile to police headquarters and demanded that something be done. Telephone Company reported many tried to put in calls to New Jersey. One church service broken up.

CLEVELAND—Cleveland Station WGAR was swamped with calls and broke into broadcast to reassure listeners. Aged couple in flight to country aroused storeyman to get food supplies and did not wait for explanation.

CONCRETE, WASH.—At a highly effective point in the program, when monsters were flocking down, lights went out in most of the homes at Concrete a town of 1,000, due to electric power failure. Many thought invasion had reached Washington state and for a time the town verged on mass hysteria. Women fainted and men prepared to take their families to the mountains.

SCRANTON, PA.—A dozen families snatched their belongings and rushed hysterically outdoors, one wanting to know if "U. S. Army Reserves had been called out."

PHILADELPHIA — New York and New Jersey students at the University of Pennsylvania hastily packed belongings and prepared to rush to "beleaguered" relatives. The city hall switchboard was swamped with over 3,000 calls.

PITTSBURGH—A man found his wife, poison bottle in hand, shrieking, "I'd rather be this way than like that."

UNIONTOWN, PA.—A group of bridge players fell on their knees and prayed.

RIVERSVILLE, W. VA.—A woman broke up a church meeting in the midst of the sermon with cries of "invasion."

Dewey Caravan To Start Tour

The local Dewey Caravan, sponsored by the Ulster County Republican Committee, will get under way Tuesday morning at 11:30 o'clock when the Clark sound truck will leave the court house for its first day's tour of Ulster county villages and towns to carry directly to the people of the county messages of the candidates.

At various central points the Dewey Caravan will stop and there will be public addresses not only on the state issues but also on local issues.

"We'll Do It With Dewey" is the campaign slogan which will be carried to the distant points of the county all this week by the Dewey Caravan. At each stop there will be a discussion by some prominent speaker or one of the local Republican candidates on either the local campaign or some state issue. These meetings, which will commence with an opening talk at noon at Eddyville Tuesday, will be concluded each by a mass meeting at some central point of the county

The meeting Tuesday evening will be at 8 o'clock in Community Hall, Wallkill. There County Attorney Roscoe V. Elsworth is scheduled to talk on Thomas E. Dewey's campaign. The Hon. Harry H. Flemming, Republican candidate for surrogate of Ulster county, will discuss national issues, and Assemblyman J. Edward Conway will talk on state matters. There will also be brief talks by candidate on local matters.

Radio Script Causes Hysteria

heading for havens against invasion

Welles, who startled the theatre ocularly last season by portraying a Caesar in modern dress with Fascist leanings, was overcome by the unbelievable reaction to his presentation of the Wells thriller-turned-horrifier.

In a statement expressing "deep regret" over apprehension the broadcast caused among radio listeners, Welles said.

"Far from expecting the radio audience to take the program as fact rather than a fictional presentation, we feared that the classic H. G. Wells story, which has served as inspiration for so many moving pictures, radio serials and even comic strips, might appear too old-fashioned for modern consumption.

"We can only suppose that the special nature of radio, which is often heard in fragments, or in parts disconnected from the whole, has led to this misunderstanding," the actor-dramatist added.

"Implicit" Agreement

London, Oct. 31 (AP)—H. G. Wells, whose "War of the Worlds" furnished the basis of the broadcast which spread alarm in the United States last night, said today that it was "implicit" in the agreement for selling the radio rights that any broadcast would clearly "be fiction and not news."

The novelist added that he gave no permission for alterations which might lead to the belief that the broadcast material was real news.

Crusaders' Castles Dot Early Syrian Districts

Wonderful monuments of bygone civilizations with their amazing diversity of architectural styles are gifts of Beirut to the world.

Extending from Beirut as ancient and modern gateway to Asia and seaport city for Syria and Lebanon are countless exhibits of human migrations and ambitions of early centuries, notes a correspondent in the Los Angeles Times.

Beside the waves yawn the burial chambers of Phoenician necropolis; further inland astride the first spurs of the mountains frown the walls of Crusaders' castles, with the splendor that was Rome to be found on the desert plains of Palmyre.

The tiny corner of the world is the birthplace of three great religions. From Beirut, which dominates the maritime horizon and displays the tops of the Lebanon mountains, are the famous grove of cedars, from which Solomon built his temple in Jerusalem, with the 50 giant trees preserved as a shrine commemorating this biblical occasion.

At Tripoli is the famous castle erected by the counts of Toulouse, maritime masters of Tripoli at the time of the Crusades. Beyond the century-old orchards is the famous white spot known to the ancient as El Mina, the port.

The Castle of Massyaf is known as the largest castle built by the crusaders and covers an area of 60 acres. Near the famous castle are the small castles, abodes of the Latin knights. Following the route founded by the first Macedonian kings entry is made to the ancient city of Latakia, famed for its early Gothic architecture as built by the architects who came from Chartres.

Antiochia, one of the three greatest cities of the Roman world, has its relics of pagan days by its Byzantine architecture exhibited in mosques with the high-pointed minarets suggestive of Turkey.

Decorations for Wedding Day

On the island of Papua (or New Guinea) the natives decorate themselves gayly on their wedding day, using bright-colored feathers, bone ornaments, shells and beads. The main part of the wedding is a simple action—the groom goes to the bride's home, takes her by the hand and leads her to the new home he has made ready.

Twenty an hour — one every three minutes — was the average number of forest fires occurring in the United States last year.

How Hypnotized Girl Drew Crowds

Freeman Photo

Carol Starr, hypnotized by Hanyan, drew this crowd to East Strand as she lay in the window of the Kaplan Furniture Co., which used the stunt to advertise a mattress sale last week. The girl was without food or water for 24 hours.

Two Men Fined For Killing Doe

Asa Krom of Kingston and George Gray of Glenford were fined $100 each when arraigned before Justice Church of High Falls Saturday afternoon on a charge of taking a doe deer during the closed season Fred Tripicco of Glenford, the third member of the party was fined $10 and execution of the sentence suspended. Krom and Gray paid their fines.

The men were arrested Thursday night by Game Protectors B. M. Castle of Kingston and Edward P. Nolan of Milton. The protectors were patrolling the Catskill mountain section, in the vicinity of Wittenberg and Glenford, when they stopped and searched the car in which the three men were riding. They found in the car a doe deer which just recently had been killed. The deer was held for evidence and the occupants of the car arraigned before Justice Church on Saturday afternoon, when they pleaded guilty and fines were imposed as stated.

Inspector Fred DeWitt of the Kingston office of the Conservation Department said that game protectors have been patrolling the mountain section for the past six weeks in order to put a stop to the jacking of deer. He added that his office is determined to stop night hunting of deer and that this patrol work will be kept up indefinitely.

Sunday night four men were apprehended, with a doe deer in their possession, in the vicinity of Walker Valley, on the Shawangunk Mountains. All were committed to jail in Orange county, pending a hearing later.

Men in Accident Withdraw Charges

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ross of 391 Washington avenue were injured, but not seriously, in a collision between cars driven by Kenneth Riggins of 458 Washington avenue, and Stephen Burns, of 42 Post street, at 2:47 o'clock Sunday morning on Broadway, near Foxhall avenue. Both cars were damaged in the crash.

Mr. Ross sustained an injured left hand while his wife sustained injuries to both knees and a cut on the forehead. Their injuries were dressed at the Kingston Hospital. They were riding in the Riggins car. Following the crash the drivers arrested each other on charges of reckless driving.

This morning in police court Riggins and Burns withdrew charges they had lodged against each other. Judge Cahill granted their request to be allowed to withdraw the charges on payment of a dollar withdrawal fee in each case.

In Casket of Ice

Freeman Photo

Patrons of Huling's Barn gazed in wonderment as Hanyan, "King of the Ice," aroused Miss Carol Starr out of her 60-minute sleep in a casket of ice at nightly appearances there last week Tonight, Miss Starr will be hypnotized and buried outside the barn, remaining in a casket under six feet of earth for a week without food or water.

Loyalists Driven Out

Hendaye, France (at the Spanish frontier), Oct. 31 (AP)—The Spanish insurgents reported today they had driven government troops out of the entire Caballos mountains, breaking through the strongest positions on the Ebro front in a single day's desperate fighting.
